Purpose:

To detail how a transfer student may complete FYHH 1010 and FYHH 1020: Our Human Heritage as part of the Compass Curriculum.

Policy Pasted from College Catalog:

Compass Curriculum Exemptions for Transfer Students

With the approval of the Compass Council, transfer students may satisfy the Our Human Heritage requirement (FYHH 1010 and FYHH 1020) in the following ways:

- If a student transfers in with no historical humanities courses that could count toward the Our Human Heritage requirement, he or she may choose between taking both FYHH 1010 and FYHH 1020 or two courses from different subjects from the approved substitution list. Please contact the Office of Records for this substitution list. The kinds of historically oriented courses on this list are from the following subjects: art, music, theatre, history, philosophy, religious studies, modern languages, English, classical studies, and archeology. While the courses can be from any of those subjects, the course must be of an historical nature.
- If a student transfers in with only one historical humanities course that could count toward the Our Human Heritage requirement, he or she may not take just one of the FYHH courses but instead must take one additional course at Millsaps from the approved substitution list (this course must be from a different discipline than the course they earned transfer credit for) or he or she may choose to take the complete FYHH 1010/1020 sequence to satisfy the Our Human Heritage requirement instead (the historical humanities courses could still be used for transfer credit hours depending on approval from the appropriate authority).
- If a student transfers in with two historical humanities courses (from different disciplines) that could count toward the Our Human Heritage requirement, he or she may use those courses to satisfy the Our Human Heritage requirement or they may choose to take the FYHH 1010/1020 sequence to satisfy Our Human Heritage requirement instead (the historical humanities courses could still be used for transfer credit hours depending on approval from the appropriate authority). Likewise, a student who completes a course in the natural sciences, mathematics, or social/behavioral sciences, fine arts, language, or business that presumes the skill and knowledge of a Compass Curriculum course may be exempt from that particular Compass Curriculum requirement. Contact the Office of Records for more information. Once a student has enrolled at Millsaps College, he or she will not ordinarily be permitted to use transfer credits to meet Compass requirements. Coursework that does not apply toward the Compass Curriculum but is found to be transferrable to Millsaps College may count as an elective (TRAN). Once a student has declared his or her major/ minor/concentration, those electives may or may not apply to his or her specific program of study; these decisions are made in conjunction with the Office of Records and the applicable Department Chair.
