About Millsaps College

Vision Statement

Building on its motto, Ad Excellentiam, its strong heritage of social justice, freedom of thought, and reflection on life's most important questions, and its central location in the capital city of Mississippi, Millsaps engages students in a transformative learning and leadership experience that results in personal and intellectual growth, commitment to good citizenship in our global society, and a desire to succeed and make a difference in every community they touch.

Mission Statement

Millsaps College is dedicated to academic excellence, open inquiry and free expression, the exploration of faith to inform vocation, and the innovative shaping of the social, economic, and cultural progress of our region.

Methodist Affiliation

Millsaps College celebrates its connection with the United Methodist Church. The College embodies the spirit of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist tradition, in its emphases on scholarly inquiry, academic freedom, and spiritual growth. Millsaps College is a church-related institution, welcoming people from all religious traditions or no religious tradition, and committed to equipping all people for a meaningful life of service to others.

Accreditation

Millsaps College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science, Master of Accountancy, and Master of Business Administration. Contact the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation status of Millsaps College. Routine inquiries about the institution, such as admission requirements, financial aid, and educational programs should be addressed directly to the institution and not to the Commission's office.

The Provost and Dean of the College is responsible for identifying potential substantive change issues relative to SACSCOC accreditation and for filing all appropriate requests and notifications on behalf of the college. The Provost's unique perspective as a member of Executive Staff, Cabinet, Academic Council, Curriculum Committee and Compass Curriculum Council, while serving as the Chief Academic Officer, provides insight into all of the college's activities with accreditation implications.

Millsaps' Purpose

Founded in 1890, Millsaps College is a community committed to trust in disciplined learning and the ideals of a liberal arts education as keys to a rewarding life.

In keeping with its character as a liberal arts college and its historic role in the mission of the United Methodist Church, Millsaps College seeks to provide a learning environment that increases knowledge, deepens understanding of faith, and inspires the development of mature citizens with the intellectual capacities, ethical principles, and sense of responsibility that are needed for leadership in all sectors of society.

The programs of the College are designed to foster the growth of independent and critical thinking; individual and collaborative problem-solving; creativity, sensitivity, and tolerance; the ability to inform and challenge others; and an appreciation of humanity and the universe.

Millsaps College is committed to the following objectives through its academic program, support services, and outreach to the wider community.

Academic Program

- To select well-prepared students of diverse social, ethnic, geographical, and age backgrounds;
- To provide for all undergraduates a curriculum designed to foster student development in oral and written communication, thinking and reasoning, collaborative and integrative learning, and problem-solving and creative practice.
- To provide opportunities for study in depth and the development of disciplinary competencies in undergraduate programs;
- To provide a graduate program in business with a general management outlook that develops future leaders and expands the body of knowledge in the practice of management;
- To foster a caring community that nurtures open inquiry and independent, critical thinking;
- To structure opportunities for students to become competent in self-assessment of their academic progress;
- To recruit and retain a faculty well-qualified to support the academic program;
- To provide faculty with resources for professional development in teaching, scholarship, and research.

College Support Services

- To provide physical and financial resources sufficient to support the College mission;
- To support the personal development of students through a program of counseling, student organizations, and social activities;
- To provide activities and facilities for the enhancement of student physical well-being;
- To provide for the aesthetic enrichment of students through a program of cultural events;
- To foster the religious development of students through a program of campus ministry;
- To provide library and computer resources for student learning and research that adequately support the academic program;
- To foster a safe and secure campus environment;
- To maintain an organizational structure that supports participation in College governance by students, faculty, staff, alumni, and administration, subject to procedures and policies approved by the Board of Trustees;
- To assess as needed, the ongoing activities and programs of the College and to use those continuing assessments in planning and implementing College policies and activities.

Board of Trustees' Charge to The President of Millsaps College

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, you are charged to fulfill the obligations vested in the Office of President of Millsaps College by the charter and bylaws of the College;

- To promote a learning environment that encourages open inquiry and independent, critical thinking;
- To engage the faculty, staff, and students in forging a sense of community on campus and a commitment to communities beyond the campus;
- To support Millsaps' Methodist affiliation, interfaith religious life, and history of ethical commitment;
- To honor the vital heritage of Millsaps College;
- To institute new traditions for its future, and to undertake innovative programs in the pursuit of excellence.

History of The College

Millsaps College was founded in 1890 by the Methodist Church as a Christian college for young men. The philanthropy of Major Reuben Webster Millsaps and other Methodist leaders in Mississippi enabled the College to open two years later on the outskirts of Jackson, the state capital and a town of some 9,000 people. The beginnings were modest: two buildings, 149 students (two-thirds of whom were enrolled in a preparatory school), five instructors, and an endowment of $70,432.

Fifty years later, the student body numbered 599, and the faculty had increased to 33. Women were admitted in the late 1800s. The graduation of Sing Ung Zung of Soochow, China, in 1908, began a tradition of the College's influence outside the country.

By the time of its centennial celebration in 1990, enrollment at Millsaps had more than doubled, with approximately one-half of the students coming from out of state. The quality of the liberal arts program was nationally recognized with the award of a Phi Beta Kappa chapter in 1988. A graduate program in business administration, begun in 1979, received national accreditation along with the undergraduate business program in 1990.

General Information

The close personal relationship among students, faculty, and the administration is one of the most vital parts of the Millsaps College experience. A liberal arts college designed to educate students for responsible citizenship and well-balanced lives, Millsaps offers professional and pre-professional training coupled with cultural and disciplinary studies. Students are selected on the basis of their ability to think, desire to learn, moral character, and intellectual maturity. The primary consideration for admission is the ability to complete academic work satisfactory to the College and beneficial to the student.

Millsaps' student body is made up of students from across the nation and numerous countries. Students come from a variety of faith traditions, including many Christian denominations and other major world faiths. All are urged to take advantage of the educational and cultural offerings available in Jackson.

Research facilities available to students include the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, the State Law Library, the Jackson/Hinds Library System, the Rowland Medical Library at the University of Mississippi Medical Center, and a number of other special libraries unique to the capital area. Together, they provide research facilities found nowhere else in Mississippi. Cultural advantages include the Mississippi Symphony Orchestra; New Stage Theatre; Mississippi Opera; musical, dramatic, and sporting events held at Thalia Mara Hall, the Mississippi Coliseum, and the Jackson Convention Complex.

Millsaps College is accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges to award the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, Bachelor of Science, Master of Accountancy, and Master of Business Administration. Contact the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges at 1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, Georgia 30033-4097 or call 404-679-4500 for questions about the accreditation status of Millsaps College.

Routine inquiries about the institution, such as admission requirements, financial aid, and educational programs should be addressed directly to the institution and not to the Commission's office. The College is approved by the American Association of University Women and the University Senate of the United Methodist Church. The business programs offered by the Millsaps College Else School of Management are accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). The Department of Chemistry is accredited by the American Chemical Society (ACS). Copies of any of these documents may be requested by writing the Dean of the College.

Millsaps-Wilson Library

The Millsaps-Wilson Library supports scholarly research with a print collection of 200,000 volumes and a robust collection of online databases that contain journal articles and electronic books. Within the library are the Millsaps College Archives and the J.B. Cain Archives of Mississippi Methodism. In addition, the library has a variety of special collections and a rare book room. The library is a member of several organizations that promote resource sharing and cooperation among libraries.

Services provided to the campus community include research assistance, library instruction, interlibrary loan, and instructional technology support.

Space is available throughout the library for group and individual study. The facilities include group study rooms, individual study carrels, seating areas, and tables. Meeting rooms are available for campus groups upon request.

The library has over 40 computers including 16 computers in the information commons and 24 computers in the library computer lab. Three printers and two scanners are available. The digital media lab includes two computers and equipment dedicated to the digital arts. Wireless internet access is available throughout the library.

Computing Facilities

Millsaps College has developed outstanding computing resources for teaching, learning, and research. From PC labs and their dorm rooms on campus, students have access to the fiber optic-based wired and/or wireless computer network, supported by enterprise-class servers and network equipment located in the Academic Complex. Millsaps provides all users with Internet access, electronic mail, and personal network storage space.

Buildings and Grounds

The College occupies a beautiful 100-acre residential campus in the heart of Jackson, Mississippi, the state capital. Chief administrative offices are in the renovated James Boyd Campbell Administrative Center. Renovated in 2013, the center includes Whitworth Hall and Sanders Hall. Murrah Hall, built in 1914, was renovated in 1981 to house the Else School of Management.

Sullivan-Harrell Hall, built in 1928 and renovated in 1990, houses the departments of geology, mathematics, physics, government and politics, psychology, and sociology/anthropology. Olin Hall of Science, dedicated in 1988, houses the departments of biology and chemistry.

The Christian Center, completed in 1950, was built with gifts from Mississippi Methodists, alumni, and friends. Renovated in 2019, it houses the departments of English, Greek and Roman studies, history, philosophy, and religious studies.

Millsaps state-of-the-art Visual Arts Center, completed in 2019, houses the art department and contains classrooms; a digital arts computer lab; studios for drawing, painting, printmaking, papermaking, and sculpture; a wood shop; a foundry; and individual student studios.

The Gertrude C. Ford Academic Complex, completed in 1971, includes a 430-seat recital hall with a 41-rank Möller organ and two Steinway concert grand pianos. The complex houses the department of music, the department of art, information technology services, the business office, human resources, and the office of records. It contains music practice rooms, a choral music room, and classrooms.

A cottage built in the 1940s to house faculty and their families is now Reuben's, a student eatery that is open in the afternoon and late at night, offering a variety of food and drink options on campus.

The Maurice H. Hall Activities Center is home to Millsaps Athletics. The 63,330-square-foot building contains both competition and recreational space. The HAC contains a full array of fitness and weight training equipment, an aerobics room, racquetball and squash courts, and gyms for volleyball and basketball. There are team rooms and rehab facilities for men's and women's athletics. Other athletic facilities include an outdoor track, tennis courts, and fields for football, baseball, softball, and soccer.

The A. Boyd Campbell College Center includes the cafeteria, a coffeehouse, the bookstore, the post office, and student life offices.

A pedestrian plaza links the Hall Activities Center, the Campbell College Center, and the Olin Hall of Science, and provides a pleasant environment for relaxing, socializing, and working. The plaza features permanent seating with network connections to create outdoor dining and study areas.

There are seven co-ed residence halls and one men's residence hall. Five of the co-ed residence halls offer suite-style living. All dorms are centrally heated and cooled. The campus also contains five fraternity houses and four sorority lodges.

The James Observatory is a historical landmark located on the northwest corner of campus. The campus has numerous gardens with benches and arbors thanks to generous donations from alumni and friends.

Information for Prospective Students

Undergraduate Admissions

Millsaps College accepts, without regard to race, color, religion, sex, creed, sexual orientation, or national origin, qualified students who will benefit from its academic program.

First-Time Freshman Admission

Students applying for admission as first-time freshmen should have participated in a strong high school college preparatory curriculum. Applicants' records should show progress toward high school graduation, with at least 14 units of English, mathematics, social studies, natural sciences, and/or foreign languages. Four units of English should be included.

Millsaps is offering Fall 2022 applicants with a 3.0 GPA or higher on a 4.0 scale and college preparatory curriculum the option to apply without an ACT or SAT score. Applicants who are able to take a standardized test and who feel their scores reflect their academic potential may still choose to submit scores for consideration. All applicants, regardless of test score submission, will be considered for merit scholarships.

Students who will not graduate with a high school diploma may submit results of the General Educational Development (GED) Tests, along with a transcript of any high school work completed.

Students who desire to enroll before completing high school must submit a high school transcript indicating that the student is on track to complete the same graduation requirements for first-time freshmen and strong letters of recommendation that speak specifically to early enrollment. An interview with the Director of Admission may also be required.

Freshmen applicants may choose from two decisions plans:

Early Action

The priority deadline for submitting an Early Action (EA) application is November 15. Early Action is the most popular application option at Millsaps. EA is designed for any student wishing to submit complete application credentials and learn of admission and scholarships early, without making an immediate commitment to enroll. Students applying under the Early Action Plan are not required to make a commitment to enroll before May 1, but are encouraged to notify the College as soon as a final decision has been made.

Regular Decision

Students applying under the Regular Decision Plan (RD) have a priority deadline of February 1. As with EA, students are not expected to make a commitment to enroll before May 1, but should notify the College as soon as a final decision has been made.

Home-Schooled Applicants

Students who have been home-schooled must follow the same procedures for admission as any other first-time freshman or transfer applicant. An interview may be required for some home-schooled applicants.

Application Procedures for all first-time applicants

All applicants to Millsaps College must submit the following credentials:

- A completed application for admission, including the secondary school report, optional essay, and optional teacher evaluation(s). Millsaps accepts both The Common Application and the Millsaps application. Both applications are online only. Neither application requires a fee, although there may be fees associated with the Common Application.
- Official paper or electronic copy of high school transcript and/or GED.

- Millsaps is offering Fall 2022 applicants with a 3.0 GPA or higher on a 4.0 scale and college preparatory curriculum the option to apply without an ACT or SAT score. Applicants who are able to take a standardized test and who feel their scores reflect their academic potential may still choose to submit scores for consideration. All applicants, regardless of test score submission, will be considered for merit scholarships. Scores appearing on the official high school transcript will be accepted.
- Official copy of all college transcripts, if applicable. Transcripts issued to the student are not accepted as official. Millsaps College does not accept faxed transcripts. We accept transcripts sent electronically from institutions.

Transfer Admissions

A transfer student is anyone entering Millsaps as a student from another institution of higher learning in the United States. Transfer applicants to Millsaps are encouraged to apply for admission by the priority deadlines of December 1 or July 1, depending on which semester they are seeking enrollment. All applicants are required to submit official college transcripts and an optional essay with the application. If necessary, a final high school transcript and official ACT or SAT scores may be requested as part of the application credentials for any transfer student. Official transcripts submitted electronically via an official electronic transfer process will be recognized by Millsaps as official transcripts. The Office of Records is responsible for reviewing transfer credit for transfer admissions. These policies govern how the Office of Records reviews credits for transfer:

- Earned hour credit is normally allowed for work taken at other regionally accredited institutions.
- Millsaps College accepts the transfer of credits earned at other institutions of higher education on the basis of course equivalency. Course equivalency is the determination that a course taken at another institution is comparable to a course offered by Millsaps College in terms of objectives, learning outcomes, and educational level. Equivalent courses are accepted and applied to meet program requirements.
- For transfer courses not already having recognized equivalencies, the appropriate academic department determines the acceptance and application of each course. Non-equivalent courses may be accepted as free electives and count as earned hours toward graduation. Some courses not regarded as consistent with a liberal arts curriculum may not be credited toward a degree.
- Mode of delivery is not a relevant or distinguishing factor in evaluating equivalency.
- Academic departments may designate a maximum age for credits to be accepted to fulfill major, minor, or concentration requirements. General education and free elective credits do not expire.
- After earning 64 semester hours at a two or four-year institution, a student may not take additional work at a community college or junior college and have it apply toward a degree from Millsaps.
- Credits earned at another institution will be recorded on a non-graded basis, and the credit is awarded in the other institution's currency.
- Transfer credit is given only for courses in which the student earned a C- or higher.
- In the case of a student transferring to Millsaps with partial fulfillment of a general education requirement, the Office of Records, in consultation with the Compass Council, may approve courses to substitute for the remainder of the requirement.
- Students must be matriculated at Millsaps College to have transfer credits entered into their academic records.

Nontraditional or Adult Admission

Nontraditional (adult) students admitted to the College as degree candidates may be part-time or full-time students. Nontraditional students follow the same admissions process as traditional undergraduates.

Part-Time Admission

A part-time student is one enrolled in a degree program but taking fewer than 12 hours. Requirements for admission and policies pertaining to part-time students are the same as those for full-time students.

Non-Degree Student Admission

A non-degree student is a mature person of ability and seriousness of purpose who enrolls for limited academic work and does not plan to seek a degree at Millsaps College. This may be for the purposes of earning professional certification, admission to graduate or professional schools, taking course work to transfer to another institution, or for personal interest. Applicants should submit the Non-Degree Student Application Form to the Office of Records; it may be accessed at https://admission.millsaps.edu/register/non-degree_app. During fall, spring, and summer semesters, non-degree applicants must request an official transcript from the last institution of higher learning attended/ the institution where the student has earned a degree. If the non-degree student has not attended college, an official high school transcript will be required. In some cases, a letter of good standing may be needed as well. These documents are required for admission and must be submitted prior to registration. Please send all documents to the Office of Records at Millsaps College. The following policies apply to non-degree students:

- Non-degree students observe the same regulations concerning attendance, examination, and proficiency as regular students.
- Non-degree students may enroll in courses without regard to graduation requirements but must meet prerequisites for courses chosen.
- Non-degree students wishing to apply for a degree program at Millsaps College must reapply, provide full credentials, and meet admission requirements for degree-seeking students.
- Millsaps College reserves the right not to admit students into non-degree status based on prior educational background.
- High school students interested in taking classes at Millsaps may enroll as non-degree students under certain circumstances.
- High school students must meet the requirements listed below in addition to the regular admission requirements for non-degree students.
- Must have all A's in the subject area they wish to study. High school students must have taken all available courses at their high schools in the subject before they will be admitted to a college level course.
- A possible exception would be a subject in which no prior knowledge is assumed.
- Must provide a letter from their school assessing their maturity and capacity for performing responsibly in a college-level classroom.
- Must provide a high school transcript.
- Rising freshmen or sophomores must have an overall grade point average of 3.8. Rising juniors and seniors must have an overall grade point average of 3.5.

International Student Admission

Millsaps College welcomes students from all over the world and will evaluate applicants based on the educational system from which they come. International students should submit their admission credentials well in advance of the semester in which they expect to enroll to allow time for official documents to be received through international mail systems. Required documents for international applicants include the following:

- A completed application for admission and the secondary school report. Millsaps accepts the Common Application and the Millsaps application for both admission and scholarship consideration. No application fee is required.
- Official or certified true copies of transcripts from each secondary and postsecondary school attended. These should include a record of subjects taken and marks earned for each year of study. Documents must have the official signature and seal of a school official. A certified English translation must accompany all documents not in English. For placement purposes, review by an international evaluation agency may be requested from international transfer students. Agencies that may be used include:

- Foreign Credential Services of America
- International Education Equivalency Evaluation Services Incorporated
- National Association of Credential Evaluation Services
- Transcript Research
- World Education Services
- Official or certified true copies of all national, public, or qualifying examinations must be completed.
- Proof of English language proficiency may be required. Students whose primary language is not English must submit one of the following: TOEFL, IELTS, GTEC, SAT, ACT or secondary education is through an English-instructed curriculum (minimum of 2 years).
- Test scores are required for admission. You may submit your national examination results or IB, SAT, ACT, AP, iGCSE/GCSE/GCE scores. The inability to take one of the examinations listed above due to the impact of COVID-19 will be considered during admission review.
- The applicant's biographical information, extracurricular activities, and essay, along with a counselor and teacher recommendation, may also be considered in the decision-making process.
- Statement of financial resources.

Readmission

Students who leave the College for one semester or longer may apply for readmission by completing the appropriate application. (If a student had attended another postsecondary institution since their last enrollment at Millsaps College, they will be treated as a transfer student.) Students on an approved leave of absence are not required to apply for readmission; to request a leave of absence, contact the Office of Records.

Orientation and the First Year Experience Program

Orientation and the First Year Experience program course are designed to ease the transition to college. All new students are required to participate in an online orientation module prior to the first day of classes. This online module will help students learn about the academic curriculum requirements, support services and tasks that must be completed prior to move in day. In addition, new students are strongly encouraged to attend in person orientation sessions offered during the summer months. These orientation sessions allow students and families the opportunity to connect with one another and with faculty, staff and students. The final component of orientation is Welcome Week. Welcome Week begins with Move In Day and concludes with the Fourth Night Ceremony, held on the first night of the fall semester classes. The Welcome Week schedule includes educational and social activities that help prepare new Millsaps students for life on campus.

First-year students will continue acclimating to Millsaps through the course component of the first-year experience called Introduction to Pathways. This course is led by a member of the faculty, staff, and a peer mentor. The course is organized into learning communities to provide more tailored guidance and support to students. The Pathways course integrates habits of personal and academic success with strategies for career exploration, allowing students to begin their undergraduate education by reviewing past experiences, identifying present interests, and considering future goals. The course will culminate in students choosing a Pathway which will provide them with a career-focused learning community to guide their curiosity and inform decisions around life planning.

Orientation Fee

Incoming freshmen and transfer students will be charged an orientation fee of $300 and $150, respectively. Orientation fees are assessed to the student's tuition bill and are nonrefundable. The fee is not covered by scholarships or financial aid. These fees cover the cost of meals, materials, and programming for student orientation sessions, as well as programming for events during the first year.

Student Health Insurance

Domestic Students. The College requires that domestic students comply with health insurance regulations as federally mandated by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA). The individual shared responsibility provision of the law requires most people to have qualifying health coverage or pay a penalty unless they qualify for an exemption from this requirement. Additional information regarding the requirements of PPACA can be found at <http://www.healthcare.gov/>.

Student Athletes. Student athletes are required to have health insurance in order to participate in any intercollegiate sport. Please refer to the Athletic Department for additional information and the required insurance forms.

International Students. Millsaps requires all international students to be enrolled in one of the college sponsored plans through International Student Protection. Student accounts will be billed along with tuition and fees for the International Student Protection's premium rate, and students will receive an insurance card during orientation.

Special Fees

The general purpose of special fees is to allocate to the user at least a portion of the direct cost for providing special services, equipment, and facilities. Tuition and fees are subject to change each academic year based on annual review.

- Course overload fee: A fee of $1,262 per hour is charged for course loads in excess of 21 hours.
- Late payment fee: A $20 late payment fee will be charged to any account not paid in full (or enrolled in a payment plan by the applicable due date) for each month payment is delinquent until satisfactory payment arrangements are finalized.
- Change of schedule fee: A $30 fee will be charged for each change of schedule authorization processed after the last day for add/drop. Any change initiated by the College will have no fee.
- Music fee: A fee of $306 is charged for private music lessons per semester hour.
- Credit by examination fee: A $30 fee per four credit hours is assessed when an examination outside of Millsaps is credited to the student's degree program in lieu of taking a required course at Millsaps College.
- Auditing of courses: Students may audit courses at a tuition rate of $337 per hour with a comprehensive fee of $17 per hour. Courses may be audited with approval of the instructor. Students must indicate their intention to audit at the time of registration.
- Major Plus and MACC Plus Program: Millsaps seniors who have accumulated enough undergraduate hours that they do not have to take a full course load the second semester of their senior year in order to graduate are eligible to take up to two graduate courses during that semester. Prior approval is required for this program. Students accepted into this program will pay a rate equal to full-time undergraduate tuition and fees.

- Ninth and Tenth Semester Licensure Program: Millsaps graduates may return as non-degree seeking licensure candidates to complete coursework, if necessary, during a "ninth" semester (that is, a semester after graduation) and then student teach during the "tenth" semester with a 40% reduction in tuition (fees not reduced) in order to meet qualifications for elementary or secondary licensure.
- Graduation fee: All graduating seniors will be charged a $125 graduation fee, regardless of whether they participate in commencement activities. The $125 fee covers a portion of the cost of the diploma, the rental of cap and gown, administrative costs associated with graduating students, and general commencement expenses. If a student chooses to keep their honors hood, they will be charged an additional $100.
- Replacement diploma fee: If a graduate needs a replacement diploma, the fee is $50.
- Official transcript fee: Official transcripts cost $10 per copy.
- Returned check fee: $20 will be charged for each returned check.

Financial Regulations

At Millsaps College, many payment methods and several payment options are accepted to meet student needs. Please go to <http://www.millsaps.edu/businessoffice> to view all payment options or make a payment.

Payments

All students must be paid in full or enrolled in a payment plan by the due date each semester. Specific payment plan information can be found at www.millsaps.edu/businessoffice. Unless specifically enrolled in a payment plan, full payment of the student account balance should be submitted by July 15 for the fall semester and December 15 for the spring semester. A student is registered and eligible to attend classes, participate in college activities, reside in the residence halls, and utilize college meal plans only after payment or other arrangements have been made with the Business Office. Any balance due for any preceding semester must be paid before a student will be enrolled for the succeeding semester or participate in housing selection. Any account not paid in full or enrolled in a payment plan by the published due date may result in the removal of classes.

The Registrar is not permitted to release an official transcript for any student with outstanding financial obligations to the College. The Registrar is not permitted to release a diploma to any graduate with an outstanding balance greater than $200. No student may register for future semesters unless all debts have been settled. Any student account that remains unpaid at the end of the semester and not paid within 30 days will be turned over to an outside collection agency. The student will be responsible for all collection costs and/or attorney's fees Millsaps' incurs in the collection efforts, which may be based on a percentage at a maximum of 33% of the debt.

Millsaps Withdrawal Policy

Room rent cannot be refunded after the semester has begun. Unused amounts paid in advance for board are refundable. A student who withdraws with good reason from a course or courses will have seven days, including the date of the first meeting of classes to receive a refund of 80 percent of tuition and fees; within 14 days, 60 percent; within 21 days, 40 percent; and within 28 days, 20 percent.

If a student remains in the College 29 days or longer, no refund will be made except for board. Students receiving federal financial aid will be subject to the federal guidelines with respect to withdrawal.

Return of Title IV (Federal) Funds When A Student Withdraws

Under the Higher Education Amendments of 1998, the amount of aid a student has earned for the enrollment period is based on the length of time the student remains enrolled for that period.

Therefore, the percentage of the enrollment period completed is also the percentage of aid the student has earned. If a student withdraws on or before the 60 percent point of the enrollment period, the percentage of aid earned is equal to the percentage of time completed. A student who remains enrolled beyond the 60 percent point of the enrollment period has earned 100 percent of the aid for that period (i.e. there would be no unearned aid).

Repayment of the Unearned Amount is calculated as follows:

- School will return: the lesser of the amount of unearned Title IV aid or unearned Institutional Charges.
- Student will return: unearned amount of Title IV Grants; the student's and parent's unearned portion of federal loan proceeds will not be returned but is to be repaid to the loan holders according to the terms of the borrower's promissory note.
- Programs. Return of funds due by the school and the student and/or parent are charged back to the student's account and returned to the applicable student aid programs. The unearned amount of Title IV aid must be returned to the applicable Title IV aid programs in the following order:
 - Unsubsidized Direct Loans (other than Direct PLUS Loans)
 - Subsidized Direct Loans
 - Direct PLUS Loans
 - Federal Pell Grants for which a return of funds is required
 - FSEOG for which a return of funds is required
 - TEACH Grants for which a return of funds is required
 - Iraq and Afghanistan Service Grants for which a return of fund is required
 - Non-federal aid funds will be returned based on the Institutional Refund Policy and returned in the following order: state, institutional, then external funds.

The information contained in this section is subject to change, without notice, in order to comply with federal, state, or College requirements.

Examples of the application of the refund policy are available in the Business Office. A student may obtain a refund of any overpayment on his or her account by making a request in the Business Office.

The date of withdrawal from which all claims to reductions and refunds will be referred is the date on which the Registrar is officially notified by the student of the intention to withdraw. (See regulations relative to withdrawals.)

The College reserves the right to cancel the registration of any student at any time. In such a case, the pro-rata portion of tuition will be returned. Students withdrawing or removed under disciplinary action forfeit the right to a refund.

Other Policies

- Meal plan: Students living in College or fraternity housing are required to participate in the College meal plan.
- Students rooming in fraternity houses: Rules regarding payment of board and fees applicable to other campus residents will be observed by these students.
- Revision of charges: Millsaps College reserves the privilege of changing any or all charges or financial regulations at any time without prior notice.

- Billing errors: Administrative, clerical, or technical billing errors do not absolve the financial responsibility of students to pay the correct amount of tuition, fees, and other associated financial obligations assessed as a result of registration at Millsaps College.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

Millsaps College offers assistance to students based on academic merit, special talents, and financial need. In addition, the Office of Financial Aid awards state grants and scholarships for students affiliated with the United Methodist Church. All of these scholarships are subject to change, and student awards may be revised annually. Academic and performing arts scholarships are provided by Millsaps to undergraduate students who demonstrate outstanding academic and/or artistic ability. These scholarships are awarded to qualified and admitted incoming students.

Need-based aid (institutional, federal and state grants, loans, and work) is awarded to students who show financial need as indicated by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Need-based assistance has a priority deadline of March 1 and requires an annual application.

Federal aid is awarded by the Office of Financial Aid after completion of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Federal regulations and institutional policies may affect eligibility for these funds. Millsaps participates in the following federal programs:

- The Federal Work-Study (FWS) program has been established from the funds contributed by the federal government and the College to provide financial assistance through employment based on federal eligibility.
- The Federal Direct Subsidized Loan program is available to students who demonstrate need and are enrolled at least half-time. Undergraduate students may borrow up to $3,500 for the first year, $4,500 for their second year, and $5,500 a year for the remainder of their undergraduate years for an aggregate amount of up to $23,000.
- The Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan program has the same terms and conditions as the Federal Direct Subsidized Loan program, except the borrower is responsible for the interest that accrues while the student is in school. The student borrower does not have to show financial need for this loan. Independent students may have a higher loan limit if they show the eligibility for supplemental loan funds.
- The Federal Direct Parent Loan for Undergraduate Students (FPLUS) program provides parents with additional funds for educational expenses. FPLUS loan information may be obtained from the Office of Financial Aid. The parent who borrows through this program will be able to borrow up to the difference between the cost of the institution and the financial aid the student receives for the loan period. There is not an aggregate limit. The parent must not have an adverse credit history. The student must be a dependent and enrolled at least half-time. FPLUS borrowers do not have to show need to borrow under this program.
- The Federal Direct GradPLUS Loan provides graduate students with additional funds for educational expenses. The student must apply for his/her annual loan maximum eligibility under the Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loan Program before applying for a GradPLUS loan. The student must be enrolled at least half-time in a graduate degree program, must pass a credit check, and may borrow up to the cost of attendance less other financial aid received during the loan period.

State of Mississippi aid is awarded by the Office of Financial Aid based on application deadlines, academic requirements, and other state regulations and institutional policies.

Mississippi Resident Tuition Assistance Grants (MTAG) are available for full-time students who are residents of Mississippi. When fully funded, the maximum grant is $500 for freshmen and sophomores and $1,000 for juniors and seniors. The state of Mississippi defines full-time enrollment as 15 or more credit hours per term.

Mississippi Eminent Scholars Grants (MESG) are available for full-time students who are residents of Mississippi. When fully funded, the maximum grant is $2,500 each year for four years. The state of Mississippi defines full-time enrollment as 15 or more credit hours per term.

Institutional Scholarships

Millsaps Presidential Scholarships, Second Century Scholarships, and Millsaps Awards are merit scholarships awarded to students based on academic achievement. Additional criteria such as the rigor of the student's academic program and high school curriculum, demonstrated leadership, extracurricular involvement, letters of recommendation, and legacy relationships are also reviewed to determine a student's eligibility and level of merit scholarship.

E. H. Sumners Grants are awarded to students who legally reside in Attala, Choctaw, Carroll, Montgomery, or Webster counties of Mississippi, and who are approved for the grant by the E.H. Sumners Foundation. The amount designated for the E.H. Sumners Grant will be determined on an annual basis. The amount awarded to an incoming student will remain constant over the student's enrollment at Millsaps and is subject to the scholarship, guidelines and conditions.

General Scholarship Funds are budgeted each year to help students who show financial need.

Millsaps United Methodist Scholarships are available to students who are members of the United Methodist Church and active in church ministry. Annual completion of the Millsaps Application for United Methodist Scholarships is required by the March 1 deadline.

Performing and Fine Arts Scholarships are available to students interested in Art, Art History, Creative Writing, Music, and Theatre. An audition or portfolio is required.

TRANSFORMATION Scholarships and Residence Hall Grants are awarded to qualified transfer students.

Phi Theta Kappa Scholarships are awarded to community college transfer students who hold membership in the honorary.

International students may be eligible for merit scholarships at Millsaps. With a U.S. passport or residency card, the student may be eligible for merit-based scholarships and need-based financial aid. If the student is not a U.S. citizen or permanent resident, the student may be eligible for merit-based scholarships but not need-based financial aid. Decisions for merit-based scholarship awards are made on the basis of information presented in the application for admission. No additional form is required. Recipients of these awards must pay the rest of their fees through their own funding sources. Students should budget at least $55,322 for one year of education at Millsaps.

Institutional Scholarship Guidelines and Conditions

For renewal of merit-based financial aid, the following conditions must be met:

- Renewable for up to 3 years, for a total of 8 semesters of eligibility (fall and spring semesters)
- Must meet satisfactory academic progress as detailed on our website, www.millsaps.edu/finaid
- Maintain a minimum academic course load of at least 12 hours per semester
- Remain continually enrolled at Millsaps (excluding summer terms)
- Reside on campus; off campus residency will result in scholarship reduction of 35% or removal of any housing grant

Cost of attendance is subject to change for each academic year. Merit scholarship amounts remain constant over the 4 years of eligibility. Need-based institutional financial aid is determined by the results of the FAFSA for each academic year.

Any scholarships, awards, or other funding received from outside sources to be used at Millsaps must be reported to the Office of Financial Aid. Financial aid awards will be revised to include outside aid after notification is received.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy (SAP)

Effective July 1, 2011

In order to receive and maintain federal financial assistance, students are required to progress satisfactorily toward completion of their course of study. Federal financial assistance includes grants, loans, and employment. The satisfactory academic progress of students will be monitored at the end of each spring semester.

Satisfactory Academic Progress is measured in three ways:

1. Students must progress qualitatively by earning the required number of grade points.
2. Students must progress quantitatively by completing the required minimum number of credits each year (PACE).
3. Students must complete their program of study within a reasonable time period.

1. Qualitative Measure

The Office of Financial Aid strictly adheres to the academic standards established by Millsaps College. Students who have attempted up to a total of 28 hours must earn a 1.500 cumulative grade point average. Students who have attempted more than 28 hours and less than 60 hours must earn a 1.800 cumulative grade point average. Students who have attempted 60 or more hours must earn and maintain a 2.000 cumulative grade point average. Total hours attempted will include credit taken at Millsaps College and any credit transferred from another institution. Grade point averages are based solely upon credits earned while enrolled at Millsaps College.

Minimum acceptable academic standards are represented in the following table:

Total Hours Attempted (Including Transfer Credit)	Minimum Cumulative GPA (Millsaps Only)
0-28	1.500
29-59	1.800
60 and above	2.000

Transfer Students

Students transferring into Millsaps College shall be assumed to be maintaining satisfactory academic progress. Hours transferred from previously attended schools will be considered when establishing total hours attempted for GPA requirements, as well as determining the maximum number of hours allowed for financial aid eligibility.

2. Quantitative Measure (PACE)

Students receiving financial aid must also satisfactorily complete 66 percent of financial aid hours (hours in which a student is enrolled the last day to add a class) at the end of each spring term.

Passing grades include A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, and D. Grades of I, CR, W, NR, NC, IP, and AU will not be accepted as passing grades.

Withdrawal courses with a grade of W will affect the quantitative measure of academic progress in determining eligibility and maintaining financial aid.

Courses taken for audit do not count for credit or graduation and, therefore, are not counted in determining eligibility for receiving or maintaining financial aid.

Courses taken for credit/no credit are not counted in determining eligibility for receiving or maintaining financial aid.

Repeat courses are counted for credit and will affect cumulative grade point averages in determining eligibility and maintaining financial aid as well as determining the maximum number of hours allowed for financial aid eligibility.

3. Maximum Hours to Complete Course of Study

Students must complete degree requirement within a normal time frame. To remain eligible to receive financial aid, students must complete their degree requirements within 150 percent of the published length of their academic program. In most cases students will be eligible to receive financial aid during the first 192 attempted hours as an undergraduate, whether or not they received financial aid or whether or not the course work was successfully completed. This includes both College and transfer hours. A student will be placed on financial aid suspension if his/her course work is in excess of 192 attempted hours or if at any time it becomes clear that the student will not meet the quantitative standards by the graduation date.

Second-Degree Undergraduate Students

Students who have already earned a baccalaureate degree and are currently seeking a second undergraduate degree will be reviewed for financial aid eligibility on an individual basis.

Graduate Students

Graduate students will be eligible for financial aid until they have completed six years of study at the graduate level.

Financial Aid Suspension

Students who fail to meet the minimum Satisfactory Academic Progress Requirements will be placed on financial aid suspension. Students on financial aid suspension are not eligible to receive federal financial aid. The mere passage of time will not restore eligibility to a student who has lost eligibility for failure to make satisfactory academic progress. The student may appeal the Financial Aid Suspension if unusual circumstances beyond their control prevented them from meeting satisfactory academic progress (see appeal process).

Appeal Process

A student may appeal the loss of financial aid eligibility if extenuating circumstances interfered with the ability to meet satisfactory academic progress standards. In order to appeal the loss of financial aid eligibility, the student must submit a detailed letter of appeal explaining the extenuating circumstances that resulted in the lack of academic progress and documentation to support extenuating circumstances. To complete the appeal process, the student may be required to submit an academic plan provided by the student's department.

Circumstances must meet one of the following criteria:

- Prolonged illness, medical condition, or injury to student or immediate family member;
- Death of an immediate family member; or
- Extenuating circumstances beyond the student's control

Appeal must include the following information:

- A detailed appeal letter;
- Circumstances and how the circumstances affected academic performance;
- Dates and time periods involved; and
- Explanation of how the student's situation has changed and the steps the student is taking to resolve the circumstances.

Documentation may include:

- Physician's letters and hospital records (must include dates of illness and recovery time);
- Death certificate or obituary;
- Court or police documents;
- Letters from third party professionals on his/her letterhead

Students who have exceeded the maximum time frame must include additional information:

- Explanation of why he or she was unable to complete his or her program within the time frame allowed for the degree;
- Number of hours needed to complete current degree and intended graduation date; and
- Copy of his or her academic degree plan listing all remaining classes needed to graduate.

Attention: No appeal will be accepted without supporting documentation. The appeal may not be based upon the need for financial aid assistance or the lack of knowledge that the financial aid assistance was in jeopardy.

Appeals may be mailed to:

The Financial Aid Appeals Committee Millsaps College
1701 North State Street Box 151150
Jackson, MS 39210 or
Appeals may be faxed to: 601-974-1224

Appeal Decisions

A decision requires approximately three weeks. Notification will be mailed to the student's financial aid address currently on file. If approved, financial aid will be awarded on a probationary period for one semester.

Regaining Financial Aid Eligibility

Financial aid eligibility can be re-established after the student improves his or her academic record to meet the minimum standards required by the Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy, without the assistance of financial aid funds. Similarly, financial aid eligibility can be re-established by successfully appealing a suspension.

Approved Appeals and Satisfactory Academic Progress Probation

For approved appeals, the student will be placed on Satisfactory Academic Progress Probation (SAP). (Financial Aid SAP Probation is for financial aid purposes only and is separate from academic standing probation.) While on Satisfactory Academic Progress Probation, certain condition for academic performance will be set and monitored.

Students placed on Probation regain eligibility for financial aid if:

- The student meets all of the Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress by the end of one subsequent period of enrollment; or
- The student is placed on an academic plan leading to graduation that, if followed, ensures that the student is able to meet all of the standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress by a specific point in time.

Students who meet all of the standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress while on probation will be placed in "Meets SAP" at the conclusion of the period of enrollment or academic plan period. Progress in an academic plan is measured at the end of each period of enrollment. Students who do not meet all of the Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress or academic plan requirements while on probation will be placed on suspension.

This policy is subject to change without notice in order to remain compliant with federal regulations.

Student Life

Residence Life

Student housing is an important service rendered by any college. Consequently, Millsaps emphasizes the learning process that takes place within the residence halls. The residence life program is administered by a team of student life professionals and student paraprofessional. Housing assignments for new students are made by the Student Life staff in late June and are determined by several factors, including roommate preference and information provided on the housing preference sheet. It is imperative that only the student fill out the housing sheet and submit the completed application by the date noted on the secure website.

Millsaps is a residential college based upon the belief that a significant amount of learning and growth takes place outside of the classroom. As such, a residency requirement has been established. All students classified by credit units as freshmen or sophomores are required to live in college residence halls. Exceptions to this policy may be granted if the student is married or lives with his or her immediate family in the Jackson area. Freshmen are not allowed to live in a fraternity house during the academic year. Sophomores who have a desire to reside in a fraternity house must receive approval from the Dean of Students or designee before they may occupy a room.

Residence hall rooms, with the exception of Charles, Susanna, and John Halls, are designed to house two individuals each; single rooms, when available, are limited. Therefore, students should plan accordingly. Those students wishing to room together must make their request known on their housing applications. Individuals without roommates will be paired based on the information provided on their housing preference sheet. Assignments for upper class students are made in the spring. The process is arranged through Student Life, and students' classification factors into the rankings and selection procedures. Students can contact their Resident Assistant or Student Life (601-974-1200) for more information. Room rent cannot be refunded after the semester begins.

Current students who have become academically ineligible before the beginning of the fall semester will, if readmitted, be put on a waiting list for room assignments. It is the student's responsibility to communicate their housing needs with Student Life and acquire written confirmation that an assignment has been made. During the academic year, residence halls and fraternity houses will be closed for winter break. Students may not stay or access the residential facilities during that intersession period, unless approved in advance by Student Life. The college reserves the right to assess a daily fee, not exceeding $40 per day, when requests to remain or arrive early are granted for a particular intersession period. Students will have to register with Student Life if they choose to stay on campus during fall break and spring break. Belongings may be left in assigned rooms during the aforementioned breaks, but must be removed at the conclusion of the spring term when the residence hall and fraternity houses close for the summer. Students should arrange for off-campus storage as the college does not provide this service.

Dates and times of hall closings and openings are listed on the housing contract and academic calendar, and will be posted by Student Life. Students may also obtain this information by calling the Division of Student Life at 601-974-1200.

Wesson Health Services

Millsaps College offers a comprehensive health care program for its students. This program is administered through the College nurse, who works with physicians to provide health and emergency care for students. The physicians hold clinic on campus during the week. Students should contact the College nurse at 601-974-1207 for more information regarding the various services provided.

Counseling Services

Because counseling is a wonderful opportunity for personal growth, such guidance is offered through Counseling Services. The counselor can assist students in enhancing academic performance by helping them improve study skill techniques such as time management, note taking, problem solving, and test-taking. Help is also available for students wishing to engage in self-exploration and goal-setting; to discuss relationships, stress reduction, or other personal concerns; and to obtain information about other campus or community resources. Referrals to professionals or treatment programs off campus will be made when appropriate. The Counseling Center is located in the Student Life suite on the third floor of the Campbell College Center. Call 601-974-1206 or email counseling@millsaps.edu for a confidential appointment with a counselor.

Religious Life

Religious life at Millsaps College centers on the faith communities in and around Jackson, as well as the Office of the Chaplain and denominational groups on campus. Area churches, temples, and mosques provide communities of faith, which include students, faculty, and staff. Independent and denominational campus ministry groups provide on campus opportunities for worship, study, fellowship, and interfaith dialogue. In addition to interfaith and ecumenical dialogues and projects, other student religious organizations operating on campus include the Canterbury Club, the Catholic Student Association, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the Islamic Cultural Organization, the Jewish Cultural Organization, Millsaps Christian Fellowship, Progressive Christians, InterVarsity, and the Wesley Connexion. Both on campus sponsors and individuals from local congregations work with denominational groups on campus. Additionally, the McNair Fund for Christian Missions assists with stipends for international mission opportunities.

The Chaplain and Director of Church Relations serves as a liaison with local churches, the Mississippi Conference of the United Methodist Church, and other denominations. The Office of the Chaplain also oversees the work of the Center for Ministry, a shared ministry between the College and the Mississippi United Methodist Conference, which focuses on developing lay and clergy leaders through lifelong learning. Contact the College Chaplain at chaplain@millsaps.edu or at 601-974-1226 for more information about religious life and campus ministry at Millsaps.

Athletics

The athletics policy of Millsaps College is based on the premise that athletics exists for the benefit of the students and not primarily to enhance the prestige and publicity of the College.

Varsity athletics conducted in an atmosphere of good sportsmanship and fair play can make a significant contribution to the complete physical, emotional, moral, and mental development of an individual. They are thus an integral part of the educational process. Millsaps College sponsors 18 varsity sports, nine for men and nine for women. The programs for men include football, basketball, baseball, cross-country, tennis, golf, soccer, swimming and diving, and track and field. The programs for women include basketball, tennis, soccer, cross-country, volleyball, golf, softball, swimming and diving, and track and field. In addition, a non-competitive cheerleading squad provides students with an additional outlet for athletic participation. The programs are conducted under guidelines established by the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) for Division III institutions and the Southern Athletic Association (SAA).

Those who participate in intercollegiate athletics are required to observe and maintain the same academic standards as other students.

Campus Recreation

The Maurice H. Hall Activities Center, a gym and fitness center available for campus-wide use, was constructed in 2000. At 63,330 square feet, the building contains a fitness center with a basketball court, a cardio theater and aerobics room, a full array of fitness and weight training equipment, and a racquetball/handball court.

Publications

- "Bobashela," the student yearbook of Millsaps College, gives an annual comprehensive view of campus life. Bobashela is a Choctaw word for "good friend."
- "Purple & White," the official online student newspaper of Millsaps College, is edited, managed, and written by students. The P&W provides coverage of Millsaps events, and serves as a general campus forum.
- "Stylus," the student literary magazine of Millsaps College, publishes once a year the best poetry, short stories, essays, and art once a year submitted by Millsaps students.

Music

The Music Department offers multiple opportunities for all students regardless of level or major to study and perform, both on and off campus. Private studio lessons are available in composition, voice or instruments such as piano, organ, guitar, violin, viola, cello, flute, clarinet, bassoon, oboe, trumpet, trombone, and percussion. A variety of music history and theory courses are also available to all students. In addition, students may audition to participate in several ensemble groups, as detailed below.

The oldest music performance organization at the College is the Millsaps Singers. Each year this choir performs a variety of accompanied and a cappella music for the College and community. Music for Singers includes a highly diverse repertoire from well-known masterworks to recent additions to the choral repertoire. Academic credit is awarded for participation each semester.

Chamber Singers is selected by audition from the Millsaps Singers. Membership in this 12 voice choir carries a performance scholarship in recognition of the travel and performance responsibilities of the ensemble. Recent tours have taken the Chamber Singers to San Antonio, Washington, D.C., Chicago, St. Louis, Orlando, New York, Atlanta, and Charleston. The group has toured Spain, Portugal, England, Germany, the Czech Republic, Austria, Greece, and Ireland.

Academic credit is awarded following the second semester of participation or Spring term.

Instrumental ensembles are open to all Millsaps students. The Millsaps Jazz Ensemble is the larger instrumental ensemble, and is open to all students. A background in jazz is not required. Performances include venues both on the Millsaps campus and in the greater Jackson area. The Millsaps Percussion Ensemble is open to all students interested in developing the skill and flexibility to perform on a variety of percussion instruments in an ensemble setting. Major Pep, the Millsaps Pep Band, performs at the Major's home football games during fall semesters. Students who have a background in marching band will find Major Pep a familiar experience, but all students are welcome to join. Small string, wind, and other chamber ensembles are also available. Academic credit is awarded for participation each semester.

Music majors, minors, and concentrators can become eligible for membership in Mu Phi Epsilon, an international professional music fraternity. Mu Phi Epsilon fosters scholarship, musicianship, and friendship through service to the school and community. Members may apply for scholarships, grants, and awards and friendship through service to the school and community.

Student Organizations

Millsaps College currently has more than 30 registered student organizations. Organizations vary in their individual purposes but all serve to contribute to the educational mission and purpose of the College. Contact the Division of Student Life to obtain a complete list of registered student organizations or to start a new organization. The following pages provide a listing and description of some of the organizations currently active on campus.

- Art Club: student organization that celebrates art in all its forms.
- Black Student Union (BSU): offers an outlet for students of color to belong to a recognized organization that offers positive support and focuses on the constructive richness that the African-American heritage has contributed throughout American history.
- Bobashela: Millsaps College Yearbook.
- Canterbury Club: supports the spiritual growth of Millsaps students by providing opportunities for worship, fellowship, and service in the Episcopal tradition.
- Catholic Student Association: outreach group for Catholic students at Millsaps College.
- Classics Club: strives to provide a forum for the discussion and discovery of Classical Studies.
- College Republicans: seeks to make known and promote Republican principles and aid in the election of Republican candidates on all levels.
- Enable America: student organization that promotes and advocates for the rights and services of people with disabilities.
- Feminist Club: promotes feminism, gender, and gender non-conforming awareness and equity on campus.
- Fellowship of Christian Athletes: strives to spread Christ's news among student athletes.
- Intercultural Student Organization (ISO): strives to create awareness around intercultural programs and initiatives, and assists in the coordination of Millsaps Intercultural Week.
- Jewish Culture Organization (JCO): member of Hillel International, JCO is for Jewish students and those interested in Jewish culture. It meets regularly for Jewish holidays and sponsors social, educational, and service events on campus and in the community.
- Major Havoc: student-led organization that performs between three and five plays for the Millsaps community each year. It is open to any interested Millsaps student and allows anyone the opportunity to direct, act, and produce the performances.

Fraternities and Sororities

Millsaps College Fraternity and Sorority Life is comprised of six fraternities and six sororities at Millsaps College. All chapters are members of well-established national and/or international organizations.

The fraternities are Alpha Phi Alpha, Kappa Alpha Order, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The sororities are Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Delta, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Inc., and Phi Mu.

Policies governing fraternity and sorority life are formulated and implemented by the Panhellenic Council and the Interfraternity Council.

Questions regarding Millsaps College Fraternity and Sorority Life may be directed to the Division of Student Life.

Eligibility for membership in sororities and fraternities is governed by the following regulations:

General Conditions for Membership Recruitment/Intake

Only Millsaps College bona fide regular students (carrying at least three courses) may be pledged and initiated. Activity classes do not count toward this requirement.

A student may not be pledged to a fraternity or sorority until official registration for classes has been cleared by the Office of Records.

Chapters initiating new members during the fall semester must obtain approval from the Division of Student Life.

Scholastic Requirements

Students involved in fraternity and sorority life must meet the individual organization of membership academic requirements.

Fraternities require organizations to meet a 2.75 cumulative GPA, while sororities require between a 2.50 and 2.80 GPA to remain in good academic standing with the organization.

There is no minimum GPA for a student to pursue the recruitment and/or intake process for becoming a member of a Millsaps College fraternity or sorority.

Note: Individual organizations may have higher and/or additional standards for admission.

Student Behavior

Because they are members of an academic community dedicated to the achievement of excellence, students at Millsaps College are expected to meet the highest standards of personal, ethical, and moral conduct possible. The commitment of its faculty, staff, and students to these standards contributes to the high respect in which a Millsaps degree is held. Students must not destroy that respect by failure to meet these standards.

The college has the responsibility and authority to establish standards for scholarship, student conduct, and campus life. Therefore, it cannot condone violations of local, state, or federal laws or conduct detrimental to its students or to the college. Students, as adults, are presumed to know the law as to illegal conduct prohibited by municipal, state, or federal law and are governed thereby. In addition, students failing to follow the direction of a college official, who is acting within the scope of her or his responsibilities, may be subject to disciplinary action.

The college expects students to be concerned with the physical and psychological well-being of others, and cannot condone behavior that exploits another individual. Students and organizations are expected to comply with rules concerning the academic, social, and residential life of the college. They are expected to comply with directions of College officials. Students are responsible for the behavior of their guests while on Millsaps property and/or at Millsaps functions.

The Millsaps Student Conduct System has been put in place to ensure the protection and preservation of an academic environment on campus where all students are free to pursue their educational goals. The system encourages students to become better citizens and live up to the highest standard of behavior expected of all Millsaps students. Millsaps students are expected to act with honesty and integrity in personal, social, and academic relationships and with consideration and concern for the community, its members, and its property. The system emphasizes education by focusing on growth and development of the individual student, encouraging self-discipline and fostering a respect for others.

The Millsaps Student Conduct System is not intended to mirror any court system. The policies and procedures used are not meant to resemble those in the criminal process. There is a fundamental difference in the nature of student discipline and that of criminal law. Student discipline is meant to maintain a positive living and learning environment. The process is designed to help students make positive choices for themselves, choosing self-responsibility instead of submitting to peer pressure, and to challenge them to accept responsibility for negative choices.

Alcoholic Beverages

Millsaps College is an educational institution dedicated to a strong academic program and to providing a caring community. The College strives to help its students become self-directed, responsible citizens. The college's alcohol policy is intended to assist in the creation of a campus environment where students have the opportunity to learn how to deal responsibly, both individually and socially, with alcoholic beverages. Millsaps College does not encourage the consumption of alcoholic beverages. Members and guests of the Millsaps College community who are of legal drinking age (21 years old) and choose to consume alcoholic beverages are expected to do so responsibly and in consideration of the consequences to self, others, and the community at large. Any consumption of alcohol must be done within the limits of the applicable laws and relevant College policies.

All members of the campus community are expected to recognize the potential for alcohol abuse and that abuse of alcohol is absolutely at variance with the mission of the College. Persons who infringe upon the rights of others or who conduct themselves in an inappropriate manner that is caused by or can be shown to be related to the consumption of alcohol shall be held accountable for their actions and subject to disciplinary and/or criminal action.

The regulations and practices governing the use of alcoholic beverages apply to all members of the Millsaps College community. The primary responsibility for knowing and abiding by the provisions of the College's alcoholic beverage policy rests with each individual.

Illegal Substances

The College cannot condone violations of federal, state, or local laws regarding any illegal drugs, narcotics, or dangerous substances. The use, possession, or distribution of such substances, except as expressly permitted by law, is not permitted.

Sexual Misconduct

Any member of the Millsaps community who is charged with sexual misconduct may be prosecuted under Mississippi criminal statutes. Even if the criminal justice authorities choose not to prosecute, the College can pursue disciplinary action. This disciplinary action could range from probation to expulsion from the College. Additionally, the College may elect to suspend the accused during the investigation.

Millsaps has an obligation to uphold the laws of the larger community of which it is a part. While activities covered by state and federal laws and those covered by the Colleges rules may overlap, those laws and the Colleges rules operate independently and do not substitute for each other.

Millsaps College may pursue enforcement of its own rules whether or not legal proceedings are under way or in prospect, and may use information from third party sources, such as law enforcement agencies and the courts, to determine whether College rules have been broken. Millsaps College will make no attempt to shield members in the College community from the law, nor will it intervene in legal proceedings on behalf of a member of the community. Membership in the Millsaps community does not exempt anyone from local, state, or federal laws, but rather imposes the additional obligation to abide by all of Millsaps College's regulations. Survivors are encouraged to inform the College so that immediate action can be taken to protect the survivor as well as others in the college community. College disciplinary proceedings do not follow the same rigid procedures as criminal cases, and discipline may be imposed upon a finding of clear and convincing evidence of violation of College rules.

Reports concerning sexual assault should be made without fear of self-incrimination concerning violations of visitation or alcohol policies. If a student has already been caught violating the visitation or alcohol policy and the violation is connected with a report of sexual misconduct, the visitation or alcohol violation remains a separate issue. If a student reports sexual misconduct and a violation of the visitation or alcohol policy was not already reported, the student cannot self-incriminate.

A member of the Millsaps community who wishes for the college to consider disciplinary action should contact one of the following informed College representatives:

The Director of Campus Safety (601-974-1180)
The Dean of Students (601-974-1200)

After one of these representatives has been contacted, that representative must inform the college's Title IX Coordinator that a potential violation has occurred. In compliance with federal and state guidance, the Title IX Coordinator will initiate an initial investigation proceed per the college's Sexual Misconduct Policy.

Disciplinary Regulations

Students responsible for serious and/or multiple infractions of College regulations may be subject to disciplinary action including social probation, disciplinary probation, disciplinary suspension, or disciplinary expulsion. The Student Conduct Review Council may enact social probation or disciplinary probation and may forward a recommendation for disciplinary suspension or disciplinary expulsion to the President. The President and/or the Provost and Dean of the College may enact any of these sanctions when warranted.

Social Probation

Social probation is a warning to a student regarding conduct standards. Its primary purpose is to serve as a period of time in which a student is asked to prove responsibility to himself/herself and the College. The terms of social probation include, but are not limited to, prohibiting said student from participating in extracurricular campus activities such as fraternity/sorority social activities and intramural and varsity sports. In addition, a student may hold no office of campus leadership. When an organization is placed on social probation, the organization may not sponsor social activities in the name of the organization, or in a manner that could reasonably be interpreted as sponsorship by the organization, for the period of the social probation.

Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary probation is the most serious penalty, short of suspension and expulsion, that can be incurred by a student. During a period of disciplinary probation, any further infraction of College regulations will render the student liable to suspension or expulsion.

Disciplinary Suspension and Disciplinary Expulsion

Unfortunately, there are times when a student's conduct is deemed to require the most serious penalty to be exacted by officials of the College. This action may result from a series of less severe actions or from particularly egregious behavior, as determined by College officials. Disciplinary suspension is a decision to temporarily discharge a student. The student will receive grades of W for the semester.

Disciplinary expulsion is a decision to permanently discharge a student from the college. The student will receive failing "F" grades for the semester. When student behavior warrants either disciplinary suspension or disciplinary expulsion, the student's financial status will be treated as if the student withdrew. (See financial regulations section.)

Ethical Use Computing Policy

The computing facilities at Millsaps College include computers, computer accounts, printers, networks, software, electronic mail, telephones, and telephone systems. These information technology solutions are provided to students, faculty, and staff for educational, research, and administrative activities related to the college. Students, faculty, and staff are required to utilize these systems in an efficient, ethical, and legal manner. Use of these facilities must be consistent with College standards as stated in Major Facts and the honor code. Access to the computing facilities is a privilege, not a right.

By logging onto the system, the user agrees that he/she has read this document and will abide by these guidelines. Failure to adhere to these guidelines may result in action by the College as described below. Users may only use those computer accounts or facilities they have been authorized to use by the Office of Information Technology Services (ITS). A user may not use a computer account assigned to another person. Access granted to computer resources through the negligence or naivety of another user is not considered authorized use.

Computing facilities are to be used for instruction, academics, research and administrative functions. The computing facilities may not be used for commercial purposes or monetary gain. This includes any personal equipment connected to the Millsaps network.

Individuals are responsible for all use of their computer accounts and equipment. This includes the content of e-mail messages, cloud storage, and computer files.

Fraudulent, illegal, harassing, embarrassing, obscene, indecent, profane, inappropriate, or intimidating materials cannot be sent, printed, requested, displayed, or stored.

Users are prohibited from reading, modifying, deleting, or copying another user's e-mail. Users are also prohibited from sending unsolicited junk mail, chain letters, and for-profit messages.

Users may not search for, access, or copy directories, programs, files, or data not belonging to them, without expressed authorization to do so.

No one should attempt to modify system facilities, "crash" any computing system, degrade system performance, or subvert the restrictions associated with computer accounts. The willful introduction of computer "viruses" or other disruptive/destructive programs into the Millsaps computing environment or external networks is prohibited.

Users may not extend the college's network with the public or other users beyond what has been configured by ITS. Users are not permitted to connect any network devices or systems (e.g. switches, routers, wireless access points, security cameras, VPNs and/or firewalls) to the college's network. Exceptions may be made on a case-by-case basis by requesting consultation with ITS.

As users have access to other computers and networks, the following is also applicable: use of computing systems in attempting to gain unauthorized access to remote systems, decryption of system/ user password(s), or modify authorized privilege levels are not permitted.

Millsaps College is bound by Title 17 of the United States Code on Copyrights and supports the provisions contained therein. Individuals are likewise bound by copyright laws. The College endorses and supports the EDUCAUSE Code on Software and Intellectual Rights. Various software packages have been licensed to Millsaps College for use. However, neither the College nor its employees own this software or documentation. Material cannot be copied without specific authorization by the software company.

Millsaps College does not condone the illegal or unauthorized duplication or use of software. Every person who uses College computing equipment or any computer while on College property or conducting College business is individually responsible for complying with all copyright laws and software licensing agreements.

Millsaps College recognizes and endorses the privacy of individuals in using the computing facilities and will use good faith in preventing privacy abuses. Users are advised, however, that Millsaps College is a private institution that must protect the integrity and safety of the College and its computing facilities, employees, and students. On occasion, authorized individuals of the College may be required to examine files maintained on the College's computer facilities. For example, the ITS personnel must have access to all files to provide maintenance, data storage, security of information systems, and software auditing. Additionally, the College reserves the right to authorize or require special examination of computer files if the College determines the action appropriate.

Abuse of computing privileges and any violations of the guidelines and policies established by the College will be considered as serious matters. Infractions may result in: loss of use privileges, referral to the Honors Council, referral to the Judicial Council, disciplinary sanctions, dismissal from the College, termination of employment, legal action, and/or criminal proceedings.

During any investigation, the College reserves the right to suspend computing privileges pending a final determination by the College.

Phi Beta Kappa, the nation's oldest academic honor society, was installed at Millsaps in the spring of 1989. It recognizes and encourages excellence in the liberal arts. The Millsaps chapter, Alpha of Mississippi, elects members from the senior class on the basis of broad cultural interests, scholarly achievement, and good character.

Phi Delta Kappa is an international association for professional educators.

Phi Eta Sigma is a national honorary society that recognizes outstanding academic achievement among freshmen. The Millsaps chapter was established in 1981. Membership is open to all full-time freshmen who achieve a grade point average of 3.500 in either the first semester or both semesters of the freshman year.

Phi Sigma Tau is a national philosophy honorary.

Pi Delta Phi, the national French honor society, was established at Millsaps in 1957. This honor society recognizes attainment and scholarship in the study of the French language and literature.

Pi Mu Epsilon is a national mathematics honorary.

Pi Sigma Alpha is the national political science honor society for college and university students of government in the United States. It seeks to stimulate productive scholarship and intelligent interest in the subject of government among students.

Psi Chi is the national honor society in psychology, founded in 1929 for the purposes of encouraging, stimulating, and maintaining excellence in scholarship and advancing the science of psychology.

Sigma Delta Pi, the international Spanish honorary, was established at Millsaps in 1968. This honor society recognizes attainment and scholarship in the study of the Spanish language and literature.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon is a national geology honor society. Established in 1993, the organization recognizes achievement in geological sciences.

Sigma Lambda is a leadership and service honorary society whose members are primarily sophomores selected on the basis of character, scholarship, and involvement in College and community activities.

Sigma Pi Sigma, a national honor society in physics, was established at Millsaps in 1988. Its purpose is to honor excellence in physics.

Sigma Tau Delta is the national English honor society. The purposes of the society are to confer distinction for achievement in the English language and literature, promote interest in literature and the English language, and foster the discipline of English in all its aspects, including creative and critical writing. The Zeta Sigma chapter was chartered at Millsaps in 1983.

Theta Alpha Kappa is the national honor society for religious studies and theology majors.

Academic Policies

Requirements for All Undergraduate Degrees

A total of 128 semester hours is required for the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Business Administration degrees. Of this total, at least 120 semester hours must be taken for a letter grade and 32 semester hours must be taken in residence at Millsaps College. All undergraduate programs take about 45 months to complete.

Majors: A major at Millsaps is a specialized course of study required of all students, offering the opportunity to focus in depth on a particular discipline. It usually consists of 32-48 hours of course work specified by a particular department, in addition to the prescribed work for the degree.

Majors in accounting and business administration are available only with the B.B.A. degree. B.B.A. students may, however, add a second major from the Division of Arts and Humanities or the Division of Sciences. The European studies major is available only with the B.A. degree and the chemistry major is available only with the B.S. degree. All other majors are available with the B.A. or B.S. degree.

Specific requirements for the major can be found under the appropriate department of instruction. Students may major in a subject only with the consent of the department chair. They are expected to declare a major by the end of the sophomore year. All work to be applied toward the major must be approved in advance by the student's advisor.

To graduate from Millsaps College, a student must have earned at least 128 semester credit hours (either through the degree requirements, general education requirements, major requirements, minor requirements, concentration requirements, or electives).

A student may earn more than one major by completing all of the requirements in the departments involved.

Minors: While there is no requirement that students complete a minor as part of their degree, they may elect a minor in those departments that offer one. Students cannot earn a minor and a major under the same subject (example: major in biology and minor in biology). A student must have a minimum of 16 semester hours in a department in order to qualify for a minor. A minimum of eight semester hours applied toward the minor must be taken at Millsaps. Specific requirements for a particular minor can be found under the appropriate department of instruction.

Areas of Concentration: A student may declare an area of concentration within a particular major listed in the catalog. In music, however, a student is permitted to have a vocal or instrumental performance concentration without a major in music.

Certificate in Music Performance: An undergraduate certificate in music performance is available through the Music Department to degree- and nondegree-seeking students who meet all admission requirements; students must be admitted to Millsaps College in order to pursue the certificate. Prerequisite undergraduate courses may be required in order to qualify for the certificate program. Hours earned in acquiring the certificate may be counted toward completion of a music degree. Upon satisfactory completion of the required coursework, the student will become a candidate for conferral of the certificate. The Millsaps transcript will indicate successful completion of the certificate program.

64-Hour Policy

After earning 64 semester hours at a junior, community, or senior college, a student may not take additional work at a junior or community college and have it apply toward a degree from Millsaps College.

Residence Requirement

To qualify for graduation from Millsaps College, 32 of the last 40 semester hours of academic work must be completed in residence as a degree-seeking student at Millsaps College. An exception to this rule is the Pre-Engineering Dual-Degree Program (in which students may transfer back the equivalent of 32 semester hours) and the study abroad program, providing at least 32 total credit hours were earned through Millsaps College. Hours to be transferred back to Millsaps from a study abroad program by a senior must be pre-approved by the Office of International Education prior to acceptance in the program.

Grade Point Average Requirement

A cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.000 is required for graduation. Transfer students must have a minimum GPA of 2.000 on their Millsaps work. The GPA is calculated on the total number of courses attempted, including courses repeated for a better grade.

Comprehensive Examinations

Before receiving a bachelor's degree, students must pass a comprehensive examination(s) at the satisfactory level or above in their major field(s) of study. This examination is given in the senior year (except for pre-engineering students who take it their junior year), and is intended to cover subject matter greater in scope than a single course or series of courses. The purpose of the comprehensive examination is to coordinate the class work with independent reading and thinking in such a way as to relate the knowledge acquired, and give the student a general understanding that could not be acquired from individual courses.

Students may take the comprehensive examination if they are within one semester of graduation. Students may take the comprehensive examination only if the courses in which they have credit and in which they are currently enrolled are those that fulfill the requirements in their major department. The comprehensive examination requires at least three hours and is part written and part oral; the division of time between the two will be at the discretion of the members of the department. The oral examination will be conducted by a committee composed of members of the department, and, if desired by the department, one or more members of the faculty from other departments or other qualified persons. Except by permission of the Dean of the College, the oral portion of the exam takes place during the published period on the Academic Calendar. The written portion of the exam usually precedes the oral exam. Should the department choose to offer the written portion of the exam outside of the published Comprehensive Exam period, the Department will make every effort to accommodate the student with an alternative exam time in the case of a conflict between the written portion of the exam and a college-affiliated activity.

Those who fail a comprehensive examination may have an opportunity to take another examination after the lapse of two months. Additional examinations may be taken at the discretion of the chair of the student's major department with the consent of the Dean of the College.

Fall Exceptions: The comprehensive examination may be given in the fall semester for students who have completed all necessary course work, and who either will not be in residence at Millsaps during the spring semester or are pursuing a double major. If the fall semester is utilized, December 1 is the deadline for completion.

Senior Final Exam Exemptions: Students may elect to be exempt from final examinations only in the semester in which they pass their comprehensive examinations and only in those courses in which they have a C average or better. It shall be understood, however, that this exemption does not ensure the student a final grade of C, since grades during the last two weeks shall count in the final average. Under no circumstances may a student be exempt from any examination in more than one semester. Students may request exemption from other requirements by petition to the Dean of the College. The exemption list is provided to faculty by the Office of Records.

Application for A Degree

Advisors assist students in establishing their degree plan for graduation. In the senior year of the student's course work, the Office of Records does a parallel graduation audit to review the undergraduate student's general education, degree requirements, major, concentration (if applicable), minor (if applicable), and total credits earned. Following this scheduled interview with the student, a degree application is filed with the Office of Records.

An application for degree must be on file with the Office of Records at the following times:

- for December completion, prior to the Fall semester's registration period.
- for May completion, prior to the Spring semester's registration period.
- for August completion, prior to the Summer semester's registration period.

Requirements for A Second Degree

To earn a second degree from Millsaps College, a student must have a minimum of 32 semester hours beyond those required for the first degree and must meet all of the requirements for both the second degree and the additional major.

Degree Conferral Policy

Once the degree is conferred, the academic record is frozen and no additional course work may be taken to apply toward that degree. Additional course work may be applied toward a second degree or taken in a non-degree seeking status.

A minor is a complement to a bachelor's degree and major, and is optional. While students are strongly encouraged to declare a minor as early as possible, it is possible for a minor to be posted to a student's transcript after graduation. The following criteria apply: (1) the minor must have been offered at the time the student graduated and (2) the student must have satisfied all the requirements for the minor before the student graduated. To request a minor retroactively, contact the Office of Records. Additional majors cannot be added retroactively; they are conferred at the same time as the student's baccalaureate degree.

Graduation with Distinction

A student whose cumulative GPA is 3.500 for the entire course of study at Millsaps shall be graduated cum laude, one whose cumulative GPA is 3.700 shall be graduated magna cum laude, and one whose cumulative GPA is 3.900 shall be graduated summa cum laude. To be eligible for graduation cum laude, magna cum laude, or summa cum laude, a student must have earned at least 64 semester hours at Millsaps College. For those students that earned a rating of excellent on their comprehensive examination, an additional distinction will appear on their official transcript and the commencement program.

Graduation with Honors

A degree-seeking student with junior standing and a cumulative 3.300 grade point average may apply to a faculty member for permission to undertake an honors project. In the fall semester of the junior year, the student submits an honors project agreement to the Honors Program Director. Upon approval of the director, the student enrolls for the spring semester in a directed study course, Honors I. For the fall semester of the senior year, the student enrolls in Honors II, but completes the bulk of the work before that time to be able to defend the thesis before the student's defense committee in the fall. A letter grade is assigned for each of these two courses.

A student may complete an Honors project outside of his or her area of major or minor study provided that the student can demonstrate that he or she has a sufficient academic background for the research. However, each student's thesis adviser must teach in the discipline of the student's Honors research. A student who successfully completes the Honors Program in a selected field of study receives the designation with honors in that field at graduation.

A student may voluntarily withdraw candidacy for Honors at any time. The following procedures should be followed by students deciding to leave Honors at the indicated times:

Leaving Honors I (HI) in the Spring of Junior year: The class HI can either be withdrawn from completely (resulting in a W on the transcript) by filling out a "Change of Schedule Add/ Drop Form" or be changed into a Research or Directed Study; if you would like the latter, the advisor and student will determine the appropriate number of credit hours for the new Research or Independent Study course (1-4 hours). The faculty and student must ensure that the student stays at or above 12/15 credit hours to ensure full-time status, however. This course may not be a credit/no credit course. In addition, the advisor must fill out the "Change, Add, or Delete Course" form to create a new Research or Directed Study course.

Leaving Honors II at any time during the summer: Because the student is not formally enrolled in an Honors related course during the summer, no changes need to be made. The HI credit from the previous Spring semester stays on the student's transcript and will not be changed retroactively, even though the student will not graduate with Honors.

Leaving Honors II (HII) during the Fall of Senior year: The class HII can either be withdrawn from completely (resulting in a W on the transcript) by filling out a "Change of Schedule Add/ Drop Form" or be changed into a Research or Independent Study; if you would like the latter, the advisor and student will determine the appropriate number of credit hours for the new Research or Independent Study course (1-4 hours). The faculty and student must ensure that the student stays at or above 12/15 credit hours to ensure full-time status, however. This course may not be a credit/no credit course. In addition, the faculty must fill out the "Change, Add, or Delete Course" form to create a new Research or Directed Study course. The HI credit from the previous Spring semester stays on the student's transcript and will not be changed retroactively, even though the student will not graduate with Honors.

The rules above serve as exceptions to normal Office of Records policy. Should the student decide to drop Honors during the normal add/drop time period, they can do so without any record of course(s) on their transcripts. In this case the student is advised to notify the Honors Director of his/her decision.

Commencement

If a student needs 16 hours or less to graduate, the student may participate in May commencement ceremonies. Students should be charged the graduation fee when they participate in the ceremony.

Election to Phi Beta Kappa

The Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Millsaps College elects members from the graduating class each spring. To be considered for election to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, a student must meet the following criteria: The student must be a candidate for a liberal arts degree (BA, BS) with a liberal arts or science major (all majors at Millsaps except Accounting, Business Administration, and Education). At least three fourths of the work required for a degree must be in liberal arts and sciences.

A minimum of one-half of the work required for graduation must be completed at Millsaps. The student must have had, or be taking in the spring of their senior year, one course in mathematics, statistics, or logic. The requirement will be met through Millsaps course credit that appears on a student's academic record.

Evidence of proficiency in mathematics can be met through a course at the level of Business Calculus (MATH 1210) or above. Proficiency in statistics can be met through Econometrics (ECON 3030) Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences (PSYC 2100), or Methods and Statistics (SOAN-2100). Proficiency in logic can be met through Logic (PHIL-2900).

That credit can be earned through courses taken at Millsaps or at another institution of higher learning, or through AP, IB, or A level exam credit that has been applied to a student's record (for Calculus or Statistics), or through a score on a departmental proficiency or placement exam, provided that the student places at a level above Survey of Calculus.

The student must have had, or be taking in the spring of their senior year, one course in a foreign language at the intermediate level (2000) or above, which must be taken for a letter grade. The language requirement will be met through Millsaps course credit that appears on a student's academic record. That credit can be earned through courses taken at Millsaps or at another institution of higher learning, or through AP, IB, or A level exam credit that has been applied to a student's record as Millsaps course credit, or through a score on a departmental proficiency or the appropriate SAT II language exam, provided that the student's score merits exemption from intermediate-level language study. Students who complete their high school educations in a language other than English may submit their transcripts and evidence of language competence to the chapter for consideration, normally no later than their junior year.

A student must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.70 based on seven or more semesters of work (Grades earned in courses for applied or professional work that are intended primarily to develop skills or vocational techniques are not counted in computing GPA for the purpose of election to Phi Beta Kappa). Transfer students must meet the GPA requirement both on work done at Millsaps and on their college work as a whole.

No more than ten percent of the liberal arts and sciences graduates may be elected to Phi Beta Kappa from a graduating class. The requirements above are only the minimum requirements for eligibility and do not necessarily guarantee election to membership. The limitation of electing no more than ten percent of a graduating class necessarily implies that more stringent criteria will have to be applied if the number of candidates who meet the minimum requirements exceeds that percentage in any year.

With the help of the Office of Records and the Dean of Students, a committee of the chapter goes through student transcripts of prospective graduates in the spring, recalculating GPA where necessary, and determines the pool of students who meet the minimum requirements. Records and the committee calculate the number that would represent no more than 10% of the likely liberal arts and sciences graduates. The chapter then meets and considers the pool of eligible candidates ranked by GPA but without other identifying characteristics (i.e., no name or major is indicated) and determines those who will be invited to become members. An initiation ceremony for new members followed by a chapter banquet is held toward the end of spring semester each year.

Membership invitations will only be extended to persons of good moral character.

Election to Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma is the national honor society for business programs accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International. Students are selected each spring. To be considered for membership in Beta Gamma Sigma, a student must:

- Pursue the Bachelor of Business Administration degree, the Masters of Business Administration degree, or the Masters of Accountancy degree;
- Be of high moral character;
- Be in the upper 10 percent of the junior or senior class;
- Be in the upper 20 percent of the MBA/MACC class; and
- Be approved by the nominating committee. The cumulative GPA is used to determine class rank.

Class Standing

The following number of hours is required:

- For sophomore standing: 28 semester hours
- For junior standing: 60 semester hours
- For senior standing: 92 semester hours

A student's classification is determined at the beginning of a semester and updated at the end of each semester.

Credit Hour

One credit hour represents a minimum of 45 hours of engagement with class material, the equivalent of 3 hours of academic engagement per week, over a 15-week semester.

Fulltime/Part-Time Student Status

Degree-seeking students taking 12 or more semester hours will be classified as full-time students. Degree-seeking students taking fewer than 12 semester hours will be classified as part-time students.

Course Load

Sixteen credit hours per semester is considered the normal load for full-time students during fall and spring semesters. In order to be classified as a full-time student, a student must take no fewer than 12 credit hours per semester during fall and spring. Students are not encouraged to register for more than 18 hours of academic work per semester during fall or spring unless they have a cumulative GPA of 3.000. No student may register for more than 20 hours in a semester without a cumulative GPA of 3.000 and permission of the Associate Dean of Academic Affairs. A student will ordinarily not be permitted to register for more than 22 hours in a semester.

If a student wishes to take classes over the summer, the maximum load a student may take is 8 credit hours in one summer term or 16 credit hours in multiple summer terms, except with permission of the Dean of the College.

For financial aid purposes, the following course load is true for undergraduate and graduate students regardless of term period:

- 12+ hours = full time
- 9 - 11.5 hours = $\frac{3}{4}$ time
- 6 - 8.5 hours = $\frac{1}{2}$ time
- 0.5 - 5.5 hours = $\frac{1}{4}$ time

For undergraduate students from the State of Mississippi, 15+ hours equal full time for Mississippi financial aid eligibility.

Credit/No Credit Grade Option

Students must indicate their intention to take a course for credit/no credit by the last day to add classes as published in the academic calendar. Credit/no credit grading requires full participation of the student in all class activities. Credit signifies work of passing quality or above, though it carries no quality points. Courses required for a student's major, general education, degree, and minor ordinarily may not be taken for credit/no credit. No more than eight semester hours graded credit/no credit may be included in the 128 semester hours required for graduation. Pathways courses do not count toward this eight hour maximum. Courses taken for credit/ no credit will not affect a student's GPA.

Auditing Courses

Courses may be audited if the instructor of the course gives written approval on the registration form. Students must indicate their intention to audit at the time of registration and once a course has been registered for audit, it may not be changed. No credit is earned for courses that are audited, and the grade of audit does not affect the GPA. For information about fees associated with auditing courses, see the special fees section of the catalog.

Schedule Changes

A student cannot change classes, drop classes, or add new classes except by the consent of the faculty adviser or the Dean. All courses added after the first week of classes must have signature of the faculty instructor approving the add, in addition to their advisor's signature. If courses are dropped prior to the last day to drop courses without penalty, the dropped courses will not appear on the student's record. Courses dropped after this date are recorded as W. There is a published date, following midterm grades, after which it is no longer possible to withdraw from a course. Students who stop attending a course without securing the required approvals will receive an F.

Cross-Listed Courses

A cross-listed course is a course that is offered under more than one subject course code and number. Cross-listed courses are limited listings between courses in different departments during an agreed upon semester. A proposed cross-listed course must be approved by all cross-listed department chairs before being submitted for the course schedule. Courses can be cross listed in no more than three subjects. Cross-listed courses must meet at the same time, in the same classroom, have the same faculty instructor, the same credit hours, and have the same course level. The course will have separate rosters for each cross listed subject. Students cannot take the cross listed course again under a different subject.

Directed Study

A directed study is an independent study. Ordinarily, a student will not be allowed to take a course as a directed study that is offered at least every other year at the College. Directed studies are dependent on faculty schedules and must be approved in advance by the faculty instructor and appropriate department chair.

Repeat Courses

Students may enroll in courses at Millsaps that previously have been taken. A course may also be repeated at another institution with the prior approval of the student's advisor, in consultation with the appropriate department chair. Because Millsaps accepts transfer work only on a nongraded basis, repeating a course at another institution will not improve a student's grade point average (GPA) at Millsaps.

A student may repeat up to four courses or 16 hours of credits, and the higher grade will replace the lower grade in the GPA calculation. All course grades will remain on the transcript, with the lower grade given an additional (E) designation, indicating "excluded" from the GPA calculation. Only courses with a C-, D, F, or W designation are eligible for this repeat course policy. If a student chooses to repeat more than four courses or greater than 16 credit hours, then the course grades for the additional hours/credits would not be eligible to replace a lower grade and both grades will be included in the cumulative GPA calculation.

When a course is repeated, no additional course credit is earned if the student initially received a passing grade. Millsaps does not guarantee the availability of courses for repeat credit.

Certain courses that have different content taught each semester may be repeated for credit. Examples of these courses are special topics courses, directed studies, directed research, internships, a few major courses, and even some general education courses.

Occasionally, a student may take one of these courses over again with the same course content in order to make a better grade. If this scenario occurs, it is the responsibility of the student and the professor to inform the Office of Records. Credit hours cannot be earned twice for two courses with the same content.

Double Counting Between Academic Programs

Only 12 hours are allowed to double count for students earning a double major or students earning a major and a minor.

Grades

The grade in any class is determined by the combined class standing and a written examination as explained in the class syllabus.

Grade	Meaning	Grade Points, if applicable
A	represents superior work	4.000
A-		3.670
B+		3.330
B	represents above-average achievement	3.000
B-		2.670
C+		2.330
C	represents a satisfactory level of achievement	2.000
C-		1.670
D+		1.330
D	represents a less than satisfactory level of achievement in the regularly prescribed work of the class. All marks of D and above are passing marks, unless otherwise notes.	1.000
F	Failure. Represents failure to of the regularly subscribed work of the class	0.000
W	indicates that a student has withdrawn from a course or has received approval to withdraw from the College.
I	indicates that the work is incomplete. Incomplete grades contribute neither to the number of hours attempted nor the quality points. If the incomplete is not removed by the end of the following semester, the incomplete grade will change to an F.
IP	indicates work in progress during the current semester.
CR	represents passing work in a nongraded course taken for credit.
NC	represents no credit in a nongraded course taken for credit.
NR	indicates no grade reported by faculty (grade assigned by Office of Records only).

AU	represents audited class.
TR	represents college-level work that has transferred into Millsaps College.
AP	represents work that has come into Millsaps from an Advanced Placement exam.
IB	represents work that has come into Millsaps from an International Baccalaureate exam.
CL	represents work that has come into Millsaps from a CLEP exam.

Quality points earned for a course are determined by multiplying the numerical value of the grade by the number of semester hours that the course carries. A grade point average (GPA) is determined by dividing the total number of quality points by the total number of attempted semester hours.

The deadline for submitting grade changes to the Office of Records will be no later than the date that final grades are due in the semester following the term that contains the error. The same deadline will apply to changes in grades for students who have already graduated. No changes will be made in class rankings or graduation rankings based upon grade changes for students who have graduated. Any changes in distinction will be posted to the individual's record. If a change in distinction occurs, the student must return the original diploma to the Office of Records. Once the original diploma is received, another diploma will be ordered with the correct distinction.

It is the student's responsibility to inform the Office of Records of any possible errors and to work with the professor(s) involved.

Class Attendance

Irregular attendance indicates that the student may be having difficulties adjusting to the course or to the College. The primary responsibility for counseling students with respect to their absence rests with the faculty member; but, in the following circumstances, the faculty member is expected to report in writing the student's unsatisfactory attendance record to the Assistant Dean of Student Success (who will issue an electronic yellow alert warning the student):

- For a first-year student: whenever the total absences are equal to twice the number of class meetings per week.
- For any student: after three successive absences for reasons unknown to the instructor, or when in danger of failing the course.

Individual faculty members decide the manner and extent to which absences alone will affect a student's grade. Each faculty member is expected to outline the policy in writing in the syllabus of each class at the beginning of the semester. This may extend to dismissal from the course (using a red alert from the Office of Records) with a grade of F for reasons solely of absence. A faculty member may not drop a student through the red alert process unless they have first issued a yellow alert warning.

Absences are excused at the discretion of the individual faculty member, except that absences for official college-sponsored athletic competitions and academic activities will always be excused. Faculty must provide students the opportunity to make up work missed due to an excused absence. Students are always responsible for all course work they miss, including work to make up for absences, if assigned by the instructor.

Protected Period for Student Life

Regularly scheduled undergraduate courses are not to be offered during the Protected Period for Student Life (MTWTHF 4-6:30 pm) with the following exceptions: MUSC 15C1 - Chamber Singers, THEA courses, Mock Trial, and WRIT 2001 - Intro Teaching Writing (Spring Only). Classes are permitted to meet informally (e.g. for directed studies, music lessons, test preparation, special class meetings), but if and only if all students are available and given adequate opportunity to check for conflicts and respond confidentially to the instructor. Attendance at a special event scheduled during the protected period that will affect a student's grade requires the instructor to offer an equivalent alternative experience to the student who cannot be present.

Final Examinations

Permission to make up an examination or alter the time for an examination may be granted only by the instructor of the class for a specific student. If an instructor wishes to change the time of a final exam for a class, he or she must obtain permission from the Dean of the College.

No student should be required to take more than two final exams on one day. Students will be expected to take the initiative to resolve any conflicts with the appropriate faculty. If a resolution is not reached, the student may appeal to the Dean's office.

No required classroom activities, including presentations and final examinations, may be set on Reading Day.

Academic Standing

President's Scholars

At the end of the fall and spring semester, the President's Scholars List is issued and consists of those students who for that semester:

- Earned at least 12 semester hours;
- Earned a GPA of 3.850 for that semester;
- Earned grades of C or higher in each course; and
- Met the standard, in the judgment of the President of the College, of being a good citizen of the College community.
- The President's Scholar will be shown on the student's official transcript permanently.

Dean's Scholars

At the end of the fall and spring semester, the Dean's Scholars List is issued and consists of those students who for that semester:

- Earned at least 12 semester hours;
- Earned a GPA of at least 3.500, but less than 3.849, for that semester;
- Earned grades of C or higher in each course; and
- Met the standard, in the judgment of the Dean of the College, of being a good citizen of the College community.
- The Dean's Scholar will be shown on the student's official transcript permanently.

Unsatisfactory Academic Progress

A part-time student who makes a GPA of less than 1.500 in any semester will be notified that he or she is making unsatisfactory academic progress. To be removed from that classification, the student must make a 2.000 GPA during a regular semester or summer session. Unsatisfactory academic progress for part-time students will be shown on the student's official transcript permanently.

Academic Probation

Full-time students who earn a term GPA below 1.500 or have a cumulative GPA below 2.000 will be placed on academic probation. A student may be removed from academic probation by earning a 2.00 GPA during a regular semester or a summer semester at Millsaps College provided that the student completes at least 12 semester hours and establishes a cumulative GPA of at least 2.000.

Academic Probation will be shown on the student's official transcript permanently.

Academic Suspension

Full-time students will be subject to academic suspension if they fail to maintain a:

- 1.500 cumulative GPA when 28 semester hours or fewer have been attempted, or
- 1.800 cumulative GPA when more than 28, but no more than 60 semester hours have been attempted, or
- 2.000 cumulative GPA when more than 60 semester hours have been attempted, or
- 2.000 cumulative GPA after senior status has been obtained.

Full-time students who earn a term GPA below 1.000 will be placed on academic suspension. A student may also be suspended at any time if not actively engaging in classes. The first suspension will ordinarily be for the duration of one semester, the second suspension for a full academic year. After a third suspension, the student is not allowed to return to Millsaps.

Courses taken at another institution while on suspension will not be accepted for credit by Millsaps. Students on suspension are not allowed to take summer courses at Millsaps.

Academic suspension will be shown on the student's official transcript permanently.

Readmission Process

Suspended students seeking readmission must petition the Academic Dean of the College in writing. The Dean will then consult with the Academic Actions Committee. Students seeking readmission after a first or second suspension should apply as soon as possible in order to assure sufficient time to fulfill whatever requirements may be necessary for readmission to be granted. The following deadlines apply: July 15 for fall, December 1 for spring, and April 12 for summer. The petition should include both a detailed explanation of the circumstances leading to suspension and a plan for academic success upon readmission.

Petitions for readmission may be mailed to:
Office of Academic Affairs Millsaps College
1701 North State Street Box 151107
Jackson, MS 39210 or
emailed to AcademicAffairs@millsaps.edu

Readmissions decisions require approximately three weeks. Notification will be mailed to the student's mailing address currently on file and/or emailed. If approved, the student will be readmitted on academic probation, and this status will show on the student's official transcript permanently. If you have questions, contact the Office of Admissions.

Change of Plan

A "change of plan" is a procedure that can occur at 1 of 2 times:

- A student who has committed to come to Millsaps by paying their deposit and has pre-registered for the term but then decides not to attend.
- A student attending Millsaps who has preregistered for the next term but decided not to come back for the next term.

In either case, this process can only occur up until the first day of class. The student should not have attended any classes in the semester that the change of plans was given. A change of plans form must be completed by the student or by a staff member in consultation with the student. Ordinarily, a student will contact the Office of Records for a Change of Plans. In this case, the Office of Records will gather a reason why the student has made this decision. Occasionally, a student will contact another office when they have decided not to attend. If a committed student notifies the Office of Admissions, Admissions should also gather a reason why the student has made this decision. If a current student notifies the Director of Academic Advising and Student Support Services, the Director of Academic Advising and Student Support Services should gather a reason why the student has made this decision. All reasons why should be turned into the Office of Records for recording. The Office of Records will notify applicable departments of the updated student's change-of-plans status and reason.

Voluntary Withdrawal or Administrative Withdrawal

In order to withdraw from the College within any term, an undergraduate student must meet with the Director of Academic Advising and Student Support Services for an exit interview and obtain a withdrawal form. No refund will be considered unless the withdrawal form, with appropriate signatures, is completed and presented to the Business Office. Refunds will be made according to the policy outlined in the Financial Regulations section.

A student who withdraws with permission after the last day for dropping a course but before mid-semester will have grades recorded as W in each course. A student who withdraws without permission receives a grade of F in each course.

Students should complete all course withdrawals by mid-semester. The mid-semester deadline for completing course withdrawals is published in the academic calendar.

Students who wish to withdraw from one or more courses after the mid-semester deadline must file a written petition with the Dean of the College. Petitions will not be approved unless students can show evidence that they are in extraordinary situations that warrant exceptions to the general policy of the College. Enforced withdrawal may result from habitual delinquency in class or any other circumstance that prevents the student from fulfilling the purpose of the class.

The College reserves the right to cancel the registration of any student. In such a case, the pro rata portion of tuition will be returned, except that students withdrawing under discipline forfeit the right to a refund.

No student who withdraws is entitled to a grade report or an official transcript until all accounts are settled in the Business Office.

Emergency Withdrawal

Extreme personal circumstances, such as call-up to active military duty, may constitute grounds for emergency withdrawal from school after the official withdrawal deadline. Emergency withdrawal must be caused by circumstances beyond the student's control and be of an extenuating nature that causes the student to be unable to complete the current semester. Documentation of the circumstances must be provided before such withdrawals may be considered and must be provided at the time the emergency arises. Students granted any type of emergency withdrawal will receive the grade of W in all attempted classes.

Medical Withdrawal

Medical withdrawals are granted to students only in the rare case where their physical, mental, or emotional health prevents them from continuing studies at the College. Medical withdrawal may be granted only for the current semester, and it is the sole responsibility of the student requesting a medical withdrawal during any semester to complete and submit all required paperwork by the last day of classes in that semester as defined by the academic calendar. A retroactive medical withdrawal may be considered only in the event that the illness or condition occurred at the end of the semester and prevented the student from completing this process within the semester. It must be applied as soon as reasonably possible after the end of the semester.

All requests for medical withdrawals must be accompanied by a medical professional's letter of recommendation for withdrawal and documentation of illness. This letter must include a medical diagnosis, the time frame during the semester in which the illness or medical condition occurred, and an explanation of how this prevented the student from being able to continue with his/her academic requirements. Upon return to the College, the student must present documentation that states the student has been treated by the same or another referred medical professional and, in his/ her expert opinion, the student's condition has improved to the point that he/she can handle the demands of college life. Students granted a medical withdrawal will receive the grade of W in all attempted classes.

Leave of Absence

Students may petition for a leave of absence for a future semester. A leave of absence cannot be granted in a semester in which any classes have been attended. Before requesting a leave of absence from the College, students must meet with the Director of Academic Advising and Student Support (undergraduate) or the Assistant Dean of the Else School of Management (M.B.A. or M.Acc.) to determine if a leave of absence is appropriate in their situation. A leave of absence allows students to sit out for a semester while maintaining their eligibility to retain academic scholarships; however, students must reapply for need-based aid. A student may not be enrolled at another institution while on leave of absence from Millsaps College. A leave of absence is granted for one semester, although in unusual circumstances a petition may be filed for an extension. For administrative purposes only, the student on leave must fill out a short re-admit application upon their return in order to reactivate their student services such as Major Portal and their campus ID card.

Catalog Year Assignment Policy

Students follow general education requirements in the catalog year in which they matriculate at Millsaps College. Once students declare their degree/major/minor/concentration, students follow degree/major/minor/ concentration requirements in the catalog currently in effect at the time of the declaration. Students who are absent from Millsaps College six years or more will ordinarily be required to satisfy the catalog year requirements that are in effect at the time of their return.

Please consult the Office of Records concerning questions about general education and degree requirements, and the appropriate department about major/minor/concentration requirements.

Transfer Credit Policy

Refer to the "Transfer Admissions" section under the "Information for Prospective Students" section of the catalog.

Credit by Examination

Students entering Millsaps College may earn a waiver of certain requirements or college credit as a result of their performance on specific examinations. The amount of waiver or credit is limited to two courses in any discipline and 28 hours total. International students may also be eligible for advanced placement, depending upon the educational system completed (for example: IB, A-levels, Abiture, etc.).

Scores on the appropriate Advanced Placement or International Baccalaureate examinations, CLEP subject matter examination, or CEEB achievement tests should be sent to the Office of Records for evaluation. An administrative fee will be assessed for each course recorded. (See the catalog section on special fees.)

A score of 4 or 5 is ordinarily required on an AP exam and a score of 5, 6, or 7 on a higher 13 level IB exam is required to receive academic credit. For information concerning scores necessary to attain credit for any AP examination or for other exams such as IB or CLEP, students should consult with the Registrar. International students should contact the Director of International Recruitment with any questions about their AP eligibility.

Honor Code

Millsaps College is an academic community where men and women pursue a life of scholarly inquiry and intellectual growth. The foundation of this community is a spirit of personal honesty and mutual trust. Through their Honor Code, members of the Millsaps community affirm their adherence to these basic ethical principles. An Honor Code is not simply a set of rules and procedures governing students' academic conduct; it is an opportunity to put personal responsibility and integrity into action. When students agree to abide by the Honor Code, they liberate themselves to pursue their academic goals in an atmosphere of mutual confidence and respect. The success of the code depends upon the support of each member of the community. Students and faculty alike commit themselves in their work to the principles of academic honesty. When they become aware of infractions, both students and faculty are obligated to report them to the Honor Council, which is responsible for enforcement. The Millsaps Honor Code was adopted by the student body and approved by the faculty and Board of Trustees in 1994.

A student cannot withdraw from a course while an Honor Code allegation is under investigation. A student who is found guilty of an Honor Code violation may not withdraw from the course in which the violation occurred.

Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA or the "Buckley Amendment") of 1974 guarantees Millsaps students the right to review, inspect, and challenge the accuracy of their educational record. It also ensures that records cannot be released without the written consent of the student by protecting the confidentiality and privacy of student records. Below are some of the following exceptions:

- Records may be released when the information is classified as "directory information." The following categories of information have been designated by Millsaps College as directory information: name, email address, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities including sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, photograph, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational institution attended by the student, and information needed for honors and awards. Students who do not wish such directory information released without their consent should notify the Office of Records in writing.
- Violations of drug and alcohol policies may be disclosed to parents of students who are under the age of 21.
- Disciplinary proceedings of violent crimes or nonforcible sex offenses may be disclosed to the victims of the crime regardless of the outcome of the proceedings. They may also be disclosed if the accused was found to have violated the College's rules or policies.
- Records may be released to a court if a parent or student has initiated legal action against the College or if the College has begun a legal action against a parent of a student.
- Records may be released to the Mississippi Office of Student Financial Aid if a student's legal residence is in the state.
- If students would like their parents to have access to their records, they must give written consent in the Office of Records or a parent can show proof of claiming their child/student as a dependent on their most recent tax filing.
- Records may be released to school officials who have a legitimate educational interest. See definitions below.

Definition of FERPA Terms

Legitimate educational interest: A school official has a legitimate educational interest when the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her responsibility on behalf of the college, such as when the official is performing a task that is specific in his or her job description or by a contract agreement or other official appointment; performing a task related to a student's education; performing a task related to the discipline of a student; or providing a service or benefit relating to the student or student's family, such as health care, counseling, job placement, or financial aid.

School official: A person employed by Millsaps College in an administrative, supervisory, academic, research, or support staff position, including volunteers or contractors performing a service or function for which the college would otherwise use its employees, and who are under the direct control of the college with respect to the use and maintenance of personally identifiable information from the education records (e.g. an attorney, auditor, or vendor: the National Student Clearinghouse); individuals serving on the Board of Trustees; and students conducting college business (e.g., serving on official committees, working for Millsaps, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks). For more information about this law, contact the Office of Records.

Special Programs

Pre-Health (Including Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental)

Early during freshman year, students interested in a career in healthcare (medicine, dentistry, optometry, pharmacy, occupational therapy, nursing, veterinary medicine, or physical therapy) are urged to consult with a member of the Pre-Health Advisory Committee. Members of the committee will assist in developing programs of studies and a timeline for completing courses needed for particular student interests. During the spring semester of the junior year, pre-health students should arrange an interview with the Pre-Health Advisory Committee to evaluate student qualifications and preparation for a career in his/her chosen pre-health field. This evaluation will be used as part of the student's application materials and will be submitted to the professional schools of interest.

It is the responsibility of the student to consult the websites, course catalogs, or call the schools to which he/she wishes to apply for specific programmatic requirements. Generally, the courses below fulfill the prerequisite requirements of most medical, dental, and other health profession programs. However, many schools now use "end-point" course requirements (example: you must complete Biochemistry I, Physics II, and Calculus).

- Biology: one year of course work
- General Inorganic Chemistry: one year of course work
- Organic Chemistry: one year of course work
- Physics: one year of course work
- Mathematics: Calculus or Pre-calculus
- Biochemistry: at least one semester
- In addition, the following courses are strongly recommended:
- Human Anatomy and Physiology
- Introduction to Psychology
- Introduction to Sociology
- Statistics

Advanced courses in the natural sciences (Biology, Chemistry, Mathematics, Neuroscience, and Physics) Millsaps College and the majority of medical and dental schools strongly recommend that the student obtain a baccalaureate degree in an area of interest. It is not required that this degree be in a science, and students are encouraged to achieve a broad background in the humanities and social sciences. However, taking the minimum number of required science courses is strongly discouraged.

Note for Medical School Applicants: The newly revised Medical College Admissions Test (MCAT) emphasizes reading comprehension, critical thinking, and knowledge of the social sciences (human behavior in particular). The pre-health honorary, Alpha Epsilon Delta, frequently provides opportunities to discuss the changing requirements of the health care professions.

Pre-health students should meet with members of the Pre-Health Committee on a regular basis to ensure adequate academic progress, to arrange internships and shadowing experiences, and to prepare for interviews. The Pre-Health Committee also invites speakers from the region to discuss admission policies and procedures. These speakers are typically directly involved in admissions to professional programs, and therefore are able to provide useful information for potential applicants.

Furthermore, The Millsaps Medical Mentoring Program helps connect students to local health professionals in the student's area of professional interest. This is a wonderful resource for our students and is unlike any other shadowing or internship opportunity you will find.

Please Note: Admission to medical and dental programs as well as other health-related programs is highly competitive. Success involves:

- Superior Grade Point Average (both total and science/math - generally speaking, most schools will want to see around a 3.500 science GPA);
- Competitive score on the appropriate professional exam (e.g., MCAT, DAT);
- Experience or substantial exposure to the health field;
- Faculty and pre-health committee letters of recommendation;
- Non-academic accomplishments (including both campus activities and work experience; especially activities demonstrating leadership and responsibility);
- Research activities;
- A successful interview with the professional school.

For more information, contact Millsaps' Pre-Health Director, Dr. Kurt Thaw (thawak@millsaps.edu)

Pre-Ministerial

Given the special challenges of the practice of ministry, students who plan to enter a church ministry should plan to undertake professional education in a theological seminary or divinity school. The best preparation for such professional education is an undergraduate education with breadth in the liberal arts, including significant work in the study of religion and philosophy and in the social sciences. A collection of five especially relevant courses is recommended by the Religious Studies Department and the Office of the Chaplain. These include Religions of the World and How to Study Them (RLST 2000), a biblical studies course (RLST 2210 or RLST 2220), a course in Christian thought (RLST 3110 or RLST 3120), a relevant internship (RLST 4850), and one other course to be recommended by the Department of Religious Studies in accordance with the student's interests. Students interested in church ministry are encouraged to minor in Christian Studies. In addition, students considering a ministerial career should consult the College Chaplain as early as possible.

Pre-Law

No particular major or sequence of courses is required for students planning to go to law school. Indeed, there is no ideal pre-law program applicable to all students. However, a student planning to attend law school should strive to attain and master the intellectual qualities that make one successful in the study of law and prepare one to score well on the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT), which is "designed specifically to assess critical reading, analytical reasoning, logical reasoning, and persuasive writing skills".

(<https://www.lsac.org/lSAT>). Toward that end, students should focus on coursework that enhances their ability to think critically, analytically, and logically, and enhances their analytical and persuasive writing. To build the most appropriate program of study, students planning to attend law school should consult their major advisor, faculty that have been influential in their academic study, the Center for Career Education, and the pre-law advisor. Students may wish to consider the minor in Philosophy, Law, and Society, which includes the study of logic, critical reading, and analytical writing, and is designed as a pre-law track, including special instruction in the Logic course on LSAT-style problems. The Law School Admission Test (LSAT) should be taken in the spring semester of the junior year or the fall semester of the senior year. During the junior year, students interested in law school should consult with the pre-law adviser to begin preparations for the LSAT and the law school admission process. For more information, contact Millsaps' pre-law advisor, Harvey Fiser.

Osteopathic Medicine

Millsaps College and the William Carey University College of Osteopathic Medicine (WCUCOM) offer qualified Millsaps student's guaranteed admission into WCUCOM at the next registration date following their college graduation. Qualified students are granted entry into the cooperative agreement program during their freshman year of college (Fall or Spring semester). Students interested in this pathway program must contact the Millsaps College Director of Pre-Health (thawak@millsaps.edu) or the admissions office of Millsaps College. Joining into this agreement does not prevent you from applying to any other medical schools of your choosing. In order to be considered for the program, the following requirements must be met:

- Admission to Millsaps College.
- Minimum combined SAT score of 1200 in the critical reading and math sections (not including the writing section) or an ACT score of 26 (not super scored)
- Presentation for an interview to be conducted jointly by representatives of Millsaps College and WCUCOM.

Following the interview, the individual will be informed by Millsaps College of his/her acceptance or failure to be accepted into the program. Entrance is on a competitive basis and limited to ten (10) students per year.

In order to secure guaranteed acceptance into WCUCOM, the following conditions must be met:

- Maintenance of a cumulative GPA of 3.25 or higher as well as a science (biology, chemistry, physics) GPA of 3.25 or higher. Academic performance will be monitored throughout enrollment at Millsaps College.
- The candidate must make no grade lower than C (C- is lower than C) during their Millsaps education.
- No more than two (2) science classes may be taken at an institution other than Millsaps.
- The candidate must earn a Baccalaureate degree from Millsaps College.
- The following courses must be completed by the end of the junior year:
 - Three semesters of General Biology with labs (see below)
 - Two semesters of Inorganic Chemistry with labs (see below)
 - Two Semesters of Organic Chemistry with labs (see below)
 - Two semesters of Physics (see below)
 - Two semesters of Our Human Heritage (see below)
 - One semester of Biochemistry (see below)
 - One semester of Microbiology (see below)
 - One semester of Psychology (see below)
 - One semester of Sociology (see below)
 - Two semesters of any of the following (see below):
 - Human Anatomy and Physiology with labs
 - Genetics
 - Histology
 - Comparative Animal Physiology
 - Human and Comparative Embryology
 - Molecular Cell Biology
 - Immunology
 - Introduction to Neuroscience
- Attain a minimum MCAT total score of 504 or higher with individual sections scores of 125 or higher.
- Documentation of at least 50 hours of health care experience with at least 8 hours completed with a Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine.
- Satisfactory interview with the Millsaps Pre-Health Committee with WCUCOM representation by the fall semester of the final year of college.
- Submission of a college record free of dismissals, suspensions, or probations.

- Submission of a complete primary application to WCUCOM through the American Association of Colleges of Osteopathic Medicine Application Service (AACOMAS) prior to the end of the fall semester of the final year of college.
- Submission of a complete secondary application to WCUCOM prior to the end of the Fall semester of the final year of college.
- Evidence that the candidate is able to meet the Minimal Technical Standards for Admission as set forth by WCUCOM.
- Submission of a criminal background check revealing no disqualifying history prior to matriculation at WCUCOM.
- Submission of a “negative” drug/alcohol test prior to matriculation at WCUCOM.

Nursing

Students may choose to complete a bachelor’s degree at Millsaps, take the appropriate prerequisite courses, and apply to any nursing program of their choice during the fall of their senior year at Millsaps. Nursing prerequisites vary by school so be sure to visit the appropriate web page of the nursing programs you are interested in to review their requirements. The Director of Pre-Health (thawak@millsaps.edu) is available to help with any decisions you may be considering.

Millsaps maintains cooperative agreements with The University of Mississippi Medical Center (UMMC) School of Nursing and The University of Alabama, Birmingham. Students wishing to participate in the Early Entry Program must meet with the Director of Pre-Health at Millsaps College during the first few weeks of their first semester.

2-2 B.S.N. program

The deadline for consideration for Early Entry is November 1. Early Entry status means that the student will be automatically eligible to enroll in the School of Nursing at UMMC upon successful completion of prerequisite courses. Students wishing to participate in the Entry Program must have a cumulative high school GPA of 3.5 and an ACT score of 25 or higher.

3-2 B.S./B.S.N. program

Under this plan, a student completes the prerequisite courses for nursing school and most of the degree requirements for either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science in selected disciplines during three years of study at Millsaps College. The student then enrolls in a two-year curriculum at the School of Nursing at UMMC. Upon completion of the requirements for the Bachelor of Science in Nursing, the student may transfer back to Millsaps up to 12 hours of approved nursing courses to satisfy the requirements for a Millsaps degree. At that time, Millsaps College will confer the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science in the appropriate discipline. Thus, students earn a bachelor’s degree from both Millsaps and the University of Mississippi School of Nursing. Students who plan to pursue the 3-2 program in nursing may also be eligible for the Early Entry Program.

3.5/1 B.S./M.S.N. program

The University of Alabama, Birmingham School of Nursing and Millsaps College have a cooperative agreement by which a student completing a four-year Bachelor of Science degree at Millsaps College with the appropriate prerequisite courses can enroll in an accelerated four semester program of study leading to the Master of Science in Nursing from The University of Alabama, Birmingham.

Students complete 3.5 years of study at Millsaps before transferring to The University of Alabama, Birmingham in January of their final year of college. Students must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and accumulated 116 hours of the pre-approved course work, as well as the majority of the requirements for their major to be eligible. Students arriving at The University of Alabama, Birmingham in January will transfer back to Millsaps 12 of their course hours taken during that spring semester to complete their Millsaps degree.

Students should contact the Millsaps College Director of Pre-Health (thawak@millsaps.edu) to begin planning their schedule of course work for this or any of the other Nursing pathway programs during their first semester at Millsaps.

Pharmacy

Millsaps maintains cooperative agreements with The University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy and the William Carey University School of Pharmacy to help students interested in careers in this field.

For our partnership programs, students must complete all of the required elements INCLUDING the application process for the various partner program(s) you wish to be part of. It is important to note that your Millsaps scholarships and awards are for your time at Millsaps only. Please visit the other programs web sites for their financial aid opportunities.

3/4 BS-PharmD. Program: The University of Mississippi School of Pharmacy

Students complete 3 full years at Millsaps College before transferring into the Pharmacy program at the University of Mississippi, Oxford. The majority of students will major in Chemistry or Bio-Chemistry while at Millsaps (though other Majors are an option as well). Following their junior year, students will transfer to the Oxford Campus to begin their Pharmacy course work. The first year of Pharmacy courses will serve to also complete the student's bachelors' degree from Millsaps. Following two years of courses at the Oxford campus, students will return to Jackson to complete the final two years of training to receive their Doctorate degree in Pharmacy. Please see the Director of Pre-Health at Millsaps college (thawak@millsaps.edu) during your first semester to design your program of study and to be eligible for this early entry program.

4/3 BS-PharmD program: The William Carey University School of Pharmacy

Students complete 4 full years at Millsaps College before joining the Pharmacy program at the William Carey University School of Medicine (Tradition campus, near Biloxi). The majority of students will major in Chemistry or Bio-Chemistry while at Millsaps (though other Majors are an option as well). Following their junior year, students will apply to the accelerated program at William Carey. The William Carey program is actually a little less than 3 years to complete the Doctorate of Pharmacy degree. Please see the Director of Pre-Health at Millsaps college (thawak@millsaps.edu) during your first semester to design your program of study and to be eligible for this accelerated program.

Engineering and Applied Science

The Engineering and Applied Science program at Millsaps offers many opportunities for students interested in engineering and applied science. With this cooperative program, the student can combine the advantages of a liberal arts education at Millsaps with the specialized programs of a major university.

The pre-engineering program at Millsaps College may be combined with an applied math, chemistry, geosciences, biology, or biochemistry major. Our partnerships are with the Bagley College of Engineering at Mississippi State University, The University of Mississippi, and Columbia University. Dr. Yan Wang, associate professor of mathematics and the pre-engineering advisor at Millsaps, can help you craft courses of study that best fit your career interests and specific program requirements.

A student may attend Millsaps, complete the science, mathematics, and humanities requirements for the science and engineering degree, and then continue course work at one of the schools listed above. The student will then transfer a maximum of 32 semester hours back for a bachelor's (BS) degree from Millsaps while also earning the bachelor's (BE) degree in engineering from the dual-degree university.

Many programs are offered by the participating universities, including financial aid for qualified students. For detailed descriptions of programs and financial aid, students are urged to consult with the pre-engineering advisor. To be admitted to the programs, the student must fulfill certain minimum course requirements at Millsaps. To keep the dual degree option viable, a student should plan to take calculus within the first year at Millsaps.

Students interested in a particular program should also consult the catalog of the appropriate university and the Millsaps pre-engineering advisor. Most programs have particular requirements, which students might wish to fulfill at Millsaps. For more information, contact Millsaps' pre-engineering advisor, Dr. Yan Wang.

Millsaps Principals' and Teachers' Institute

The Millsaps College Principals' and Teachers' Institute provides personal and professional growth opportunities for principals, assistant principals, and teachers in public, private, and parochial schools. The Institute serves as a bridge to build partnerships between Millsaps College and the K-12 education community to strengthen education in Mississippi. The Institute awards professional development credits to administrators and teachers who participate in its programs

Teacher Licensure

Students interested in earning licensure for teaching (grades 7-12 or grades 4-6) may do so through by earning a minor in Education at Millsaps through a partnership with William Carey University. Interested students should contact the Millsaps Director of Programs in Education as soon as possible and must apply for admission to the licensure program by the end of the junior year. Applications are available by contacting the Millsaps Director of Programs in Education.

Students who are accepted into this program will complete nine credits of coursework during the fall of the senior year and a student teaching residency in the spring of the senior year. Students should plan to have all coursework for their major and Compass requirements completed prior to the spring of the senior year.

Students completing the coursework and residency requirements for this program will be eligible for a Class A teaching license upon graduation. Credits earned in this program under the EDWC designation count toward the Master of Education in the Art of Teaching at William Carey University. Upon graduation, students in this program may continue coursework through William Carey University to complete this degree and upgrade to a Class AA teaching license.

Requirements for admission to the Millsaps/William Carey teacher preparation program:

- Be on track to earn an undergraduate degree in a non-teaching field. This should include at least 18 hours of coursework in the desired licensure area. Students must present documentation of an earned undergraduate degree before continuing beyond Residency II in the William Carey University Master of Arts of Teaching program.
- Have a minimum cumulative undergraduate GPA of 2.75.
- Document passing score on the Praxis CORE or ACT/SAT scores that meet state guidelines for teacher licensure, per <https://www.medk12.org>

Requirements for student teaching:

- Complete 9 credit hours of coursework as specified below, with a C or higher
- Document passing scores on the Praxis II subject area test no later than December 10 of the senior year. In addition, student seeking licensure in grades 4-6 must provide documentation of a passing score on the Foundations of Reading test by December 10 of the senior year.

Additional requirement for Class A teaching licensure (must be documented prior to graduation):

- Passing score on the Praxis Principles of Teaching and Learning

Requirements to continue in the William Carey University Master of Education in the Art of Teaching program:

- Successfully complete student teaching.
- Document earned bachelor's degree.
- Fulfill the general graduate admissions requirements for William Carey University (see wmcarey.edu).

The Else School of Management

Business Advantage Certificate Program for Professionals

The Millsaps College Business Advantage Program (BAP) for Professionals is an intensive certificate program designed to give professionals a competitive edge in the job market. BAP provides a fundamental understanding of economics, accounting, finance, marketing, and management. The program is led by the Millsaps Else School of Management. Topics covered in each discipline include:

Accounting

Learning the Language of Business
What Do You Mean? What Does It Cost?
Making a Budget and Sticking to It

Economics

Who Gets What? The Role of Markets
Competition: Perfect and Otherwise
When Markets Need Correcting

Finance

Understanding Financial Statement Analysis
Making Money Grow! Interest Rates
Bulls and Bears: Understanding Stocks and Bonds

Management

What Does a Business Organization Look Like?
Business Leadership? - the Ethical Way
Managing Employee Performance
Who Is Today's Workforce?

Marketing

Segmentation and Target Marketing

Business Administration (Major Plus)

The Else School of Management offers a program designed to permit students pursuing degrees other than the Bachelor of Business Administration (BS or BA), to complete the Master of Business Administration with only one additional year of study beyond the bachelor's degree program. The program is called the Major Plus Program in Business Administration. The following courses, which constitute the foundation courses of the Master of Business Administration program, may be taken as general electives during the student's bachelor's program:

- MATH 1150 Elementary Statistics
- ECON 1000 Principles of Economics
- FINC 3000 Principles of Corporate Finance
- ACCT 2000 Principles of Financial Accounting
- MGMT 2000 Introduction to Management
- MRKT 3000 Principles of Marketing

A non-B.B.A. student who successfully completes the prescribed courses will be in a position to earn the Master of Business Administration by completing the upper-level courses pertinent to that degree program. This can be done in 12-15 months of study at Millsaps College. For details about the Major Plus Program, contact the Director of Graduate Admissions.

Else Early Start into Graduate School at Millsaps

Current BBA Millsaps undergraduate students who wish to matriculate directly into the graduate business programs at Millsaps may do so, in some cases, before they complete their undergraduate degree. Millsaps seniors who have accumulated enough undergraduate hours that they do not have to take a full course load the second semester of their senior year in order to graduate are eligible to take up to six graduate hours during that semester. To do so, all admissions requirements must be met, (except for those calling for completion of the student's bachelor's degree), and the student must submit an application with all required materials, including a GMAT score (if required) and letters of recommendation for consideration. If the MBA or MAcc Council approves the student, he/ she will be conditionally admitted to the appropriate graduate program. Students who are conditionally admitted will be able to take up to six hours. Students may take any graduate course for which they have completed the prerequisite courses. All coursework must be approved by the graduate advisor. Students accepted into this program will pay a rate equal to full-time undergraduate tuition and fees.

Military Science/ROTC

Military Science is offered at Millsaps College and on the campus of Jackson State University (JSU) under a partnership agreement between Millsaps College, JSU, and the U.S. Army. Students enrolled at Millsaps are eligible to enroll and attend Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) classes at Millsaps and on the campus of JSU. Credits earned in ROTC at JSU will be entered onto the student's Millsaps transcript with up to nine hours of credit awarded for the following Military Science courses only: MS 300, MS 401, MS 402, or MS 403. Combined with the classes offered at Millsaps for a total of eight hours (MLSC 1011, MLSC 1021, MLSC 1031, MLSC 1041, MLSC 2011, MLSC 2021, MLSC 2031, and MLSC 2041), students can earn a minor in Military Science with a total 17 hours. The ROTC program provides students an opportunity to earn a presidential commission as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve or the Army National Guard, concurrent with the pursuit of an academic degree. The objectives of the program are to:

- Produce the future officer leadership of the U.S. Army;
- Provide an understanding of how the U.S. Army Reserve and Army National Guard fit into the national defense structure;
- Develop the leadership and managerial potential of students to facilitate their future performance as officers;
- Develop the ability of students to think creatively, and speak and write effectively; and
- Encourage the development of mental and moral standards that are essential to military service.

The program of instruction includes developing self-discipline, physical stamina, and other qualities that are cornerstones of leadership excellence. The ROTC program is divided into a basic course of instruction

There is no charge for enrolling in the ROTC program; however, cadets must be admitted into Millsaps as full-time students before enrollment in the ROTC. Books, equipment, and uniforms are provided at no cost to students. Uniforms, however, must be turned in at the end of each semester. Three-year and two-year ROTC scholarships are available and awarded on a competitive basis.

All students complete an internship during the summer between their junior and senior years. Off campus summer training in parachuting, helicopter operations, engineering, and outdoor marksmanship is available to all ROTC students.

Mississippi Community and Junior Colleges

Millsaps College and the Mississippi Community and Junior Colleges (MCJC) throughout the state have an agreement governing the transfer and matriculation of MCJC students to Millsaps College. This agreement sets forth the terms and conditions of students' transfer from all MCJC campuses to Millsaps College. It also details which courses a student may take at any MCJC and have transfer into the Millsaps Compass Curriculum. For specific details, see <http://millsaps.edu/resources/office-records.php#transfer-articulation>.

Other Programs

Ford Teaching Fellows Program

The Ford Teaching Fellows Program provides an opportunity for upper class students with an interest in college teaching to work closely with a faculty member in their area of academic interest. Primary teaching under faculty supervision is encouraged, as well as research and scholarship. Students must submit an application, completed jointly with their proposed faculty mentor, to the program director early in the spring semester. For more information, contact Professor Sue Carrie Drummond.

Honors Program

The Honors Program provides students of outstanding ability an opportunity to conduct original research under the direction of a Millsaps faculty member (for more information about the types of honors projects in specific disciplines, please contact the Director of the Honors Program). The final product of this collaboration, consisting wholly or partially of a written thesis, is then defended before a committee of faculty members. In the spring of their senior year, students participate in an interdisciplinary Honors Symposium and present the results of their honors projects to the public and Millsaps community. Students who successfully complete all phases of the Honors Program receive an academic hood and the designation of "with honors" in their field of research at graduation. Indication of honors as well as the title of the honors project is also listed on the student's official Millsaps College transcript. Eligible students are invited to participate in the Honors Program in the fall of their junior year. For more information, contact the Honors Director, Dr. Alex Rice at alex.rice@millsaps.edu.

The American University Washington Semester

The Washington Semester is a joint arrangement between American University, Millsaps College, and other colleges and universities in the United States to extend the resources of the national capital to superior students in the field of the social sciences, humanities, and business. The objective is to provide direct contact with the work of governmental departments and other national and international agencies located in Washington, thus acquainting the students with careers in public service and imparting a knowledge of government in action.

Under this arrangement, qualified students of demonstrated capacity from the participating colleges spend a semester at the School of Government and Public Administration at American University in Washington.

Here, they earn between 12 to 16 semester hours of credit toward graduation. Eight semester hours are earned in a conference seminar, in which leaders of politics and government meet with students while four semester hours are earned in an internship, in which the student is placed in a government office or public interest organization. Students have the option of enrolling in an additional three or four credit research or elective course.

For more information regarding how to apply to the program, contact the Department of Government and Politics at Millsaps College. Interested students must also contact the Millsaps College Office of Financial Aid to determine their applicable financial aid options.

The Fund for American Studies (TFAS) Capital Semester

Millsaps students have the opportunity to enroll in the Capital Semester programs offered by The Fund for American Studies (TFAS) with courses offered by George Mason University and housing located at George Washington University. These programs are offered in the spring, fall and summer semesters with scholarships available through TFAS for Millsaps students. Internships are coordinated by each admitted student and TFAS staff in Washington to help provide for the best possible learning experience. For more information regarding how to apply to the program, contact the Department of Government and Politics at Millsaps College and visit www.dcinternships.org for detailed program information as well as details regarding scholarships, housing, courses, and accommodations.

Office of International Education

Millsaps College views study abroad as an important educational endeavor that enriches students both academically and personally and prepares them for the realities of the global world. By combining intellectual pursuits with firsthand exposure to different people and cultural traditions, this unique learning experience provides Millsaps students with an opportunity to gain an international perspective on their chosen academic field or career path. It allows students to learn and practice important life skills such as problem-solving, critical thinking, flexibility, resilience, and the ability to interact and communicate across differences. As such, study abroad is an integral component of a liberal arts education and is vital to successful leadership in most academic and professional fields. The Office of International Education (OIE) is dedicated to the promotion and development of international co-curricular opportunities for members of the Millsaps community. Students are encouraged to participate fully in the Millsaps experience by taking advantage of the many opportunities to study abroad. International study typically takes place between the completion of a student's first and third year at Millsaps. Students may arrange to study abroad for a semester, year, summer, or the winter intersession. The timing of study is determined, in part, by a student's academic program and progress toward completion of degree requirements.

Among Millsaps students, the most popular program choices have historically been those designed, directed, and taught by Millsaps faculty each summer and during the winter term. Millsaps programs are offered in Mexico (Yucatan), Peru, Spain, England, Italy, Taiwan, Tanzania, and more. Participants receive full academic credit for select majors/minors as well as Compass Curriculum requirements, including the Major Experience, without having to consider transfer credit issues. In addition, direct exchange options are currently offered in Japan and Liechtenstein, as well as through ISEP-Exchange, an international student exchange program. Students taking languages abroad that are not offered at Millsaps may satisfy the language proficiency requirement for the B.A. degree or Compass Curriculum by completing the pre-approved courses equivalent to three semesters (B.A.) or two semesters (Compass Curriculum) of college-level coursework, and submitting to the Office of Records supporting documentation including relevant transcripts, syllabi, certificates, and/or diplomas proving successful completion of the course(s). Course approval must be obtained from the chair of the Department of Modern Languages prior to study abroad via the Millsaps Study Abroad Approval Form. Students interested in studying abroad for a semester or longer should contact the OIE as much as a year in advance of their intended term of departure, for assistance in planning and program selection. Before proceeding with program selection and beginning the application process, students are required to meet with an OIE staff member. Programs are located in every corner of the world and cover virtually all academic areas. The OIE provides information on programs administered by Millsaps as well as those administered by other institutions or providers.

In order to participate in and receive Millsaps academic credit for any program not administered by Millsaps College (e.g., direct exchange, ISEP-Exchange, or provider program), students are required to complete the Millsaps Study Abroad Approval Forms, available from the Office of International Education (OIE). The OIE is located in the Campbell College Center, Office 318. Study abroad program choice and courses for Millsaps transfer credit must be preapproved through the OIE. Failure to do so will result in the loss of financial aid and the transfer of credits. Students must attend Millsaps for one full semester before they may apply to any program not administered by the College.

Millsaps Faculty-Led Programs

Summer Program in Europe: Business and Arts & Sciences in London, Florence/Dublin, and Munich
Millsaps College offers a summer program in Europe, typically based in London, Florence, and Munich, with opportunities for other European travel and cultural experiences built into the program. Students may choose courses offered by the Else School of Management, the Division of Arts and Letters, and the Division of Sciences. Millsaps faculty design and teach the courses, integrating experiences, field trips, and guest speakers that highlight the worldwide classroom. The Else School program is open to both graduate and undergraduate students. Course listings vary each year. Recent listings by the Else School of Management include: Field Study in International Management; International Lessons in Leadership; Capitalism, Socialism, Communism: Have We Made the Right Choice?; and History of Economic Thought. Recent listings by the Division of Arts and Letters and the Division of Sciences include: The Psychology of Fear and Terrorism; The Idea of the City and the Culture of Travel; and Theatre in London. For more information, contact Dr. Jesse Beeler at jesse.beeler@millsaps.edu.

Summer Program in Mexico: Arts & Sciences in Yucatán: Millsaps College offers a unique study abroad program in Yucatán, Mexico. The College (and its non-profit organization Kaxil Kiuic, www.kiuic.org) supports and operates a 4500-acre tropical forest biocultural reserve in the heart of the Yucatán peninsula. The Kaxil Kiuic Biocultural Reserve, with its rich biological and archaeological resources, serves as a center for the arts and sciences program. Each summer a number of courses are offered in fields as varied as archaeology, art, biology, communication studies, environmental studies, geology, history, literature, sociocultural anthropology, and Spanish language. Courses change annually, so check with the Office of International Initiatives (OII) for upcoming classes. In addition to the field-based courses, research opportunities and internships in a variety of disciplines are available, including archaeology, biology, biochemistry, and environmental studies. Students may return to Yucatán to take additional courses and may also choose to participate in ongoing excavations at the ancient city of Kiuic, located within the biocultural reserve. A semester-long program is also offered. The Millsaps properties in Yucatán include an off-the-grid Center for Research and Learning (CRL) located within the reserve at Kiuic, the Millsaps Puuc Archaeological Research Center (MPARC) in the nearby Maya town of Oxkutzcab, and the Center for Business and Culture (known affectionately as “Casa Millsaps”), a dormitory-classroom facility in Merida developed and operated by the Else School of Management. For more information, contact Dr. George Bey at george.bey@millsaps.edu

Summer Program in Mexico: The Yucatán Experience with the Else School: The Else School of Management offers study abroad classes each summer based from its facility in Merida, Yucatán: the Center for Business and Culture, known affectionately as “Casa Millsaps.” Through a variety of course offerings, students assess and understand geographic, environmental, economic, social-cultural, political, and legal factors that impact the business and legal environment of Latin America. In addition to classroom instruction, students learn directly from business, governmental, and cultural leaders in this vibrant region of Mexico while visiting industries including tourism, farming, manufacturing, and distribution. These courses provide students the opportunity to use their classroom knowledge in an applied field study in an emerging economy. Classes vary by year. Recent summer listings by the Else School include International Business Law; Innovation: From Minds to Markets; and Global Business-Latin America. In addition to these field-based courses, internship opportunities are available in a variety of business settings. For more information, contact Professor Harvey Fiser at harvey.fiser@millsaps.edu.

Summer Program in Peru: Archaeology in the Land of the Inkas: This course is a hands-on introduction to archaeological excavations and lab work in the Cusco region of the southern highlands of Peru. Students actively participate in the various tasks involved in archaeological research, including digging, recovering artifacts, and mapping features, as well as inventorying, analyzing, and photographing artifacts. In addition, students visit impressive archaeological sites in the region, such as Machu Picchu, experience contemporary Peruvian culture, and interact with Peruvians daily. Students live in the city of Cusco, a beautiful Inka and colonial city that is rich in culture and history. This course is designed for students who have never had archaeological field experience and for those who have already participated in fieldwork or lab work but would like to gain additional experience. By the end of this class, students will be familiar with the hands-on tasks involved in archaeological research and will have gained a unique immersive experience living in Peru. The course fulfills the Archaeology minor requirement for archaeological field study. It also fulfills the SOAN major requirement for experiential component and counts as a SOAN elective. For more information, contact Dr. Véronique Bélisle at veronique.belisle@millsaps.edu.

Summer Program in Spain: Millsaps’ newest language immersion program and first study abroad program in Spain is located in Alcalá de Henares, a city with impressive historical architecture and a cosmopolitan and international atmosphere just 35 minutes outside Madrid. The program is intended for two levels of Spanish language students: beginning/intermediate and high-intermediate/advanced. Both components of the program are associated with the University of Alcalá de Henares, a UNESCO world heritage site. Beginning and intermediate-level language students enroll in one course per term (4 credit hours), studying at Alcalingua, a highly recognized school that specializes in teaching Spanish language and culture to foreigners. High-intermediate and advanced language students take two classes (8 credit hours) offered through the Instituto Franklin, which offers a comprehensive educational experience emphasizing global understanding. Classes are held Monday through Thursday, with Fridays reserved for excursions (at least two field trips per class included in tuition). All students live in homestays with carefully selected Spanish families, with three meals per day included as well as weekly laundry service. Millsaps students enjoy learning the language as well as living it through programmed and optional field trips including visits to neighboring cities, a two-day trip to southern Spain, and cultural events such as flamenco shows, museum visits, and a guided tour of Alcalá de Henares. Courses range from Beginning Spanish and Intermediate Conversation to Spanish for Health Care Professionals, Masterpieces of Spanish Literature through Film, Contemporary Spain: The 20th and 21st Centuries, Globalization and the Spanish Economy, and The Spanish Education System: A Practical Immersion. For more information, contact Dr. Judith Caballero at judith.caballero@millsaps.edu.

Summer Program in Taiwan: The Arts, Culture and History of Taiwan: This course connects Millsaps to the language and culture of China, but through a lens of paradox and contradiction. Regarded as a renegade province of China by some and an independent country by others, Taiwan has produced prosperity and creativity disproportionate to its size. Its human history dates back tens of thousands of years, from early Austronesian aborigine tribes to political control by the Dutch, Spanish, English, Japanese, and Han Chinese. Mandarin Chinese is its official language, but Taiwanese (Hokkien), Hakka, and 14 unique aborigine languages can be heard on the island. Twenty-three million people make Taiwan one of the most densely populated places in the world, but the island also has 286 mountain peaks over 3,000 meters high, where few people live. The course will feature lectures, museums, and concerts, with an overnight trip to Green Island, where we will visit the former political prisoners' camp, and take in hot springs and snorkeling. A four day hike up Snow Mountain or hike to a Rukai aborigine village in mountainous central Taiwan depending on riverbed weather conditions will also be offered. For more information, contact Dr. Lynn Raley at lynn.raleymillsaps.edu.

Winter Intersession Program in Mexico: Arts & Sciences in Yucatán: Millsaps College offers a unique study abroad program in Yucatán, Mexico. The College (and its non-profit organization Kaxil Kiuic, www.kiuic.org) supports and operates a 4,500-acre tropical forest biocultural reserve in the heart of the Yucatán peninsula. The Kaxil Kiuic Biocultural Reserve, with its rich biological and archaeological resources, serves as a center for the arts & sciences program. Each winter, a number of courses are offered in fields as varied as biology, communication studies, environmental studies, history, and religious studies. Recent Winter Intersession course offerings include The Maya Gods, You, and Chocolate; Field Biology: Tropical Ornithology; and Sun, Sand, and the Cult of the Dead: Apocalyptic Tourism. In addition to field-based courses, research opportunities and internships in a variety of disciplines are available. For more information, contact Dr. George Bey, Director, Millsaps Yucatán at george.bey@millsaps.edu.

Winter Intersession Program in Mexico: The Yucatán Experience with the Else School: The Else School of Management offers study abroad classes each winter based from its facility in Merida, Yucatán: the Center for Business and Culture, known affectionately as "Casa Millsaps." Through a variety of course offerings, students assess and understand geographic, environmental, economic, social-cultural, political, and legal factors that impact the business and legal environment of Latin America. In addition to classroom instruction, students learn directly from business, governmental, and cultural leaders in this vibrant region of Mexico while visiting industries including tourism, farming, manufacturing, and distribution. These classes provide students the opportunity to use their classroom knowledge in an applied field study in an emerging economy. These classes vary by year and have included Global Business-Latin America; Global Innovation: Solving the Mystery of Mexico; International Business Law; and International Business: Managing across Cultures. In addition to field-based courses, internship opportunities are available in a variety of business settings. For more information, contact Professor Harvey Fiser at harvey.fiser@millsaps.edu.

Semester in Yucatán: Millsaps regularly offers a full semester abroad program in Yucatán, Mexico. Staffed by Millsaps faculty and utilizing all three of the College's facilities-Casa Millsaps in the capital city of Merida, the Millsaps Puuc Archaeological Research Center (MPARC) in the Maya market town of Oxkutzcab, and Millsaps' biocultural reserve at Kaxil Kiuic-the program features four major field excursions, including trips to the Caribbean, Campeche, and Chiapas, and numerous day trips. Course offerings include intensive Spanish language study and homestays in conjunction with the Centro de Idiomas Sureste (CIS), an internationally certified language institute in Merida, as well as a rotating selection of Millsaps classes in archaeology, biology, communication studies, cultural anthropology, film, history, Latin American studies, literature in English, and religious studies. Students' regular Millsaps tuition and meal plan transfers to Mexico in order to cover room, board, and other costs to live and study abroad for the entire semester in Yucatán. The only additional cost to students is an activity fee to cover certain excursion expenses. Four content courses (16 semester hours), plus a two-hour Community Engaged Learning (CEL) course are included. Internships are also available upon request. Depending on the semester it is offered, the program also features a one-week fall or spring break for personal travel (cost not included). The program is open to 12 students (nine from Millsaps and 3 from other schools in the ACS consortium). For more information, contact Dr. Eric Griffin at eric.griffin@millsaps.edu.

Exchange Programs

Millsaps Direct Exchange Program with Japan: Akita International University (AIU) is a small (approximately 700 students) liberal arts college located in the northern section of Japan's main island. Though the campus itself is located in a rural area, it is about 30 minutes from downtown Akita (a major city) and 10 minutes from the airport. AIU is unique among colleges in Japan in that it has a true liberal arts curriculum and an international student body. Because the language of instruction for all students is English, international students are not on a separate track from their Japanese counterparts, as is the case in most international exchange programs. Millsaps students are therefore fully integrated into the life of the university. Although the curriculum at AIU emphasizes international business and politics, it also has strong offerings in the philosophies, cultures, and religions of Asia. There is also an excellent Japanese language program for foreign students. Many of the faculty are practitioners, journalists, businessmen, and retired government officials rather than pure academics. The unique international component of the institution has made AIU very popular with Japanese students, creating a competitive admission process within Japan. Fellow students will thus be among the best in Japan. Qualified students may apply to study at AIU for one semester (fall or spring), the full academic year, or the summer. Applicants must have successfully completed at least two semesters of college level study before applying and have a cumulative GPA of 2.500 (4.0 scale) or higher. Applicants must be nominated and approved by the Office of International Education. The College is currently entitled to send up to three Millsaps students per year (including the summer language intensive courses) to enroll full-time at AIU. The College has a tuition-waiver agreement with AIU, meaning that students pay their regular tuition to Millsaps but pay room, board, and fees directly to AIU. All students at AIU reside in the on-campus dorms. Because the university is supported by the Prefectural government, living costs are low. The only extra funds needed are to cover the cost of airfare, books, personal expenses, and any supplemental travel while abroad. For more information, contact the Office of International Education at studyabroad@millsaps.edu.

Millsaps Direct Exchange Program with Liechtenstein: University of Liechtenstein (UL) is one of the four centers of higher learning in the Principality of Liechtenstein. The smallest German-speaking country in the world (about 62 square miles), Liechtenstein is located between Switzerland and Austria and has an estimated population of 35,000. It is the only alpine country to lie entirely within the Alps and, with its mostly mountainous terrain, is a winter sports destination. Liechtenstein boasts the highest GDP per person in the world and has a strong financial sector located in the capital city of Vaduz. The University, founded in 1961 as the Liechtenstein School of Engineering and accredited by the country's Ministry of Education, now specializes mainly in business, offering Bachelor's and Master of Science degrees in Architecture, Business Management, Banking and Financial Management, and Business Process Engineering, as well as a Ph.D. in Business Economics. Millsaps students will appreciate the university's small size (about 1,000 students total) and can take classes in English through the excellent Bachelor of Business Sciences program. Housing is available in shared apartments and other private rentals. Millsaps has a tuition-waiver agreement with UL, so that students who participate in the exchange program pay their regular tuition to Millsaps but pay room (if living in university housing), board, and fees directly to UL. Extra funds are needed to cover airfare, personal expenses (including books), and any supplemental travel while abroad. Applicants for the Liechtenstein direct exchange program must be nominated by the Director of International Education. Participation in this program is currently limited to two upper-division undergraduate students per year. Qualified students may also participate in a paid or non-paid internship program in Liechtenstein, in some of the most interesting and vibrant financial institutions in the world. In order to qualify for an internship, applicants must have advanced finance or advanced accounting training, must be nominated by the Director of International Business Programs at Millsaps, and must be approved by the Else School faculty. Participation in the internship program is currently limited to one student (graduate or upper-division undergraduate) per year. For more information, contact the Office of International Education at studyabroad@millsaps.edu.

International Student Exchange Program

The International Student Exchange Program (ISEP) is a unique organization to which Millsaps belongs. Through membership in ISEP, Millsaps students have access to ISEP Exchange, a network of 340 universities in 54 different countries, with classes taught in English as well as the host country's language(s). One of the most exciting aspects of ISEP Exchange is the financial benefits. It is a tuition-exchange program, meaning that when studying for a semester or year through ISEP Exchange, students pay all regular costs (tuition, room, board, fees) to Millsaps and can use their institutional aid, but are studying abroad instead of on-campus. A Millsaps student doing ISEP Exchange trades places with an international student from any other ISEP school. Each student pays what they would normally pay to their home institution for tuition, fees, housing, meals, etc. Additional costs include the ISEP placement/application fee, required ISEP health insurance, airfare, personal expenses (including books), and any supplemental travel while abroad. The application process for ISEP is competitive and very lengthy. Because the student essentially direct-enrolls as an international student at a foreign university, they must be extremely responsible and independent in order to be nominated for ISEP. Any student interested in ISEP should contact the Office of International Education (at least one year in advance) in order to begin the process with the Millsaps ISEP Coordinator. For more information, contact the Office of International Education at studyabroad@millsaps.edu.

Study Abroad Providers

Millsaps College, through the Office of International Education, works with the top study abroad providers in the United States, carefully selected for their academic rigor, commitment to immersion-based learning, affordability, and excellent student support services. Offering semester and yearlong programs in every corner of the globe and virtually all subject areas, current study abroad providers include: AIFS; The Alliance for Global Education; API; Arcadia University's College of Global Studies; CET Academic Programs; CIEE; IES Abroad; IFSA Butler; ISA; Middlebury C.V. Starr Schools Abroad; Studio Art Centers International (SACI); Semester at Sea; and SIT. These providers include exemplary student support services in their program fees, for services such as comprehensive, personal predeparture advising, including course selection and financial planning; on-site orientation upon arrival in the host country; full time, on-site resident staff; academic and personal support, including tutoring and mental health counseling; subsidized excursions and social events; community involvement and/or volunteer opportunities; medical insurance and travel planning; emergency assistance; guaranteed housing; U.S. or host university transcript; and alumni resources.

The majority of providers offer need and/or merit-based scholarships to qualified students, and some also provide work-study opportunities. For more information, contact the Office of International Education at studyabroad@millsaps.edu.

Graduate Programs

Master of Accountancy

The Master of Accountancy (MAcc) degree is designed for students who intend to pursue professional careers in public accounting, business, and the government/nonprofit sector. The Master of Accountancy fulfills the educational requirements to sit for the CPA examination in the state of Mississippi and many of the states that have adopted the AICPA's 150 credit-hour requirement. Students are encouraged to check with the state Board of Accountancy in the state where they plan to practice regarding specific course requirements. The program involves a fifth year of study beyond the Bachelor of Business Administration degree. Students who plan to seek the Master of Accountancy degree should declare the basic accounting undergraduate major. For more details about the master of accountancy program, consult with a member of the accounting faculty, contact the graduate admissions office, see the master of accountancy description under the Else School of Management portion of the catalog, or visit the Else School web page at www.millsaps.edu/mba-macc. The program takes about 12 months for a full-time student to complete. The program takes about 24 months for a part-time student to complete.

Master of Business Administration

The Master of Business Administration (M.B.A.) degree is offered in both daytime and evening classes. The Millsaps M.B.A. program is particularly suited for students with a liberal arts background. A typical class includes men and women from a broad range of ages and backgrounds (including engineering, the physical and social sciences, the arts and the humanities, and business). For more information about the M.B.A. program, see the graduate catalog, contact the graduate admissions office, or see the Else School of Management web page at www.millsaps.edu/mba-macc. This program takes about 12-months for a full-time student to complete.

Executive Master of Business Administration

The goal of the EMBA program is to offer the mid-career business executive a graduate degree option that fits into his or her life, through a 16-month program of alternating weekends, where each student enrolled in the program is a peer in the business world. Class discussions, faculty interaction, guest experts, and study groups bring together real-world experience that can give an executive immediate value in an ongoing career- an instant return on investment. The students' career doesn't get off track for the EMBA-it becomes immediately more productive.

Areas of study include the details of managing a business organization such as financial analysis, decision making, marketing management, personnel management, micro and macroeconomics, entrepreneurship, communication, negotiation, information technology, and strategic management. Issues in international business will be studied intensively through a required mini-session at Millsaps' campus in Merida, Mexico. The educational goal of the EMBA is to provide the student with the base knowledge, executive skills, and abilities needed to assume leadership in positions in organizations that compete in a dynamic, global environment. The EMBA program strives to prepare students to recognize organizational problems and opportunities, to determine a socially responsible course of action, and to implement a strategy that both seizes internal and external opportunities.

The program requires 48 hours of graduate study. The curriculum is a lock step plan of study, with each cohort taking classes and graduating together. Graduate credit is not awarded for portfolio based experiential learning which occurs prior to matriculation in the graduate program. For more information about the EMBA program, see the graduate catalog, contact the graduate admissions office, or see the Else School of Management webpage at www.millsaps.edu/emba.

Degree Requirements

Bachelor of Arts

(RO Code BA.18)

Language proficiency at the intermediate level of an ancient (Greek, or Latin) or modern (French, Spanish, or American Sign Language) as demonstrated by completion of a 2000-level course taken at Millsaps, or the equivalent required. (The number of hours required to complete this requirement will vary from 0-12 depending on language placement.)

Students who wish to take courses or show proficiency in a language not regularly offered at Millsaps may do so at another college or university at their own expense. All language courses taken at another institution must be preapproved by the Office of Records.

For international students whose first language is not English, this requirement will ordinarily be satisfied by proficiency in English evidenced by an official minimum TOEFL score of 80 on the IBT TOEFL, 220 on the computer-based TOEFL, or 550 on the paper-based TOEFL. In lieu of the TOEFL exam, students may submit IELTS scores of band 6.5 or higher.

Students must complete:

- MATH 1220 - Analytic Geometry and Calculus I*

Students must complete four courses (ordinarily 16 credit hours) in at least three disciplines chosen from the following list. At least two courses must be laboratory or field courses. Students may select four courses from Group I or three courses from Group I and one from Group II.

Group I

- BIOL ####: (any field or lecture lab and course, except BIOL 1730 - Exploring the Natural World with Lab)
- CHEM ####: (any lecture and lab course)
- CSCI ####: (any CSCI course 1010 or higher)
- ENVS 1100: Environmental Science
- GEOL ####: (any field or lecture and lab course)
- MATH 2230: Analytic Geometry and Calculus II (or higher)
- PHYS ####: (any lecture and lab course)
- NEUR 2000 - Introduction to Neuroscience

Group II

- GOVT 4000 - Applied Research in Politics
- SOAN 2100 - Methods & Statistics
- ECON 3030 - Econometrics & Applied Statistics
- PSYC 2110 - Research Methods in Psychology

Testing out of MATH 120: Analytic Geometry and Calculus I via an ACT/SAT score for the BS is not permitted.*

Bachelor of Business Administration

(RO Code BBA.15)

To earn a BBA degree, students must major in either accounting or business administration. The BBA academic program is an integrated body of study ordinarily beginning in the spring of the freshman year. Courses are sequenced so that each course is taught with the assumption that students in a class have a common academic background. Two Math courses totaling eight semester hours and eight Compass Curriculum courses totaling 32 semester hours are required of all B.B.A. students, in addition to the courses required for the particular major. The following courses are required:

First Year:

- MATH 1150: Elementary Statistics or QMGT 1150: Introduction to Statistics With R
- MATH 1210: Business Calculus or MATH 1220: Analytic Geometry and Calculus I*

Sophomore Year:

- ECON 1000: Principles of Economics
- ACCT 2000: Principles of Financial Accounting
- ACCT 2010: Management Accounting, Budgeting, & System Controls
- MGMT 2000: Introduction to Management

Junior Year:

- MGIS 3000: Management Information Systems
- MRKT 3000: Principles of Marketing
- FINC 3000: Principles of Corporate Finance
- ADMN 3000: Legal Environment of Business

Testing out of MATH 1210: Business Calculus or MATH 1220: Analytic Geometry and Calculus I via an ACT/SAT score for the BBA is not permitted.*

Compass Curriculum Requirements

All Millsaps students complete the Compass Curriculum, which is designed to develop the general abilities of a liberally educated person. The curriculum is centered around two core facets, thinking and reasoning, which is engaged in two ways: development in three essential skill sets and explorations of academics beyond the typical “major.”

Skills:

- Communication
- Creative Problem Solving
- Collaboration

Explorations:

- Humanities
- Business Knowledge
- Fine Arts
- Mathematics
- Non-Native Language
- STEM
- Natural World
- Social World

In addition to the Compass Curriculum, students will also take Pathways in the first semester and, before graduation, complete a Major Experience, demonstrate writing proficiency, and write a reflection on the value of the Millsaps experience.

Pathways

(RO Code CMPS1.22)

Description

Introduction to Pathways is the course component of the first-year experience. Through the leadership of faculty, staff, and peer mentors, the course is organized into learning communities to provide more tailored guidance and support to students. The Pathways course integrates habits of personal and academic success with strategies for career exploration, allowing students to begin their undergraduate education by reviewing past experiences, identifying present interests, and considering future goals. The course will culminate in students choosing a Pathway which will provide them with a career-focused learning community to guide their curiosity and inform decisions around life planning. This course counts for one credit and is a graduation requirement.

Specific Method for Fulfilling the Requirement

Students must complete PATH 1001 or PATH 1051 in their first semester.

Communication

(RO Code CMPS3.21)

Description

Communication is introduced through the Connections course, whose purpose is to develop the skills of written and oral communication through the study of a specific topic situated within a single humanities discipline and in the topic’s historical context. Students will create formal and informal communication products that demonstrate critical listening, reading, and, where appropriate, aural and visual comprehension of course material.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Effectively interpret, analyze, and synthesize relevant materials through sustained inquiry in and research on an appropriately focused topic in the humanities. Students will challenge assumptions and draw defensible conclusions relevant to the topic.
- Create effective oral presentations, written texts, and, where appropriate, audiovisual texts that clearly convey understanding in accordance with the demands of rhetorical context (including audience, context, purpose, genre, evidence, documentation, mechanics of communication, and argument).
- Generate, frame, and explore an individual research question relevant to the course topic. Students will explore possible answers to the question through written, oral, and (when appropriate) other modes of communication, including a research paper on the topic.
- Demonstrate appropriate use of and documentation of the work of others while attaining proficiency in the use of one or more formal styles of source citations suited to the communication product.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Student must complete FYCS 1110 or FYCSFA 1110 Connections for 4 credits.

Creative Problem-Solving Badge

(RO Code CMPS4.22)

Description

Creative Problem Solving is introduced in a number of courses, which are offered every semester in different academic disciplines with a diverse array of topics. Each explores a problem or tightly-focused set of problems.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Use discipline-based problem-solving tools to identify, define, and analyze a problem, and develop creative strategies for solving it.
- Gather information from a variety of sources and consider multiple perspectives to identify criteria, analyze problems, and formulate potential solutions or improvement strategies.
- Reflect on the viability of proposed solutions to problems, revising strategies and conclusions as new information is gathered and analyzed.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Students must complete a course from any discipline that carries a Creative Problem-Solving badge (4 credit hours).

Collaboration Badge

(RO Code CMPS4.22)

Description

Collaboration is introduced in a number of courses, which are offered every semester in different academic disciplines with a diverse array of topics. Each develops the ability to work with peers in project-based scenarios and synthesize ideas shared in that work.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Collaborate with others to achieve a common goal related to the topic you are studying.
- Evaluate and synthesize a range of ideas to make a high-impact contribution to a project or goal.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Students must complete a course from any discipline that carries a Collaboration badge (4 credit hours).

Exploration in the Humanities

(RO Code CMPS2.21)

Description

In Exploration of the Humanities, students explore the human experience and world cultures throughout history and consider intellectual development, artistic expression, and social and cultural evolution. This requirement will develop skills for seeking, understanding, and interpreting cultural phenomena across numerous human contexts.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Explore some of the key creative works, generative ideas, pivotal events, and problems that have shaped human experience.
- Develop a historical consciousness for understanding human and cultural evolution.
- Explore global, geographic, and historical diversity through multiple fields of the arts and humanities.
- Explore connection between fields of study within the arts and humanities and encourage interdisciplinary connections outside the arts and humanities.
- Develop skills of being a thoughtful and discerning interpreter of cultures.
- Develop reading and writing skills for engaging primary sources.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Student must either:

- complete FYHH 1010 - Our Human Heritage Part 1 and FYHH 1020 - Our Human Heritage Part 2 (8 hours, 2 semesters) OR
- complete two introductory-level courses taken from two different departments in the humanities or allied fields (Archaeology, Art History, Communication Studies, English, Greek and Roman Studies, Government and Politics, History, Music History, Philosophy, and Religious Studies) that has been approved by Compass Council. At least one of these classes must be taken in the first year and the other by the end of the second year.

Explorations in Business

(RO Code CMPS6.21)

Description

In the Exploration of Business, students will engage with a fundamental aspect of business knowledge and skills to understand the logic of the marketplace and the capacities of organizations and organizational leaders to affect human life across the street and around the globe.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Develop decision-making abilities for real-world business problems
- Meet at least one of the following three objectives:
- Interpret and use financial data to make informed decisions.
- Explain factors that affect contemporary markets and describe the impact of those markets on organizations and society.
- Identify and develop key leadership skills necessary for good management in organizations and citizenship in society.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

A business course, at the 1000 or 2000-level, that has been approved by Compass Council. Such courses include ACCT 2000, ECON 1000, FINC 2000, or MGMT 2000 (4 semester hours).

Explorations in Fine Arts

(RO Code CMPS10.21)

Description

In the Exploration of Fine Arts, students will be equipped with tools that help them explore the aesthetic dimension of human life, through 4-credit hours of coursework or approved experience. This requirement will introduce students to the rich artistic realms associated with images, sounds, objects, movement, and/or language. Students will gain the ability to evaluate and critique artistic works, while actively participating within artistic communities. Students will also develop their powers of artistic expression, performance, and/or discernment.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Demonstrate knowledge of artistic practice through producing and/or analyzing work in a specific discipline (creative writing, music, theatre, or the visual arts).
- Identify and/or apply strategies that enable artistic decision-making as associated with individual artists, periods, and/or cultures.
- Evaluate the function of artistic expression by reflecting the ways art may affirm, challenge, or alter audience perspective.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

The Fine Arts requirement may be fulfilled by a 4-credit hour course or approved experiences equivalent to 4-credit hours in one area that have been approved by Compass Council. Four credit hours of any combination of approved music ensembles and/or lessons (including voice) shall meet this requirement. Approved courses will be posted on the Millsaps website.

Explorations in Mathematics

(RO Code CMPS9.21)

Description

In the Exploration of Mathematics, students will study and solve pure and applied mathematical problems from both visual and analytic perspectives, through 4-credit hours of course work or equivalent proficiency. The courses that satisfy this requirement will develop the student's ability to convert conceptual information into problems that can be solved using standard mathematical and geometrical tools, solve the problems, and interpret the results.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Accurately interpret and explain information presented mathematically and graphically.
- Quantify problems, apply abstract symbolic manipulation or reasoning, and interpret the results.
- Understand how the computational skills taught apply in contexts both within and outside mathematics.
- Explicitly describe assumptions in estimation, modeling, or data analysis, and make appropriate inferences with critical thinking.
- Develop and interpret mathematical models of raw data, or physical or social phenomena.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

- an ACT math sub score of 28 or higher
- an SAT math sub score of 630 or higher
- college mathematics transfer credit the equivalent of College Algebra or higher
- any Millsaps mathematics course approved by the Compass Council

Explorations in a Non-Native Language

(RO Code CMPS11.21)

Description

In the Exploration of Non-Native Language, students will demonstrate proficiency in a non-native language through 8-credit hours of coursework, equivalent experience, or proficiency. This requirement emphasizes language study as a vital means to understanding other cultures, literatures, historical perspectives, and human experiences. Students will become more aware of their own native language and culture, and they will enhance their communication, reasoning, and thinking skills. Courses fulfilling this requirement must maintain at least 3 contact points per week.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Attain a basic, working knowledge of a linguistic system different from their own.
- Demonstrate the ability to read, write, and communicate orally at the foundational, introductory level in the non-native language.
- Become aware of the differences between their own language and non-native language, thus learning more about their own first language.
- Understand the history of the language they study.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Students must demonstrate proficiency equivalent of two semesters of college level coursework. The non-native language requirement may be fulfilled in one of the following ways:

- Two semesters of non-native language coursework in the same language at Millsaps.
- An appropriate score on a college-administered placement exam in a language taught at Millsaps.
- Study-abroad or other formal language training at another institution, provided that the student supplies to the Office of Records supporting documentation including relevant transcript(s), syllabi, certificate, and/or diploma for transferring credits.
- AP, IB, or CLEP Exam Scores: 4 or higher on an Advanced Placement (AP) exam, a grade of 5 or higher on an IB exam, or appropriate score on CLEP exam. In some cases, these scores may grant the student credit hours towards graduation. Note: Higher scores on AP and IB exams are required for the foreign language requirement for the B.A. degree.
- Demonstrated proficiency via examination in a language not offered at Millsaps. The student must find a reputable exam administered by an independent third party. The relevant chair will determine the quality of the exam and consult with other experts if necessary.
- For international students whose first language is not English, this requirement will ordinarily be satisfied by proficiency in English evidenced by an official minimum TOEFL score of 80 on the IBT TOEFL, 220 on the computer-based TOEFL, or 550 on the paper-based TOEFL. In lieu of the TOEFL exam, students may submit IELTS scores of band 6.5 or higher. In instances where international students do not have required test scores, a plan will be developed in consultation with the ESL specialist. Coursework will be determined in consultation with the ESL specialist. Note: For academic purposes, a student is considered a native speaker of a language other than English if the student was raised in a non-English speaking country and was formally educated through all or most of high school in a language other than English.

Explorations in the STEM Experience

Description

In the Exploration of Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM), students will learn to value innovation and the acquisition of new knowledge, by focusing on assessing and applying this knowledge to new contexts, through 4-credit hours of coursework (normally introductory level course). This requirement prepares students to approach problems not previously encountered; to evaluate new situations, new phenomena, and new data; and to make sense of the world using rapidly changing information and technology.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Explore interconnections among science, technology, engineering, and/or mathematics, and see how they are practiced in applied contexts.
- Understand and accurately explain scientific problems and information presented quantitatively.
- Apply STEM content.
- Formulate research questions and draw conclusions.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

Pending approval by Compass Council, courses that may be appropriate for this domain include the following:

- An approved natural science course (with or without lab)
- An approved mathematics course
- An approved computer science course with programming language
- An approved research method or applied statistics course in the social sciences or business

Explorations in Understanding the Natural World

(RO Code CMPS7.21)

Description

In the Exploration of the Natural World, students will learn, use, and interpret scientific knowledge of the natural world through experimentation with and observation of its processes and relationships, through 4-credit hours of lab or field coursework (normally introductory level) in the natural sciences. Students will experience scientific methods through formation, testing, and refinement of hypotheses, models, and theories.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Understand how scientific inquiry is based on investigation of evidence from the natural world, and how scientific knowledge and understanding evolves based on new evidence.
- Recognize the scope and limits of scientific inquiry.
- Participate in scientific inquiry and communicate the elements of the process, by making careful and systematic observations, developing and testing a hypothesis, analyzing evidence, and interpreting results.

Specific Method for Fulfilling the Requirement

A lab or field course in the natural sciences that has been approved by the Compass Council.

Explorations in Understanding the Social World

Description

In the Exploration of the Social World, students will develop an academic and intellectual foundation for understanding and/or engaging in diverse social settings and for reflecting critically on social and cultural phenomena, through a 4-credit hour social science or behavioral science course. This requirement fosters opportunities for engaged citizens to understand a multi-faceted social world and act within it.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Use social science methodologies and theories to understand and compare social behavior, patterns, and/or systems.
- Demonstrate a working knowledge of diverse social systems and contexts.
- Critically examine and analyze issues of power and difference as they manifest themselves (explicitly and/or implicitly) in the societies of which we are a part.
- Connect academic studies with day-to-day social experiences.

Specific Methods for Fulfilling the Requirement

A social science or behavioral science course which has been approved by the Compass Council.

Major Experience

(RO Code CMPS12.21)

Description

The Major Experience is an experiential learning graduation requirement that ensures every Millsaps student directly connects with our vision of producing transformative leaders who will have positive impacts across the street and around the globe. With this requirement, students can claim an experience in transformative learning and leadership on campus or the application of their Millsaps education to an experience that extends beyond the Millsaps campus. The Major Experience requirement can be satisfied with an approved 4-hour course or approved experiential equivalent.

Student Learning Goals

Students will:

- Integrate and apply academic skills to understanding practical experiences and problems found beyond the traditional classroom.
- Develop a foundation for lifelong engaged learning as a Millsaps graduate.
- Analyze the experience critically to integrate knowledge and experience and to achieve new understandings.

Specific Method for Fulfilling the Requirement

- Every course fulfilling the Major Experience requirement must satisfy the student learning goals. The Major Experience must be completed while the student is enrolled at Millsaps and normally after the freshman year. Wellspring and exclusively freshman courses (Ventures, Our Human Heritage, and Connections) are not acceptable for Major Experience credit.
- Courses and experiences (4-hour course/combination of courses, or experiential equivalents) that will satisfy this requirement include the following:
- Study abroad: A 4-hour study abroad course offered by Millsaps College will satisfy the Major Experience requirement.
- Field-based course: An approved 4-hour domestic field-course (where at least 75% of the course takes place in the field, during which students are actively engaged in an applied learning experience) offered by Millsaps College will satisfy the Major Experience requirement.
- Community-engaged (CEL) coursework: Each CEL course will satisfy one-half of the Major Experience requirement. Approved CEL courses require at least ten (10) hours of engagement with a community partner, in collaboration with classmates, and toward completion of a project. The requirement for CEL designation is documented through a CEL application and a section in the syllabus that details the CEL component of the class.
- Undergraduate research experience: Undergraduate research experiences that total 4 hours of earned credit or the experiential equivalent (e.g., non-credit summer research experiences) will satisfy the Major Experience requirement. Research experiences must be approved by a Millsaps faculty/staff member.
- Honors project: Successful completion of an Honors project will satisfy the Major Experience requirement.
- Ford Fellowship: Successful completion of a Ford Teaching Fellowship collaboration (regardless of credit hours earned) will satisfy the Major Experience requirement.
- Internship/student teaching: Internship experiences that total 4 hours of earned credit or the experiential equivalent will satisfy the Major Experience requirement. Internships must be approved by a Millsaps faculty/staff member.

- Petition-approved experience: In some cases, the Major Experience requirement may be satisfied in non-traditional ways (i.e., not-for-credit internships, summer research experiences, self-designed projects with faculty oversight, etc.). In such cases, an approved petition is required before the experience is undertaken. To obtain a petition, contact the Director of the Major Experience in the Center for Career Education.
- Combined experience: A student may assemble any combination of approved courses or experiences that total the equivalent of 4 credit hours in order to satisfy the Major Experience requirement.

Writing Proficiency Portfolio

(RO Code CMPS 13.21)

Demonstration of writing proficiency through the Millsaps Writing Proficiency Portfolio is a graduation requirement. All traditional students and all students who transfer into Millsaps before the end of sophomore year must submit the required documents for review no later than the end of their second year at Millsaps. Transfer students entering as juniors or seniors will need to complete the requirement no later than the term prior to their anticipated graduation date.

To submit their portfolios for review by faculty committee, students must do the following: By the end of the spring semester of their second year, each student must submit the following documents to their online writing portfolio space; specific instructions will be distributed to students via email. Note: Failure to complete this requirement on time will result in registration delays in subsequent semesters and may prohibit graduation.

Required Portfolio Documents:

- A brief (2-4 pages) Writer's Statement that serves as a reflective introduction to the portfolio. Written outside the context of a specific course, this document serves as the student's analysis of their writing development at Millsaps. Subsequent items provide the evidence referenced in this statement.
- Four (4) papers from classes taken at Millsaps College, taken from at least two (2) of the three divisions at Millsaps: Arts & Humanities, Business, or the Sciences (including the Social Sciences). These papers will normally be sourced from courses taken to fulfill elements of the Compass Curriculum. Of these 4 papers, at least two (2) must demonstrate use of multiple secondary research and proper application of a clearly identified/identifiable documentation system. The total number of pages expected for this section of the portfolio is 25-30 (assuming an average page length of 250 words). Page counts slightly under or over the expected norm are accepted. However, excessive deviation may affect the assessor's ability to evaluate the work, and the student may be asked to submit more appropriate alternatives.
- One (1) "wild card" document reflecting an element of the student's communication development. This document can be written, oral (recording/video), or visual in nature; the only requirement is that it be able to be shared in digital form. While the length of the wild card item is not prescribed, we encourage students to remember that readers will be assessing a large number of portfolios.

Special note for Transfer students: The categories for essay submission may vary according to the student's academic record prior to attending Millsaps College. Students transferring in at the junior or senior level are allowed to substitute one (1) paper written for a course at a previous college or university as one of their four essays. Transfer students with questions about the portfolio should speak with the Director of Writing & Teaching to ascertain what papers to submit.

For more information, consult the Writing Program webpage or visit the Writing Program office in John Stone Hall.

Senior Writing Reflection on The Millsaps Experience

(RO Code CMPS 13.21)

A critical reflective paper on the value of the Millsaps experience must be completed during the senior year. The paper is administered through the student's senior seminar or another major course. The chairs of the academic departments are tasked with certifying that graduating seniors have completed this requirement. More information about the paper, including the prompt, may be obtained from the Writing Program or from the department chair.

For examples of previous Senior Writing Reflection essays, students may consult essays by previous winners and finalists in the Frank and Rachel Anne Laney Essay Contest, archived on the Writing Program webpage.

Academic Policies Specific to the Compass Curriculum

Double Counting in The Compass Curriculum

Students must complete all requirements of the Compass Curriculum. In the following cases, one course may be used to satisfy multiple Compass Curriculum requirements:

- Courses that carry a Creative Problem Solving and Collaboration badge can count for both badges. All badged courses may also count for any single knowledge domain for which it has been approved.
- The Connections courses that are approved to satisfy the “Fine Arts” (FYCSFA 1110) exploration may satisfy both the first year “Connections” requirement and the “Fine Arts” exploration requirement.
- Students can satisfy the “Major Experience” requirement through approved coursework used to complete their other Compass Curriculum, degree, major, minor, or concentration requirements. Usually students do not need to take an additional course to complete this requirement.
- Departments may further restrict or allow the number of Compass Curriculum courses that will count toward the program, minor, and/or concentration. FYHH 1010 and FYHH 1020 Our Human Heritage may not count toward majors, minors, and/or concentrations.

Students should confirm further eligibility of double counting with the chair of the department.

Compass Curriculum Exemptions for Transfer Students

- Transfer students must complete Transfer Pathways (PATH 1051) in their first semester at Millsaps College.
- Ordinarily, transfer students must complete Connections (FYCS 1110 or FYCSFA 1110) unless they have completed the second semester of English Composition (or equivalency) at an institution of higher learning (C or above grade) OR they have earned 30 or more hours (C or above grade) of college credit (excluding credit hours earned through placement tests or dual enrollment), and can show proficiency in written communication to the Writing Council.
- Ordinarily, transfer students must complete courses with Creative Problem Solving and Collaboration badges unless they have earned 30 or more hours (C or above grade) of college credit (excluding credit hours earned through placement tests or dual enrollment).
- A transfer student may use historically-oriented courses in the Humanities (or allied fields) to fulfill the Exploration of the Humanities requirement, provided that the student has placed out of Connections. These courses must be from different disciplines if the student intends to satisfy the entire requirement.
- A transfer student who completes a course in the natural sciences, mathematics, or social/behavioral sciences, fine arts, language, or business that presumes the skill and knowledge of a Compass Curriculum course may be exempt from that particular Compass Curriculum requirement. Contact the Office of Records for more information. Once a student has enrolled at Millsaps College, he or she will not ordinarily be permitted to use transfer credits to meet Compass requirements. Coursework that does not apply toward the Compass Curriculum but is found to be transferrable to Millsaps College may count as an elective (TRAN). Once a student has declared his or her major/minor/concentration, those electives may or may not apply to his or her specific program of study; these decisions are made in conjunction with the Office of Records and the applicable Department Chair.

Program Requirements

Accounting Major

(RO Code ACCT.17)

Policy: Students must complete all courses with a C- or better.

Students must take the following required courses:

- ACCT 3000: Intermediate Financial Accounting I (recommended as a junior during fall semester)
- ACCT 3010: Intermediate Financial Accounting II (recommended as a junior during spring semester)
- ACCT 4000: Federal Taxation of Income (recommended as a junior during spring semester)
- ACCT 4010: Auditing I (recommended as a senior during fall during semester)
- ADMN 4020: Business Law (recommended as a senior fall during semester)
- ACCT 4060: Governmental/Non-Profit Accounting (recommended as a senior during fall semester)
- ACCT 4080: Advanced Managerial Accounting (C- or better) (recommended as a senior during spring semester)

Two additional electives/internships are required, of student choice, from any Else School subject:

Accounting majors have the option of participating in an eight-hour, fulltime residency program during the spring semester of the senior year. The accounting residency program allows selected undergraduate students to work full time for a Big 4, regional, or local accounting firm in the spring of their senior year. In the fall, accounting firms interview Millsaps accounting seniors for spring residency positions. Selected students work full time, receiving full pay in positions that foster professional growth and maturity.

- ACCT/ADMN/ECON/ENTR/FINC/MRKT/MGMT/MGIS ##### (recommended as a senior during spring semester)
- ACCT/ADMN/ECON/ENTR/FINC/MRKT/MGMT/MGIS ##### (recommended as a senior during spring semester)

Students must complete the comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Other Notes

Any student majoring in Accounting may also add a concentration to their major: Entrepreneurship, Financial Services, or Global Business Studies. Please find those requirements on another page in this catalog.

A fifth year of study is optional and leads to the master of accountancy degree (MAcc), which provides the additional course work necessary to qualify to sit for the CPA exam. Please see the Graduate Catalog for more information.

Policy: Students must take the following required courses with a C- or higher.

Students must complete the following required courses:

- ACCT 2000: Principles of Financial Accounting
- ECON 3030: Econometrics & Applied Statistics
- FINC 3000: Principles of Corporate Finance
- MATH 4000: Financial Mathematics
- MATH 4510: Mathematical Statistics

Students must complete this class with 4 hours:

- HIST 3170: African-American Heritage

Students must also complete another 16 hours:

The remaining 4 courses, worth 16 hours, may be fulfilled through any courses approved by the Director that dedicate at least 25 percent of the semester's coursework to African American Studies. Courses may be taken in any sequence and vary from year to year. Some courses are pre-approved, such as those detailed below.

Others vary semester to semester; check the "course types" in Major Portal.

- SOAN 3600: African Americans and Latinos
- HIST 2120: History of Mississippi
- GOVT 2300: Politics of American South
- SOAN 2120: The Many Dimensions of Poverty
- SOAN 2140: Crime and Prisons
- Other courses, as approved by the Director

Policy: All courses require a grade of C or higher.

Students must complete one foundations course in History from the list below:

- HIST 2100: History of the United States to 1877
- HIST 2110: History of the United States Since 1877

Students must complete one course in Government and Politics from the list below:

- GOVT 1000: Introduction to American Government
- GOVT 2900: American Political Thought

Students must complete one English Literature course that focuses on American Literature; approved courses are designated in Major Portal.

- ENGL #####

Students must complete two 4-hour electives. The electives must be approved for American Studies credit. Approved courses are designated in Major Portal. A partial list can also be found below:

- ARTH 2100: Modern Art
- ARTH 2200: Contemporary Art
- COMM 2100: History of the Media
- ENGL 3150: Studies in American Literature Before 1920
- HIST 3140: Civil War & Reconstruction
- HIST 3160: History of Medicine & Health in the U.S.
- HIST 3170: African-American Heritage
- HIST 3180: Immigrations & Migrations in American History
- HIST 3210: The Great Depression
- HIST 3220: The Forties & Fifties
- HIST 3230: The Sixties
- HIST 3240: The Seventies and Eighties
- HIST 3260: Women (and Men) in America
- MUSC 2100: History of Jazz
- GOVT 1000: Introduction to American Government
- GOVT 2200: State and Local Politics
- GOVT 2220: Urban/Metro Politics
- GOVT 2300: Politics of American South
- GOVT 2500: The U. S. Congress
- GOVT 2520: The U.S. Presidency
- GOVT 2550: The U.S. Judiciary
- GOVT 3000: Campaigns and Elections
- GOVT 3250: Politics American Film & Popular Culture
- GOVT 3400: U.S. Foreign Policy
- GOVT 3500: American Public Policy
- GOVT 3650: Constitutional Law

Policy: Some classes may transfer in; however, at least two courses must be completed at Millsaps. Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count towards the program.

Students must complete the following 1000-level courses:

- SOAN 1100: Anthropology of World Cultures
- SOAN 1110: Archaeology of Ancient Civilization

Students must complete one of the following 2000-level courses:

- SOAN 2120: The Many Dimensions of Poverty
- SOAN 2130: Sociology of Intimate Relations
- SOAN 2300: Archaeology of Death

Students must complete one of the following 3000-level courses:

- SOAN 3110: Archaeology of Select Culture
- SOAN 3120: Anthropology of Select Culture
- SOAN 3130: Methods and Statistics
- SOAN 3200: Religion, Society, and Culture
- SOAN 3210: Urban Life
- SOAN 3400: Archaeology of Native Americana
- SOAN 3410: Archaeological Field School

- SOAN 2/3/4###

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must complete the following department-required courses:

- MATH 2230: Analytic Geometry and Calculus II
- MATH 2240: Analytic Geometry and Calculus III
- MATH 2310: Introduction to Advanced Mathematics
- MATH 3650: Linear Algebra

Students must complete the major requirements:

- MATH 3540: Differential Equations
- MATH 4510: Mathematical Statistics
- CSCI 1010: Computer Science I

Students must choose one of the following two options for completion of the upper-level requirement. Additional special topics courses may be permitted, as approved by the Department Chair.

Option 1 for the upper-level requirement

Take one course from:

- MATH 3530: Mathematical Modeling
- MATH 3560: Discrete Structures
- MATH 3570: Numerical Analysis
- MATH 3580: Complex Variables

Take one course from:

- MATH 4000: Financial Mathematics
- MATH 4630: Real Analysis
- MATH 4640: Graph Theory

Option 2 for the upper-level requirement

Take 2 courses from:

- MATH 4000: Financial Mathematics
- MATH 4630: Real Analysis
- MATH 4640: Graph Theory

Students must take two courses from one department (either CHEM, GEOL, PHYS, or ECON), at the 2000-level or above, that uses applications of mathematics. The following courses fulfill this requirement:

- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I
- CHEM 3420: Physical Chemistry II
- GEOL 4200: Structural Geology (w lab)
- GEOL 4300: Environmental and Engineering Geophysics
- GEOL 4350: Solid Earth Geophysics
- ECON 3010: Intermediate Microeconomic Theory
- ECON 3030: Econometrics & Applied Statistics

Students must complete 4 credits of senior seminar and the comprehensive exam in their major:

- MATH 4902: Senior Seminar
- MATH 4912: Senior Seminar
- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Some classes may transfer in; however, at least two courses must be completed at Millsaps. Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for a course to count towards the program.

Students must complete all of the following required courses:

- SOAN 1110: Archaeology of Ancient Civilization
- SOAN 2210: Archaeological Method & Theory
- SOAN 3410: Archaeological Field School

Students must complete one of the following Area Studies courses:

- SOAN 3110: Archaeology of Select Culture
- SOAN 3400: Archaeology of Native Americana
- GRCV 2020: Greek Civilization
- GRCV 2030: Roman Civilization

Students must complete one of the following Methodology courses:

- GEOL 2200: Process Geomorphology with lab
- GEOL 3100: Solid Earth Geophysics with lab
- BIOL 1010: General Botany with lab
- BIOL 1020: General Zoology with lab

Policy: Students may count four semester hours of work in either Honors or Ford Fellowship towards this major. No more than four semester hours of internship credit may be counted. Students must earn a C- or higher on all coursework.

All students must choose one intermediate studio course (or 4 hours) from the list below. The course should be taken before the Senior Art History Seminar:

- ARTS 2100: Intermediate Painting
- ARTS 2200: Intermediate Printmaking
- ARTS 2300: Intermediate Sculpture
- ARTS 2400: Intermediate Digital Arts

Six art history classes (or 24 hours) must be taken, of student choice.

- ARTH #####

Students must also take two additional studio art courses (or 8 credits), of student choice:

- ARTS #####
- ARTS #####

All students must take the following Seminars:

- ARTH 3900: Junior Art History Seminar
- ARTH 4900: Senior Art History Seminar

Students must complete a comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Five art history courses (20 credit hours) are required, of student choice.

- ARTH #####

Policy: Students may count four semester hours of work in either Honors or Ford Fellowship towards this major. No more than eight semester hours of internship credit may be counted. Students must earn a C- or higher on all coursework.

All students must choose one intermediate studio course (or 4 hours) from the list below. The course should be taken before the Senior Art History Seminar:

- ARTS 2100: Intermediate Painting
- ARTS 2200: Intermediate Printmaking
- ARTS 2300: Intermediate Sculpture
- ARTS 2400: Intermediate Digital Arts

Students must also take two additional studio art courses (or 8 credits), of student choice:

- ARTS #####
- ARTS #####

Four art history classes (or 16 hours) must be taken, of student choice.

- ARTH #####
- ARTH #####
- ARTH #####
- ARTH #####

The following Museum Studies classes must be taken:

- ARTH 2500: Museum Studies
- ARTH 3002: Museum Studies Internship I
- ARTH 3102: Museum Studies Intern Readings
- ARTH 3200: Museum Studies Internship II

Students must take one Business/Education class from the following:

- MGMT 2000: Introduction to Management
- MRKT 3000: Principles of Marketing
- EDUC 3000: Effective Pedagogy: Designing Learning
- EDUC 1090: Problems in Human Creativity

All students must take the following Seminars:

- ARTH 3900: Junior Art History Seminar
- ARTH 4900: Senior Art History Seminar

Students must complete a comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students may choose to complete a double major in Art History and Studio Art. Students may count four semester hours of work in either Honors or Ford Fellowship towards this double major. No more than four semester hours of internship credit may be counted. Students must earn a C- or higher on all coursework.

The following beginning studio art courses must be taken:

- ARTS 1000: Beginning Drawing
- ARTS 1300: Beginning Sculpture
- ARTS 1400: Beginning Graphic Design

Students must choose one from these studio art courses:

- ARTS 1100: Beginning Painting
- ARTS 1200: Beginning Printmaking

All students must choose one intermediate studio course from the list below. The course should be taken before the Senior Seminar:

- ARTS 2000: Intermediate Drawing
- ARTS 2100: Intermediate Painting
- ARTS 2200: Intermediate Printmaking
- ARTS 2300: Intermediate Sculpture
- ARTS 2400: Intermediate Digital Arts

Students must also take two additional studio art courses, of student choice:

- ARTS #####
- ARTS #####

Students must choose from one of these beginning art history courses:

- ARTH 2100: Modern Art
- ARTH 2200: Contemporary Art

Five additional art history classes (or 20 hours) must be taken, of student choice.

- ARTH #####

All students must take the following Seminars:

- ARTS 3900 - Junior Studio Art Seminar
- ARTS 4900 - Senior Studio Art Seminar

Students must complete a comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following Core courses:

- BIOL 1000: Introduction to Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 2000: Genetics
- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I
- CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I
- CHEM 3610: Biochemistry I
- CHEM 3620: Biochemistry II
- CHEM 3621: Biomolecular Research Methods III / Biomedical Analysis

Students must choose one Molecular course from the following:

- BIOL 3300: Molecular Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3530: Molecular Genetics & Genomics with Lab

Students must complete Option 1 or Option 2 for the Physics Requirement.

Option 1

- PHYS 1201: College Physics Laboratory I
- PHYS 1203: College Physics I
- PHYS 1211: College Physics Laboratory II
- PHYS 1213: College Physics II

Option 2

- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II

Students must take 2 additional elective courses (or 8 hours), of student choice, from chemistry (CHEM), biology (BIOL), physics (PHYS), or mathematics (MATH) numbered 3000 or above:

- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###
- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar and a comprehensive exam in their major.

- CHEM 4900: Literature and Chemistry
- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program. Also, at least four courses plus Critical Analyses must be taken in residence at Millsaps.

Students must take the following required courses:

- BIOL 1000: Introduction to Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 1010: General Botany w Lab
- BIOL 1020: General Zoology with Lab
- BIOL 2000: Genetics

Four BIOL courses, including at least one from the “Structure and Function” category and one from the “Organisms and Environment” category are required.

Structure and Function

- BIOL 2100: Health & Fitness
- BIOL 3100: Histology with Lab
- BIOL 3310: Ornithology with Lab
- BIOL 3370: Herpetology with Lab
- BIOL 3420: Reproductive Biology
- BIOL 3430: Developmental Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3440: Human Anatomy and Physiology I with Lab
- BIOL 3450: Human Anatomy and Physiology II with Lab
- BIOL 3460: Exercise Physiology
- BIOL 3600: Invertebrate Zoology with Lab
- BIOL 3610: Vertebrate Zoology with Lab

Organisms and Environment

- BIOL 2200: Ecology with Lab

- BIOL 3220: Biogeography of the American Southwest
- BIOL 3230: Field Arachnology
- BIOL 3310: Ornithology with Lab
- BIOL 3320: Bio Terrestrial Arthropod with Lab
- BIOL 3350: Conservation Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3370: Herpetology with Lab
- BIOL 3380: Wetland Ecology with Lab: Principles and Conservation
- BIOL 3600: Invertebrate Zoology with Lab
- BIOL 3610: Vertebrate Zoology with Lab
- BIOL 3620: Evolutionary Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3650: Biostatistics & Experimental Design

Cellular and Molecular

- BIOL 3300: Molecular Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3510: Immunology
- BIOL 3520: Microbiology with Lab
- BIOL 2300: Nutrition
- BIOL 3530: Molecular Genetics & Genomics with lab

Students must complete Critical Analysis I and Critical Analysis II:

- BIOL 4902: Adv Critical Analysis Biol I
- BIOL 4912: Advanced Critical Analysis in Biology II

Students must complete the comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program. Also, at least three of the five courses must be taken in residence at Millsaps.

Students must complete these three required courses:

- BIOL 1000: Introduction to Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 1010: General Botany with Lab
- BIOL 1020: General Zoology with Lab

Students must complete two additional upper-level (2000 or above) BIOL courses for 4-credit hours each:

- BIOL 2/3/4###
- BIOL 2/3/4###

Students pursuing a major in Business Administration must complete 12 semester hours, at 3000 level or higher (typically three courses of student choice), of Else School electives.

- ACCT/ADMN/ECON/ENTR/FINC/MGIS/MGMT/MRKT/QMGT #####
- ACCT/ADMN/ECON/ENTR/FINC/MGIS/MGMT/MRKT/QMGT #####
- ACCT/ADMN/ECON/ENTR/FINC/MGIS/MGMT/MRKT/QMGT #####

In addition, students must complete the senior seminar as well as the comprehensive exam in their major during their senior year:

- MGMT 4900: Business Strategy
- Comprehensive Exam

Note: Any student majoring in Business Administration may also add a concentration to their major: Entrepreneurship, Financial Services, or Global Business Studies. Please find those requirements on another page in this catalog.

Students must take these three courses:

- ACCT 2000: Principles of Financial Accounting
- ECON 1000: Principles of Economics
- MGMT 2000: Introduction to Management

Students must take two of the following courses:

- FINC 3000: Principles of Corporate Finance
- MGIS 3000: Management Information Systems
- MRKT 3000: Principles of Marketing

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following Chemistry Core courses:

- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I
- CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 2311: Applications of Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3120: Organic Spectral Analysis
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I

Students must take one of these courses:

- CHEM 3320: Instrumental Analysis
- CHEM 3730: Environmental Chemistry

Students must complete Option 1 or Option 2 for Physics Courses

Option 1

- PHYS 1201: College Physics Laboratory I
- PHYS 1203: College Physics I
- PHYS 1211: College Physics Laboratory II
- PHYS 1213: College Physics II

Option 2

- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II

Students must take eight additional elective credits, of student choice, from chemistry (CHEM), biology (BIOL), physics (PHYS), or mathematics (MATH) numbered 3000 or above:

- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###
- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar and a comprehensive exam.

- CHEM 4900: Literature and Chemistry
- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following Chemistry core courses:

- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I
- CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II

Students must take an additional 4-credit hour course in CHEM at the 2000 level or above.

- CHEM 2/3/4###

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following General Chemistry courses:

- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II

Students must take the following foundation courses:

- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I
- CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 2311: Applications of Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3210: Advanced Inorganic Chemistry
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I
- CHEM 3610: Biochemistry I

Students must complete Analytic Geometry and Calculus II:

- MATH 2230: Analytic Geometry and Calculus II

Students must complete Option 1 or Option 2 for Physics Courses:

Option 1

- PHYS 1201: College Physics Laboratory I
- PHYS 1203: College Physics I
- PHYS 1211: College Physics Laboratory II
- PHYS 1213: College Physics II

Option 2

- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II

Students must complete the following Biochemistry Track In-Depth courses:

- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 3621: Biomolecular Research Methods III / Biomedical Analysis
- CHEM 3620: Biochemistry II

Students must choose one Molecular course from the following:

- BIOL 3300: Molecular Cell Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3530: Molecular Genetics & Genomics with lab

Students must choose one course from the following:

- CHEM 3320: Instrumental Analysis
- CHEM 3730: Environmental Chemistry

Students must take 4 additional credits, of student choice, from chemistry (CHEM), biology (BIOL), physics (PHYS), or mathematics (MATH) numbered 3000 or above:

- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar.

- CHEM 4900: Literature and Chemistry

Students must complete the comprehensive exam in the major.

- Comprehensive Exam

Chemistry Major, ACS General Track

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following General Chemistry courses:

- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II

Students must take the following foundation courses:

- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I
- CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 2311: Applications of Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3210: Advanced Inorganic Chemistry
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I
- CHEM 3610: Biochemistry I

Students must complete Analytic Geometry and Calculus II:

- MATH 2230: Analytic Geometry and Calculus II

Students must complete Option 1 or Option 2 for Physics Courses:

Option 1

- PHYS 1201: College Physics Laboratory I

RO Code CHEM.ACS.GT.15

- PHYS 1203: College Physics I
- PHYS 1211: College Physics Laboratory II
- PHYS 1213: College Physics II

Option 2

- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II

Students must complete the following General Track In-Depth courses:

- CHEM 2120 - Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121 - Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 3120 - Organic Spectral Analysis
- CHEM 3420 - Physical Chemistry II

Students must choose one course from the following:

- CHEM 3320: Instrumental Analysis
- CHEM 3730: Environmental Chemistry

Students must take 8 additional credits, of student choice, from chemistry (CHEM), biology (BIOL), physics (PHYS), or mathematics (MATH) numbered 3000 or above:

- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar.

- CHEM 4900: Literature and Chemistry

Students must complete the comprehensive exam in the major.

- Comprehensive Exam

Chemistry Major, ACS Organic Track

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must complete the following Organic Track In-Depth courses:

- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II
- CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 3110: Advanced Organic Chemistry

Students must choose one course from the following:

- CHEM 3320: Instrumental Analysis
- CHEM 3730: Environmental Chemistry

Students must take 8 additional credits, of student choice, from chemistry (CHEM), biology (BIOL), physics (PHYS), or mathematics (MATH) numbered 3000 or above:

- CHEM/BIOL/PHYS/MATH 3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar.

- CHEM 4900: Literature and Chemistry

Students must complete the comprehensive exam in the major.

- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following required courses:

- RLST 2000: Religions of the World & How Study Them
- RLST 2220: Intro to the New Testament Then and Now
- RLST 3110: Christian Thought
- RLST 3120: Christian Theology Today

Students must choose two more courses from the partial list below. The elective courses are of student choice but must be approved by the Religious Studies Department Chair.

- RLST 1010: Introduction to Classical Hebrew I
- RLST 1020: Introduction to Classical Hebrew II
- RLST 2020: Classical Hebrew Readings
- GREE 3040: New Testament and Literary Context, Intro
- GREE 4040: New Testament and Literary Context, Advanced

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must complete the following courses:

- ENGL 1000: Interpretation
- COMM 2000: Intro to Communication Studies
- COMM 2100: History of the Media
- ENGL 3000: Literary and Cultural Theory

Students must complete three courses in Media Production. See choices below.

One of the courses must be from the following list:

- CRWT 3200 - Reading and Writing Creative Nonfiction
- ENGL 3450 - Writing for New Media

The other two courses may be selected from the list of courses above or from the following courses. Other occasionally offered courses may count in the media production sequence. See department chair for approval.

- ARTS 1400: Beginning Graphic Design
- COMM 2200: Public Speaking
- COMM 2430: Journalism
- COMM 3300: Media Production
- COMM 2850: Internship
- COMM 3850: Internship
- MRKT 3000: Principles of Marketing

Students must also take two electives. One of these courses must have a COMM designation at the 3000-level or above. The other one can be a department-approved interdisciplinary course at the 2000-level or above.

- COMM 3/4###
- XXXX 2/3/4###

Students must complete the senior seminar and a comprehensive exam in their major.

- COMM 4900: Senior Seminar
- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must complete the following required courses:

- COMM 2000: Intro to Communication Studies
- COMM 2100: History of the Media

Students must complete one course in media production, chosen from the following list:

- COMM 2200: Public Speaking
- COMM 2430: Journalism
- COMM 3300: Media Production
- COMM 2850: Internship
- COMM 3850: Internship
- CRWT 3200: Reading and Writing Creative Nonfiction
- ENGL 3450: Writing for New Media
- ARTS 1400: Beginning Graphic Design
- MRKT 3000: Principles of Marketing

Students must take two additional elective courses. Choose from the options below.

Option 1

- COMM 2/3/4###
- COMM 2/3/4###

Option 2

- ENGL 1000: Interpretation
- COMM 2/3/4###

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following required courses:

- ENGL 1000: Interpretation
- CRWT 2400: Introduction to Creative Writing
- ENGL 2010: British & American Literary History I
- ENGL 2020: British & American Literary History II
- ENGL 3000: Literary and Cultural Theory

Students must take three of the following courses:

- CRWT 3000: Reading and Writing Fiction
- CRWT 3100: Reading and Writing Poetry
- CRWT 3200: Reading and Writing Creative Nonfiction
- ENGL 2/3/4### - Student choice, but must be 2000 level or above

Students must take one additional English literature course, of student choice:

- ENGL ##### (C- or higher)

Students must complete the senior seminar:

- CRWT 4900 - Senior Workshop in Creating Writing

Students must complete a comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following two required courses:

- ENGL 1000: Interpretation
- CRWT 4900: Senior Workshop in Creating Writing

Students must take one fiction or writing course from the following:

- CRWT 3000: Reading and Writing Fiction
- CRWT 3100: Reading and Writing Poetry

In addition, students must take one course from the following list (not already completed from an above requirement):

- CRWT 3000 - Reading and Writing Fiction
- CRWT 3100 - Reading and Writing Poetry
- ENGL 3450 - Writing for New Media

Policy: The undergraduate certificate in data analytics requires four courses. Two of the four courses are offered for graduate credit only; however, undergraduate students can take the two graduate courses for graduate credit as part of the Early Start program in the last semester of their senior year. Alternatively, undergraduate students may return as non-degree seeking graduate students after graduating with their undergrad to take the last two graduate courses for the certificate.

Graduate courses:

- QMGT 675: Computational Statistics with R
- QMGT 679: Analytics

Undergraduate courses:

- QMGT 4000: Collecting and Analyzing Data Using R

Policy: This concentration is available to students majoring in Accounting, Business Administration, or Economics.

Students must complete the following courses for the concentration:

- ENTR 3010: Innovation
- ENTR 3020: Entrepreneurial Finance
- *ENTR 4010: Entrepreneurship
- *ENTR 4020: Entrepreneurial Investments

*An Entrepreneurial Internship could serve as a substitute for these courses. If a student did two internships, the internships could substitute for both. The substitution must be filed in the Office of Records.

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take one of the following introductory courses:

- ENVS 1100: Environmental Science
- GEOL 1000: The Physical Earth (with lab)
- GEOL 1300: Human & Natural Disasters (with lab)

Students must take one of the following Biology courses:

- BIOL 1010: General Botany (with lab)
- BIOL 1020: General Zoology (with lab)

Students must take GEOL-2100:

- GEOL 2100: Hydrology and Chemistry of Natural Waters with Laboratory

Students must take a two lab-course sequence in either Chemistry or Physics:

Option 1: General Inorganic Chemistry Sequence

- CHEM 1213: General Inorganic Chemistry I
- CHEM 1211: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 1223: General Inorganic Chemistry II
- CHEM 1221: General Inorganic Chemistry Lab II

Option 2: General Physics Sequence

- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab

Students must complete at least one field courses from the following list from the following list, or as approved by the Department of Geosciences Chair:

- GEOL 3510: Yellowstone Field Study

- GEOL 3520: Earthquakes & Volcanoes of the Pacific North West
- GEOL 3530: Folded Rocks-Crossing the Appalachia
- BIOL 3210: Ecology of the Galapagos Islands
- BIOL 3320: Bio Terrestrial Arthropod w lab
- BIOL 3230: Field Arachnology

Students must complete 28 hours from the following courses:

- BIOL 2200: Ecology with Lab
- BIOL 3320: Bio Terrestrial Arthropod w lab
- BIOL 3350: Conservation Biology with Lab
- BIOL 3370: Herpetology with Lab
- BIOL 3380: Wetland Ecology with Lab: Principles and Conservation
- CHEM 2110: Organic Chemistry I and CHEM 2111: Organic Chemistry Lab I
- CHEM 2120: Organic Chemistry II and CHEM 2121: Organic Chemistry Lab II
- CHEM 2310: Quantitative Analysis
- CHEM 3410: Physical Chemistry I
- CHEM 3730: Environmental Chemistry
- CSCI 1010: Computer Science I
- CSCI 1020: Computer Science II
- ENVS 2000: Applied Sustainable Design
- GEOL 3300: Applied Geophysics (w lab)
- MATH 1150: Elementary Statistics
- MATH 3530: Mathematical Modeling
- MATH 3540: Differential Equations
- MATH 3650: Linear Algebra
- MATH 4510: Mathematical Statistics

Students must take the following mathematics course:

- MATH 1220: Analytic Geometry and Calculus I

Students must complete a Senior Research project:

- Senior Research Project

Students must complete a comprehensive exam in their major:

- Comprehensive Exam

Students must complete one introductory course:

- EURS 1000: The Idea of Europe
- HIST 2350: History of Modern Europe - Enlightenment to the Fall of Soviet Communism

Students must satisfy the language component:

- Students are required to study one European language; thus, in addition to satisfying the B.A. requirement in that language, the European studies major must complete at least 12 semester hours beyond the B.A. requirement in that language. For those students focusing on an English-speaking country in Europe, only the B.A. language requirement must be met. Students focusing on English-speaking countries must take 12 hours in English related topics. The language requirement can be met at Millsaps or through study abroad. These courses do not count as electives; rather, they meet the language component requirement of the European Studies major.

Students must study abroad:

- Students are required to study abroad for a minimum of four semester hours.

Students must complete the senior seminar colloquium and comprehensive exams

- EURS 4900: European Studies Colloquium
- Comprehensive Exam

Students must satisfy the multidisciplinary component (20 semester hours). Students will take 20 semester hours (32 in the case of students focusing on an English-speaking country), beyond those described above, from a list of elective courses below. No more than 12 semester hours may be in the same department. No more than four semester hours may be from the Compass Curriculum. European Studies majors may include one appropriate Compass course among the five electives required for the major. They should consult the director of the program to determine which Compass courses are appropriate. No more than eight semester hours of language courses, beyond those that are required for the European Studies major, may be counted as elective courses toward the major. Students must take courses from at least two of the College's academic divisions. Special Topics courses in the academic departments listed on the following page may also count as electives toward the European Studies major, when approved by the Director of the European Studies program. Courses to choose from are listed in the Course Type filter on Major Portal as "European Studies."

Students must complete one introductory course:

- EURS 1000: The Idea of Europe
- HIST 2350: History of Modern Europe - Enlightenment to the Fall of Soviet Communism

Students must satisfy the language component:

- Students are required to study one European language; thus, in addition to satisfying the B.A. requirement in that language, the European studies major must complete at least 12 semester hours beyond the B.A. requirement in that language. For those students focusing on an English-speaking country in Europe, only the B.A. language requirement must be met. Students focusing on English-speaking countries must take 12 hours in English related topics. The language requirement can be met at Millsaps or through study abroad. These courses do not count as electives; rather, they meet the language component requirement of the European Studies minor.

Students must satisfy the multidisciplinary component:

- Students will take 2 elective courses for a total of 8 semester hours from courses approved for the European Studies minor. The two elective courses may not be in the same department, and no courses used to satisfy a Compass Curriculum requirement can be used. Special Topics courses may also count as electives toward the European Studies minor, if appropriate and approved by the Director of the European Studies program. Courses approved for the European Studies minor are listed below.

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must complete the following required courses:

- COMM 2000: Intro to Communication Studies

- COMM 3300: Media Production
- COMM 2850: Internship
- COMM 3850: Internship

Students must complete Senior Seminar and create a research paper on a film-related topic, subject to approval by the Film Studies Director:

- COMM 4900: Senior Seminar

Policy: This concentration is available to students majoring in Accounting, Business Administration, or Economics.

Students must complete the following courses for the concentration:

- *ACCT 3000: Intermediate Financial Accounting I
- *ECON 3020: Money and Financial Systems
- FINC 3900: Seminar in Portfolio Management
- FINC 4000: Advanced Finance

*In the event that ECON 3020 or ACCT 3000 is unavailable or when students suffer an unavoidable scheduling conflict with either of these two courses, other courses may serve as substitutes. These courses include FINC 4002, FINC 4012, ACCT 3010, and certain Economics or Financial Markets courses. No substitutes are allowed for FINC 3900 or FINC 4000. Substitutions to the curriculum are made only with the permission of the Director of Program.

Policy: Courses beyond the 2000-level must be taken at Millsaps (or in a language program abroad led by a faculty member from the Department of Modern Languages); an exception may be made for just one course above 2000 (other than the required literature course), if it was taken abroad in a language program approved by the Chair of Modern Languages, as stated in the International Study section. In order to become more proficient in a foreign language, significant time must be spent speaking it. It is strongly encouraged that all minors have a language immersion experience.

Students must take the following required courses:

- FREN 2000: Intermediate French
- FREN 2110: Contemporary French Culture

Students must take one literature course from below:

- FREN 3200: Survey of French Literature Up to the Revolution
- FREN 3210: Survey of French Literature After the Revolution

Students must take any two additional courses from list below not already taken as a different requirement:

- FREN 3200: Survey of French Literature Up to the Revolution
- FREN 3210: Survey of French Literature After the Revolution
- FREN 3220: French Civilization Up to the Revolution
- FREN 3230: French Civilization After the Revolution

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

- GEOL 3000: Sedimentary Geology (with lab)
- GEOL 4000: Mineralogy & Petrology (with lab)
- GEOL 4200: Structural Geology (with lab)

Complete three of the following courses:

- GEOL 2100: Hydrology and Chemistry of Natural Waters (with lab)
- GEOL 2200: Process Geomorphology (with lab)
- GEOL 3100: Solid Earth Geophysics (with lab)
- GEOL 3200: Subsurface Map/Res Eval (with lab)
- GEOL 3300: Applied Geophysics (with lab)

Complete one of the following Field Geology I courses:

- GEOL 3510: Yellowstone Field Study
- GEOL 3520: Earthquakes & Volcanoes Pacific North West
- GEOL 3530: Folded Rocks & Crossing the Appalachia

Complete Field Geology II:

- GEOL 4500: Field Geology II

Complete the comprehensive exam and senior research project:

- Comprehensive exam
- Research project

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take one introductory (1000-level) Geology course, of student choice:

- GEOL 1###

Students must take the following required course:

- GEOL 2000: Plate Tectonics & Earth History (with lab)

Students must take one additional 2000-level Geology course, of student choice:

- GEOL 2###

Students must take two 3000-level Geology courses, of student choice:

- GEOL 3###
- GEOL 3###

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Students must take the following Geoscience courses:

- GEOL 2000: Plate Tectonics & Earth History (with lab)
- GEOL 3000: Sedimentary Geology (with lab)
- GEOL 3100: Solid Earth Geophysics (with lab)
- GEOL 3300: Applied Geophysics (with lab)
- GEOL 3800: Directed Study
- GEOL 4000: Mineralogy & Petrology with lab
- GEOL 4200: Structural Geology (with lab)

Students must take the following seminars:

- GEOL 3901: Junior Geology Seminar I
- GEOL 3911: Junior Geology Seminar II
- GEOL 4921: Senior Geology Seminar I
- GEOL 4931: Senior Geology Seminar II

Students must complete one of the following Geoscience field courses:

- GEOL 3510: Yellowstone Field Study 4 Semester Hours
- GEOL 3520: Earthquakes & Volcanoes Pacific North West
- GEOL 3530: Folded Rocks-Crossing the Appalachia
- GEOL 4500: Field Geology II

Students must take the following physics courses:

- PHYS 2003: General Physics I
- PHYS 2001: General Physics Lab I
- PHYS 2013: General Physics II
- PHYS 2011: General Physics II Lab

Students must take the following mathematics courses:

- MATH 1220: Analytic Geometry and Calculus I
- MATH 2230: Analytic Geometry and Calculus II
- MATH 2240: Analytic Geometry and Calculus III
- MATH 2310: Introduction to Advanced Mathematics
- MATH 3/4###: student choice, must be 3000-level or above

About: The interdisciplinary minor in Vocation, Ethics, and Society (VESO) is intended to help students explore their social, cultural, and ethical worlds as they contemplate their own lives, ideals, and the meanings they will attribute to their work post-graduation. VESO minors come from all of Millsaps' divisions: business, natural sciences, social sciences, and the humanities. Meeting together in the gateway course (Work, Ethics, and Society) and internship discussions, the VESO community is one that seeks to bridge disciplinary boundaries so that diverse students may learn from one another and challenge each other to consider new perspectives. Students minoring in Vocation, Ethics, and Society may also apply for funding, available on a competitive basis, to go to a location or attend an event beyond Millsaps' gates that will contribute to their course of study; this is optional. Students must make an argument and provide details indicating the ways that the Exploration Trip will contribute to their formation as persons and professionals. Contact the director for details.

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program. The minor requires 20 credits.

Students must complete the following required course, worth 4 credit hours:

- VESO 2000: Work, Ethics, & Society

Students must take two internships. Each 3-credit hour internship (VESO 3853 and VESO 4853) is undertaken concurrently with a 1-credit hour discussion course (VESO 3851 and VESO 4851). Internship discussion courses must be taken concurrently with internships unless an internship is completed during the summer months. In these cases, pre-approval must be sought from the director of the minor and the student must enroll in the discussion course in the semester just before or after the summer in which their internship is completed.

- VESO 3853: Internship
- VESO 3851: Internship Discussion
- VESO 4853: Internship
- VESO 4851: Internship Discussion

Students must take one 4-credit hour approved course with a multidisciplinary breadth. Courses to choose from are listed in the Course Type filter on Major Portal as "Voc, Ethics, & Soc Minor."

- XXXX####

Students must complete a community engaged learning (CEL) component. Choose from two options.

CEL Option 1

- Take one approved Community Engaged Learning course with multidisciplinary breadth for 4 semester hours. Courses to choose from are listed in the Course Type filter on Major Portal as "Community Engaged Learn."

CEL Option 2

- Complete membership in the Wellspring Program for 2 semester hours
- Take VESO 1011: Intro Community Engagement I for 1 semester hour
- VESO 1021: Intro Community Engagement II for 1 semester hour

Finally, students must complete a portfolio. The Portfolio shows the development of students' thought during their time completing the minor and requires them to gather documents to carry with them as credentials and resources for future work activities. Contact the director for details.

Policy: Students must earn a grade of C- or higher in order for the course to count toward the program.

Numbering System

Undergraduate courses are four numeric digits long.

- The first digit indicates the class level with 1 primarily for first year students, 2 for sophomores, 3 for juniors, and 4 for seniors.
- The department determines the second digit.
- The department determines the third digit. Oftentimes, the third digit refers to classes taken over two semesters:
 - 0 = one-semester class
 - 1 = first semester of a two-semester class
 - 2 = second semester of a two-semester class
- The fourth digit indicates whether the course is a 1-, 2-, 3-, or a 4-credit hour course. A course number ending in:

- 1 = 1 credit hour
- 2 = 2 credit hours
- 3 = 3 credit hours
- 0 = 4 credit hours

The following governs undergraduate courses:

- Freedom Summer Collegiate courses: The first digit is always a 1 and the fourth digit is always a 5. Ex: 1##5
- Research courses are: 1700, 1701, 1702, 1703, 2700, 2701, 2702, 2703, 3700, 3701, 3702, 3703, 4700, 4701, 4702, 4703
- Special Topics courses are: 1750, 1751, 1752, 1753, 2750, 2751, 2752, 2753, 3750, 3751, 3752, 3753, 4750, 4751, 4752, 4753
- Directed/Independent Studies courses are: 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 2800, 2801, 2802, 2803, 3800, 3801, 3802, 3803, 4800, 4801, 4802, 4803
- Internship courses are: 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, 2850, 2851, 2852, 2853, 3850, 3851, 3852, 3853, 4850, 4851, 4852, 4853
- Honors courses are the subject code followed by: HI or HII

The following governs graduate courses:

- Graduate courses are three numeric digits long, and 500-700 codes are used.
- 500-600 classes are for the MBA and MACC programs.
- 700 classes are for the EMBA program.
